Anderson's 'Political' Hat Is Hung Here

Amidst the rush of spring planning for summer programs at the Elk Grove Park District administration building sits 26-year-old Harold Anderson, quietly taking everything in.

When he came to the district as an intern in February he had a $1,000 grant from the state and "little knowledge about park districts," he said. When he leaves in June he'll have three hours of credit for college work, enough information for at least two term papers, and will have left something behind for the park district also.

Anderson, of St. Charles, is a political science major at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, and is doing his semester's field work here to get "first-hand experience about the operations of government."

He said "as a political science major people wonder why I'm working with a park district but it's organized just like a government."

He spends Tuesday and Thursday each week with the district, working with park director Jack Claes and other personnel, learning how the district functions. In turn he provides assistance when needed and has taken on teaching the staff a new method of management planning.

IT IS CALLED the "critical path method" and according to Anderson "puts operations on paper and computes resources and time requirements."

Anderson said it may solve problems before they occur and shows how much time you have to do a certain job. The method will be put in use in planning the Paddock Olympics, July 27-28, sponsored by Paddock Publications. The sports event involving 1,500 boys, is being organized this year by the Elk Grove Park District.

Charts and diagrams line the walls of the board room in the district office to testify to Anderson's work.

His salary is paid by the Office of Community Services, an agency under the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs.

The grant is offered to expose students to career opportunities and challenges in local government. The Elk Grove Park District was the first to receive approval of the grant late last year. Anderson was the only one at Northern to receive the grant this year.

His observations on the park district: "I didn't realize before that it does so much. I didn't realize the scope of its operations."

Anderson accompanied park board members and staff on coffees held before the recreation building and park improvements bond issue referendums were held. He said he was surprised when they were defeated, saying, "The people I met sounded like public relations people for Jack Claes."

ANDERSON COMMENTED that after watching the park district in operation he felt differently about special taxing districts than he had after studying them.

"Everything that I'm taught in school leads me to believe that academicians don't like special districts."

Anderson said he sees now that a special district has advantages and is able to concentrate more in one area.

THE ELK GROVE Park District is of college intern, Harold Anderson learning how to find the "critical path" in management, with the aid of Northern Illinois University.

Revenue, Housing Issues Face Village Government

A News Analysis

Two controversial issues will face the municipal government in Elk Grove Village in 1971.

They include revenue and housing. There are others, but these appear to be the most important.

How the board will deal with the issues will affect the village's residents for years to come.

Where and how much the village board will obtain in revenue is a current problem that will be the first to face the board.

The need for additional revenues could result in a tax increase for the municipal body. And, any increase would be looked upon with disdain by residents, especially at a time when the country's economy is down.

Trustee Charles Zettek several weeks ago, in a report on the preliminary budget, pointed out that expenditures will exceed revenues by $1 million in the new budget.

Preliminary budgets always are high, but nevertheless Zettek warned other board members that the financial outlook was the worst he's seen in his 10 years on the board.

IF THERE is to be any long-range increase in taxes it was indicated that a referendum may be held in order to avert a curtailment in services.

Referendums, however, are not popular, as was pointed out in the recent defeat of the park district's proposal for added park improvements and an all-seasons building.

Elk Grove Village voters also will be faced with a referendum May 15 to build a high school in High School Dist. 214 in Buffalo Grove. There is a good possibility that a tax increase referendum will be held in June in Dist. 59 if curtailments are to be averted there.

Complicating the need for additional revenue for the municipality is the expected loss next year of $112,000 to village coffers because of the abolishment of the personal property taxes on corporations and individuals. Also, there is talk in the state legislature of abolishing the sales tax on food and medicine.

This only goes to say that other means of taxation will have to be found by the legislature if local municipalities are to avoid seeking tax increases.

HOUSING, WHICH falls into the larger category of planning and zoning, is probably a more controversial issue than a tax increase when it includes low and moderate-income housing.

It is an issue which most of the candidates in the village election last month agreed they had to face.

The board will face the issue sometime in the next few months when the Elk Grove Village Housing Commission completes its work including a survey of the community's working force.

Housing Commission chairman Neil Cooney has predicted that whatever it is the commission recommends, there will be hundreds of residents who will demand to be heard on the topic.

The announcement of plans earlier this year to build public housing in the suburbs, by either Chicago or Cook County, has served to heighten interest on the subject.

Along with talk of low and moderate income housing is the question of how the remainder of the village will be developed.

THERE ARE 1,100 acres west of Ill. Rte. 53 in the village, in addition to fringes of unincorporated vacant lands over which the village has little control.

Will there be more apartments, office buildings, high rises, and industry?

Will there be continued orderly development?

Where will additional funds come from?

Will there be low and moderate-income housing?

These are the questions that may be answered in the next few years by the 6-member village board, five of whom were sworn into office one week ago, and the village president.

Local Teen Center On The Ropes?

(The Elk Grove Park District Teen Center has not been drawing the crowd as originally expected, but instead is drawing criticism from residents. The park board and staff is reevaluating the teen center and has asked residents to tell them about it at a public meeting May 13. The following is the second in a series on the center.)

by JUDY MEHL

The teen center was an empty shell in early 1970, waiting for teens to provide the furnishings that would make it their home along with the enthusiasm to operate it.

Although the enthusiasm had ebbed slightly because construction of the teen center was delayed so long, enough remained to prompt 800 teens to join the center for a $1 fee in February.

Before the doors had opened, money from car washes, candy sales and other teen sponsored events helped furnish the center with chairs, tables, a desk, file, vending machines, juke box and two ping pong tables. When the building was planned it was decided that furnishing it would be the teens' responsibility.

The teen council had established basic policy and began enforcing its own regulations.

Daily "drop-in" attendance after school was 50 to 100 students with 30 to 70 in the evenings. Having the center open daily was a decision made by the teens before February.

HOWEVER, A letter from officials at Elk Grove High School in September, 1967, had recommended that the teen center not be open on school nights. The letter indicated that no support would be given if the hours were set up on school nights, according to a report made to the park board by Sandra Little, superintendent of recreation, and the teen center staff.

Some organizers of the teen center had left the summer before after their graduation from high school. Before leaving for Bradley University in 1969 Barb Green, first president of the council, said, "I never thought I'd be working all year for a teen center I wouldn't be able to use." There were other hard workers like her who graduated, leaving new faces to take over the building when it was finally finished.

An election was held when the center opened and teen council officers were named. Several of the original teen center's key organizers were defeated in these elections and within a month they and their friends stopped participating.

Activities in the fall of 1970 included dances, speakers, discussion groups and some sports. Although 300 to 400 members attended the dances, the dances only brought in enough money to break even, not adding to the teen center fund as anticipated, according to Mrs. Little's report.

THE REPORT ADDED, "The first real disappointment for the teen council and center director occurred in May when teens talked to high school general assemblies and eighth grade homerooms in the junior high schools for their support, ideas, and participation for the summer program. The council was met with apathy and became very frustrated."

An Action Now program prompted by Elk Grove Village Community Service brought adults and youngsters together and ideas for activities flowed, but only some were followed through, such as a teen newspaper which eventually died.

Also in May, the adult advisory board, which had worked diligently prior to the finishing of the facility, according to Mrs. Little, changed to a teen center booster club, which would not be active in the center but would raise money and perform public relation functions with the adult community. The club only held two meetings following the reorganization.

WITH THE INACTIVITY of the adult advisory board the first of ten reasons why teen centers fail appeared," Mrs. Little's report said.

She said the second disappointment for the teen council was the poor reception to the program. Council members also found that maintaining discipline in the building among their peers was a "grueling and thankless" job. The teen council disintegrated at this point for all practical purposes.

The report continues, "The two seasonal staff members attempted to pick up the program but found it extremely difficult because of a lack of teen interest and in their positions were constantly having their authority challenged."

By July, teen center director, Richard Ludovissy was "basically burned out and disappointed." He had worked at the center for 10 months, 70 hours a week, the report said. He was transferred to the position of program supervisor on the recreation staff and a new director, William Hughes, was hired, along with a full-time assistant.

AT THIS POINT the daily attendance was down but still steady, and an identifiable group became the primary users of the facility on a daily basis.

A membership drive was held in September netting 200 persons at $2 each, providing the money needed to complete furnishing and landscaping of the building and lot.

In November an effort was made by the staff to establish the council. It met with homeroom groups and wrote letters to 200 club advisors at the high school.

"The teen center members met the idea of a teen council with complete lack of interest," according to Mrs. Little's report.

The high school stated that it no longer needed to support the teen center publicity-wise because the center should "make it on its own," the report said. None of the club advisors attended the special meeting they had been invited to, it added.

Last fall donations were promised from residents and groups, some of which helped pay for hardware (required by the fire department), landscaping, kitchen facilities, fencing, sod, repainting of floors, and a pool table. Some of the donations did not materialize as planned, however, and the center currently has about $1,000 in outstanding bills which it cannot pay.

BEGINNING IN September the center was being used during school hours for preschool, arts and crafts for women, preschool ballet, TOPS, and senior citizens. These programs operated when teens were not using the center.

From January through April several dances were held for junior high groups. About 200 students attended each time. Several dances were also held for high school students.

This month, the daily attendance declined with warm weather, although it increased some the latter part of the month.

The part-time assistant who had replaced the full-time assistant resigned, leaving the director working six days a week, 10 to 12 hours a day.

(The next article will dwell on the teen center's future.)

Fraud Office To Be Open Tuesdays

The Elk Grove Village Consumer Fraud Office will be open, beginning today, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. each Tuesday in addition to its regular hours from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

The office, located in the village hall at 901 Wellington Ave., is staffed locally in conjunction with the Illinois attorney general's consumer fraud and protection division.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against de facto neighborhood segregation. . . . the court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns. Randolph W. Thrower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brush Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers of UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary Weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

The State

Illinois will need $60 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

The Weather

While a mass of cold air was reported to be moving into the Deep South, southerly winds were reported to be sending warm air north into the plains states and the Rockies.

Temperatures from around the nation:
High Low
Atlanta . . . . . 74 42
Houston . . . . . 86 63
Los Angeles . . . . . 68 53
Miami Beach . . . . . 89 65
Minneapolis . . . . . 59 32
New York . . . . . 60 50
Phoenix . . . . . 95 59
Seattle . . . . . 71 51

The War

Profit taking, which has been gaining momentum in recent weeks, lowered the boom on the stock market. But turnover slowed considerably from last week's daily average of more than 20-million shares. The Dow Jones industrial average finished off at 934 at 932.41. Prices declined in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Push For Support Of Referendum

by JUDY NAJOLIA

Bumper stickers and babysitters for election day are only two of several campaign procedures being used in High School Dist. 214 to get voters to the polls May 15 for the $10.5 million bond referendum for an eighth high school.

Though all voters in Dist. 214 will be voting on the same proposition, the citizens' committee pushing for passage of the referendum are using different campaign tactics in each of the present high school attendance areas.

As members of the central coordinating group discussed the referendum Saturday morning, it became evident parents of students at Wheeling and Hersey High Schools the two schools which will provide students for the new school in Buffalo Grove if it is built, will have to support the referendum to get it passed.

As in the referendum for Rolling Meadows High School two years ago, local support for a school building referendum is necessary to overcome general apathy in other parts of the district, Supt. Edward Gilbert told the group.

"We're just gonna smother them with information so they will come out and vote," said Rex Lewis, a Buffalo Grove resident working for the referendum. Lewis said his committee is hoping to turn out all the voters they can. "We'd like to see everybody out to vote that day."

To help voters get to the polls, the committee plans to have transportation and babysitters available while the polls are open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday, May 15.

Sound trucks, bumper stickers and posters reminding voters to vote that day will circulate through Buffalo Grove and Wheeling before election day, a sign pointing out the site will be put up near the intersection of Arlington Heights and Dundee Roads.

In other areas of the district citizen and parents committees are also working to inform voters of the referendum.

"Focus on 214," the district's quarterly newsletter mailed to every residence, will explain the need for an eighth high school within the next two or three years.

"We've run into some apathy in Rolling Meadows but I hope people there will come out to support the northern end of the district. They all helped us when the Rolling Meadows High School referendum was passed," said Tom Waldron, a Rolling Meadows resident working on the referendum.

In the southern part of the district, which will be least affected by construction of another high school, citizens are holding coffee and meeting with civic groups to inform voters of the referendum.

'He Saved Lives, Didn't Take Them'

by PATRICK JOYCE

At 17, Michael Blanchfield left Wheeling High School to enlist in the Army. He had dreamed of being a paratrooper.

A year and a half later, Michael left Vietnam telling his family he planned to "win a lot of medals."

Ten days ago, President Nixon handed Michael's mother, Mrs. Jeannette Blanchfield, the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military decoration. The award came nearly two years after Michael's death at the age of 19.

On July 3, 1969, while on patrol in Binh Dinh province, Michael threw himself on an enemy grenade. He was killed. His action saved the lives of four other soldiers and several Vietnamese civilians.

ALTHOUGH THE AWARD has brought back painful memories of her son's death, Mrs. Blanchfield talked about her son in an interview in her home in Wheeling.

She remembers Mike as a friendly, outgoing boy who "didn't have an enemy in the world."

"He'd walk up to an old lady and compliment her on her hat, say how good she looked. He was that kind of boy."

Mrs. Blanchfield said her son had "a high IQ but you couldn't tell when he was in high school. It only showed up when he went into the army."

Mike loved being a paratrooper. He felt great pride in his outfit and when he left home for the last time, his mother remembers him talking about winning medals, even the Medal of Honor.

"I told him to win just one medal — the good conduct medal," Mrs. Blanchfield recalls.

She also remembers the night his plane was to leave for Vietnam and the two long distance phone calls from him that night. "He was scared then," Mrs. Blanchfield said.

"He had to run to catch his plane."

THINGS WENT BADLY for Mike from the beginning of his duty in Vietnam. He caught malaria; then he was bitten by a poisonous snake. In between, he saw enough combat to win the Bronze Star.

In his letters, Mike did not talk about the morality or wisdom of the war. But his mother said, "He believed in our being in Vietnam and he really liked the people in Vietnam."

His brother, Jim, also corresponded with Mike. "He wasn't what you would call patriotic but he had a lot of pride in his unit," Jim said. "He felt like he belonged to it. He felt good because he thought he was part of something good."

"Most of the time," Mrs. Blanchfield said, "he talked about his buddies getting killed and about digging in and going on patrol. But he felt confident about himself."

IT WAS WHILE ON patrol, just a few weeks after he was released from a hospital, that Mike earned his Medal of Honor.

While searching a village for Vietcong suspects, he saw a man run from a hut. Mike shouted at the man to stop, and when he didn't, the young soldier opened fire. The man threw a grenade. The explosion wounded Mike.

Then a second grenade was thrown, and according to the Medal of Honor citation, Mike "threw himself on the grenade, absorbing the full and fatal impact of the explosion and saving the lives of soldiers and civilians standing nearby."

Until Mrs. Blanchfield went to Washington to receive the award she had known only that Mike was killed by a grenade. Then she heard President Nixon praise her son for "extraordinary courage and gallantry" and heard, for the first time, the story of her son's death.

WHEN SHE MET THE President, Mrs. Blanchfield was amazed that "once he spoke to you, you felt right at ease, you lost your nervousness."

Mrs. Blanchfield talks at length about the kindness that was shown her and her four surviving children during their visit to Washington — kindness shown by the President, Congressmen, and the military escorts who took the family on tours of the city and the White House.

Still, the experience was "both good and bad," she said. "I think they kept you so busy doing things so that you wouldn't really have time to think about it."

THE MEDAL OF HONOR awarded to Michael Blanchfield of Wheeling was recently received by his mother Jeannette from President Nixon in a White House ceremony. Her son was killed in 1969 when he threw himself on a grenade and saved the lives of several soldiers and civilians.

Activities Abound At Schools

A variety of activities for parents and students have been scheduled at schools in Elk Grove Village today through Saturday.

The events begin today with showing of old movies at Elk Grove High School from 8:40 a.m. to 3:40 p.m. There is no admission charge and the movies are open to the public.

Daniel P. Cook School will be having a project fair beginning at 7 p.m., while Ridge School's project fair will be held beginning at 7:30 p.m. Cook School is located at 711 Chelmsford Lane and Ridge is at 850 Ridge Ave.

A Grant Wood School exhibit night scheduled for this evening was postponed until May 25.

Thursday Ira L. Rupley School is holding a project fair beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the school, 305 E. Oakton. Elk Grove High School students will also be holding a record and book exchange in the humanity center all day Thursday.

THE DIST. 58 Music Festival will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Elk Grove High School Gymnasium at Arlington Heights Rd. and Elk Grove Boulevard.

Saturday the high school has a Student Council sponsored fun fair scheduled from 7 to 11 p.m. in the gymnasium for $1.25 and a New Port (West) All-Acoustical Folk Music Festival in the courtyard from 4 to 8 p.m. for 50 cents. It is sponsored by the Folk Arts Society.

A fun fair, "The Age of Aquarius," is also scheduled at Grant Wood School, 225 E. Elk Grove Blvd. from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Luckner Is Honored By 200

Some 200 persons attended a reception Sunday honoring Florence Luckner for her 30 years of service as the Republican in Elk Grove Township.

Among the guests were former Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church and Congressman Philip Crane. Also attending the party at the Navarone Restaurant in Elk Grove Township were Mount Prospect Village Pres. Robert Teichert and his wife, and Des Plaines Mayor Herbert Behrel and his wife.

Mrs. Luckner, of Mount Prospect, has served as committeewoman for three committees, Sherman Cnty., William Busse, and Carl R. Hansen. She has been a member of the Elk Grove Township Republican Organization since she moved to the area in 1929.

At the reception Crane thanked her for her service, saying, "Because of dedicated people like Florence, the Republican party has become the great party that it is."

Mrs. Luckner received a stereo console, a pen and pencil desk set with gold leaf elephant and inscribed plaque and a bouquet of roses.

Education Survey Is Set By School Board

Expectations of parents for their children's education will be surveyed in Elk Grove Township Elementary School Dist. 58 this month by members of the School Community Council.

Parents of 100 children in the district will be interviewed by council members to gather information on community goals for the school district.

The team of 20 interviewers will ask parents opinions on what they would like in the education program and how the present program could be improved.

The sampling includes parents of five children per school in each community in the district, Elk Grove Village, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines.

Commission To Meet

The Elk Grove Village Housing Commission has scheduled a meeting today at 8 p.m. in the village hall conference room to work on the housing survey it is planning. The meeting is open to the public.

SEVERAL HUNDRED trees, donated by the Forest Preserve District, were planted in the local preserve Saturday by Boy Scouts from Elk Grove Village. Here, Scott Mielke of Troop 95, plants one of the seedlings.

Rep. Crane To Host Television Program

Dolph Droge, special consultant to the National Security Council on Vietnamese affairs, will appear today on the "Conservative Viewpoint" television program. The program will be aired at 10 p.m. on WSNS-TV, channel 44.

Droge will be the guest of U.S. Rep. Philip M. Crane (R-Ill.).

Droge will play his own folk songs as he reviews 2,000 years of Vietnamese history, describing the rise of Ho Chi Minh, former president of North Vietnam, and President Nixon's Vietnam policies.

Droge will also appear on the May 11 "Conservative Viewpoint" program.

Droge went to Indochina in 1955 as correspondent for NBC News. He then worked with the U.S. Information Agency and in 1966 was named training chairman in Vietnam for the Agency for International Development. He has been a consultant to both Presidents Johnson and Nixon.

Next On The Agenda

ST. JULIAN EYMARD WOMEN
Father Anthony Beckert, priest-psychologist, will give a talk on handwriting analysis Friday evening for the Catholic Women's Club of St. Julian Eymard parish. The 8 p.m. program takes place in Thomas Lively Junior High School, 999 Leicester, Elk Grove Village.

The women's club has invited the husbands and children to this program if they are interested. Mrs. Raymond Lane, 439-4233, has further details.

PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS
Mrs. Tammy Meade of the Volunteer Service Bureau in Palatine will speak Friday evening to members of Parents without Partners. The group will be meeting at 8:30 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Arlington Heights.

The Bureau compiles information regarding local persons who have volunteered their services in any capacity and registered welfare agencies, schools, hospitals, churches and civic organizations may contact the Bureau when in need of a volunteer. Mrs. Meade will outline the operation of the Bureau and explain how PWP can benefit from such an organization.

ARLINGTON NEWCOMERS
A slate of new officers for next year will be announced and nominations will be taken from the floor at the next luncheon for the Arlington Heights Newcomers Club.

Luncheon will be held at the Indian Lake Country Club in Bloomingdale, cocktails served at noon with lunch at 1

Wednesday, May 12. Reservations are due this Friday. Mrs. Charles Wellnitz, 259-9020, and Mrs. Paul Nowak, 394-1294, are taking reservations.

Any new member requiring directions or transportation may call Mrs. William DeWitt, 255-0940, hospitality chairman. Newcomers in the Arlington Heights area living here for 18 months or less are invited to join the group and its activities. Those interested may call Mrs. Alfred Lindsey, membership chairman, 392-4974.

TRI SIGMA ASSOCIATION
Officers of Chicago Suburban Northwest Tri Sigma Association will be installed next Monday at an 8 p.m. meeting in the Arlington Heights home of Mrs. William Pfeifer, 811 S. Cleveland St. Installed as president will be Mrs. James Register, 1115 S. Home, Park Ridge. Vice president will be Mrs. William Pfeifer, Arlington Heights; and Mrs. George McCabe, Park Ridge, and Mrs. James Threadgill, Mount Prospect, will be installed as secretaries. Treasurer will be Mrs. Arthur Ruffino of Wilmette.

Chairmanships will be taken over by Mrs. John Mattoon; Mrs. Stanley Larson; Mrs. Richard Koopman; Mrs. Karl Kubon; Mrs. Harry Siebold, Jr.; Mrs. E. Glenn Pace; Mrs. William Bown; Mrs. Robert W. Reitz; and Mrs. Robert Spiewack.

All alumnae are welcome and those wishing further information may call Mrs. Pfeifer at 392-5907.

Show House Is No Row House

You won't find another house like it. A gold Buddha in the dining room, a fur bedspread in the master bedroom, Tunisian bird cage in the powder room, a rug made of Brazilian steer hides and an oriental spread quilted by a Tennessee Mountain woman in the guest chamber are decorative highlights of the fourth annual Decorator's Show House which opened Monday.

Show House '71 is an old English Tudor home decorated by prominent area decorators and proceeds of the home tour benefit the Park Ridge School for Girls. It is located at 197 Oxford in Kenilworth and besides the decorated rooms the tour includes two art galleries, a "Bloomin' Boutique" and a garage sale with free coffee and cookies thrown in. Mrs. Richard McGorrian of Schaumburg is one of the contributing artists at the boutique; she has painted several miniature oils.

The garage sale offers miscellaneous furnishings and furniture from the studios of noted designers.

THE HOME ITSELF has been decorated for a mythical and well-traveled diplomat in a mixture of styles from contemporary to traditional to antiques. The entranceway, stairway and upper hall have been transformed into an art gallery and all mediums from small graphics to large oils are for sale.

A new twist to Decorator's Show House is "Meet the Decorators' Nights" Friday evenings when the public is invited to discuss decorating ideas with the Show House designers.

A number of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Schaumburg women are on the senior and junior boards of the Park Ridge School, and the school is a philanthropy of federated women's clubs.

Show House '71 is open to the public daily now through May 23 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Friday evenings from 7 to 9:30. Tickets are available at the door.

Las Vegas Party

Mount Prospect Welcome Wagon Newcomers is planning a Las Vegas Night for Friday, May 21 and all in the community are invited. To be held at the Tioga VFW Hall in Bensenville, the party will include dancing, sandwiches, snacks and surprises.

Tickets, at $5 per couple, are available from Mrs. Fred Breitz, 394-9964 or Mrs. Frank Kern, 394-1133.

PONCHOS ARE "IN" and Mrs. Kenneth Barclay and her daughters Heather, 7, Melissa, 3, and Eileen, 6, will be modeling these creations during Friday's mother-daughter banquet, "Following in Mother's Footsteps," a showing of garments and needlecraft created at home by women of Christ Church United Presbyterian, Hanover Park. Fashions will also be shown from the ABC Kiddie Shop. Tickets may be purchased at the church.

Club Luncheon - Heyday Of Fashion

by MARIANNE SCOTT

Whether you plan to wear them or not, hot pants are likely to be included in that fashionable ensemble you choose for late spring and summer.

Dress shops are full of these ensembles, and members and friends of Arlington Heights Woman's Club really got an eyeful of this new fashion at their annual spring luncheon last week. No, they weren't worn by the guests, but they were a popular runway fashion. The little pants peeked from unbuttoned midis, zip-ons, wrap-arounds and slits and were even glimpsed under sheer evening fashions.

In the audience, dresses in a myriad of spring colors were the choice of most of the guests. Mrs. Laddie Poduska, president of the club, fairly glowed in raspberry pink and a Chanda designer hat of pink petals. Mrs. Ralph Lidge, past president of the club, went mod in a psychedelic print jersey midi with boots and Mrs. Frank Currier, first vice president, looked very chic in a blue midi coat dress with matching cape, all lined in blue and white polka dots.

POPULAR BOTH on and off the runway were the pant ensembles with tunic tops or vests. Mrs. Gordon Beckley, IFWC treasurer, wore a stunning pant outfit in white leather with matching hat, and Mrs. Robert Fletcher, president of Arlington Heights Juniors, was in a red and blue plaid gaucho with blue boots. Back on the runway, conversation fashions included a highnecked gingham gown — with no back — and another with no midriff. A beautiful Chinese brocade A-line dress had a matching water repellent coat, and a peasant pant suit in buttercup yellow featured a set-in waist of embroidery. Kicky knickers were another head-turner.

The show, with fashions from Marge's Apparel Shop in Arlington Heights, was held at Brookwood Country Club in Addison. Models were Mrs. William C. Aylward, Mrs. Jack Flaherty, Mrs. Gordon Gullicksen, Mrs. Sylvan Hallet Jr., Mrs. Frederick Leydig, Mrs. Ralph Lidge, Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. Justin Nelson, Mrs. John Peters and Mrs. Donald Schmidt.

Luncheon chairman was Mrs. J. Deverter, who was assisted by Mrs. C. M. Michalski.

HIGHLIGHTS of the afternoon included the honoring of 25-year members: Mrs. Ralph Clabaugh, Mrs. Arthur Franzen, Mrs. Don Schueren and Mrs. Arthur Swanson, the former Gudrun Weigen, who came from Peoria for the luncheon. Mrs. C. Ewert, who was president of the club 25 years ago, presented the four women with membership pins.

On behalf of the Arlington Heights Memorial Library Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, trustee of the library, accepted a check for $500, and Mrs. Stephen Jurco, in accepting a $275 check for the Arlington Heights Historical Society, stated that the check brings the Woman's Club's donations to the society to $14,000.

Besides the fashion show, "Fashion Fun in Seventy One," entertainment for the afternoon included solos by Priscilla Grubbs.

The Home Line

by Dorothy Ritz

Dear Dorothy: Being Georgia-born and bred, I would like to comment on Southern fried chicken. It is almost impossible to enjoy this dish in the manner that it was made famous. Then, people butchered and prepared their own chicken, salting and peppering it, dipping it into self-rising flour and frying it golden brown, uncovered, in an iron skillet half-filled with lard — and then eaten while hot.

Since fresh chicken is a thing of the past and the use of lard somewhat in disuse, I would like to give you my recipe which comes close to the original dish. The chicken pieces are salted and peppered to taste, then dipped into a bag of self-rising flour. Self-rising flour gives a lighter, crisp crust. If self-rising flour is not available, add 1 teaspoon baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt to 1 cup plain flour. Fry in an iron skillet or stainless-steel pan, half-filled with vegetable oil, uncovered if chicken is 2 1/2 pounds or less.

For larger chickens, cover for first five minutes of cooking. No other cooking oil will give the chicken the same flavor as vegetable oil. Fry to golden brown, turning only once. —Mrs. William Key.

Thank you ever so much, Mrs. Key, for a simple explanation of something that has been mystifying so many of us.

Dear Dorothy: When I have a stubborn grease spot on washable material, I rub it with household ammonia in which I've dissolved a tablespoon of salt. After laundering, the stain is always gone. —Alma M.

(Mrs. Ritz welcomes questions and hints. If a personal reply is required, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write to her in care of Suburban Living, Paddock Publications, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.)

COUNTRYSIDE YMCA DISTAFFS already have their eyes on a folding machine they hope to donate to the "Y" in Palatine from proceeds of their spring benefit. It will be a dessert and card party Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. at Arlington Elks Club. Co-chairman Mrs. William Stephens, left, can be called at 358-2423, for tickets. Mrs. Orville Williams, right, is Distaffs ways and means chairman.

New Attitudes Calm Campuses

One year after four students were slain by National Guardsmen on the Kent State University campus, the calm on the nation's college campuses is deafening.

Violent dissent has vanished from almost all college campuses in this country. Since the tumult on many college campuses following the Kent shootings, there have been only a handful of protests, peaceful or otherwise.

However the silence does not mean that students have changed their attitudes on such issues as the Indo-China War. Those attitudes today are not loudly expressed on campus; if anywhere, they are expressed in massive demonstrations in Washington, D.C., rather than on campuses.

Causes of the calm may include student weariness with politics confrontation and the more mundane concern about future employment in today's wretched economy. A more significant cause, however, may be a new willingness by colleges and universities to take their students seriously.

Harper College in Palatine is one institution which has shown the new seriousness. Last spring the college suffered a minor uprising when students and administrators hotly debated how long the campus American flag should be lowered to honor the Kent dead. There was no violence.

Since then, and not completely because of the flag incident, college officials have moved to bridge a college-student gap. First, a student provost was hired to help students cut administrative red tape and thus ease frustrations.

Second, a committee composed of board members, students, teachers and administrators has just completed work on a proposal to update the college's conduct code. In another way conditions which could lead to disorder have been eased.

Third, college officials have opened their offices to inquiring students. They have also allowed a few to serve on committees guiding the college's development.

There are certain natural conditions which will tend to prevent future disorders at Harper. The majority of students work part-time in the community, and a commuter college means many students have parental supervision away from campus. Nevertheless, Harper's efforts to resolve potential conflicts are welcome.

However, students and non-Harper adults — indeed, students and adults across the nation — have added responsibilities one year after Kent State, to encourage understanding and dialogue across the gap that separates college from community.

First, students must learn to take their ideas about social change to the public, and work to convince the public that their ideas are correct. Not enough students have learned the frustrations and joys of working to elect candidates they support to public office. Too often they wrongly view the public as an inflexible mass of intolerance.

Second, non-college adults must stop viewing students in stereotyped, good-or-evil terms. Adults must learn that students, under bizarre dress and unconventional opinions, are intelligent — and often as intolerant and prejudiced as their parents.

When we speak of Kent State, we are speaking of our own children, whether they be students or National Guardsmen. One year after the blood flowed in that pastoral Ohio town, the lesson of Kent State must be learned once again.

Month Of The Two-Wheeler

May 1 marks the 15th annual observance of American Bike Month, sponsored by the Bicycle Institute of America.

The theme this year is "Safe bike, safe driver," though the observance should also have great appeal to ecologists, antipollutionists, health buffs and others.

The institute reports that a survey of bicycle accidents found:

— No difference in safety between one type of bike than another.

— Mechanical failure is not a significant factor in accidents.

— Most accidents are the result of falls, occurring when youngsters are just "fooling around."

Statistically, a typical 10-year-old cyclist rides his bike about 300 miles a year. He will probably ride it two years before having an accident producing even a minor injury, and 24 years before he has an accident serious enough to require medical attention.

Great Suburban Cookout Dropouts

by DOROTHY MEYER

With the coming of spring, it is ever more evident that Wally and I ought to move. We are such bad suburbanites. Not only are we lousy gardeners who think that dandelions and crab grass are okay, we don't like to cook outdoors!

Wally feels no social pressure whatsoever, but sometimes I succumb. The whole world seems to be barbecuing and I say, "Gee, honey, it smells so good outside with all that smoky-steaky-hickory aroma all over the place, let's try it once more." Then Wally says I ought to get my nose fixed because all he smells is lighter fluid and burnt meat. He's right. Especially when it's us cooking.

Any time we do decide to cook outside "just once more," we have three things going against us — Wally, the weather and me. Most of the scent of starter fluid in suburbia originates with us because Wally can't get the charcoal going. I tell him to buy a better grade of charcoal and he says, "Dammit, you got a perfectly good gas stove in the house, why do you insist on burning meat the hard way, get me another can of starter stuff."

If and when the charcoal gets hot enough to melt butter, there's always the weather to foul us up. Six out of last year's seven attempts to cook outside were rain-plagued and the seventh blew over during a tornado watch. It's reminiscient of another era and another neighborhood when neighbors called my diapers the "storm warnings." The sky could be cloudless when I started hanging out the Curties and before I fastened the last clothespin there'd be a down-pour.

Women used to stagger their coffee-breaks at my house just to keep me from getting the diapers hung until their own clothes were dry.

Now I'm noticing a similar conspiracy regarding cookouts. I suspect that the word passes from house to house and backyard to backyard: Keep Wally and Dorothy away from their grill 'til we're done eating. I used to think we were very popular because so many people seemed to want us in their backyards from noon until dark every Saturday and Sunday. Then my kids started scrounging meals to keep from going hungry, and I noticed that everybody seemed well-fed but us.

I tested my suspicions one chilly, windy, rain-in-the-air Sunday after church. I stood in the middle of our backyard and yelled to Wally, "Hey, honey, I think I'll cook INSIDE today, okay?" and Wally bellowed back, "Good, I'd like to eat INSIDE again."

The wind immediately shifted to the south, blew away the rain clouds and subsided to a gentle breeze. We thought we heard thunder in the distance, but it was only the rumbling of grills being rolled out of every garage and breeze-way within a three-block radius. We ate INSIDE, nobody invited us anywhere and all the neighbors barbecued at the same time.

When we are lucky enough to get the charcoal going the same day we start it and a clear blue sky doesn't suddenly turn black, there's still my ignorance to surmount. I don't know how to cook on charcoal. Other people throw on a steak, time it according to a specific number of martinis and their meat is done to perfection. I throw on a steak (missing the grill completely two tosses out of three), warm up a cup of coffee and when I turn around my meat's on fire. A former volunteer fireman tells me to have a spray-bottle of water on hand to lightly spray out the flames, a connoisseur of broiling says to slowly rotate the grill to keep the flames from concentrating on the same place on the steak, and Wally says, "Dammit, you got a perfectly good gas stove etc. etc. etc."

It'll be easier to move than to join the Great Suburban Cookout.

Dorothy Meyer

Cooperation Key To Youth Goals

Your editorial on "Meeting Youth Needs Locally" is to be commended, especially the plea for more community support (interest, support, involvement). Great strides have been made but youth need many more alternatives in order that delinquency may be more effectively prevented.

Perhaps a giant step towards preventing delinquency would be for the many agencies, schools and organizations to cooperate and collaborate in their efforts in what appears to be a common goal — the betterment of youth.

Preserve 'Reminder'

Lake Defiance provides a place in sharp contrast to an age when computers measure time in fractions of micro-seconds, meeting commuter specials is a daily task, and when being "late" is a reason for censure.

Preserving this unique, local area would provide a reminder that minutes and seconds make up a very small part of 12,000 years, and also that we have the power to change what has been perpetuated by nature.

Moral Indignation

The wrestling incident at Arlington High School has apparently been resolved.

We are grateful to Paul Logan and Paddock Publications for the effort you made in bringing this incident into appropriate perspective. The moral indignation so effectively expressed by all of you was most helpful in getting this situation turned around. This is just another instance of the vital community role your organization plays in the Northwest suburban area.

Forest Preserve Use

Our family had a bad experience last summer with young "hippies" in the forest preserves. Our picnic day was spoiled, and our children were unable to play freely because of the rowdiness, dope, and open sex displayed by the youth group. We despair of being able to use the preserves this summer — unless the county and public heed your editorial (April 29) urging that the welfare and interests of the general public be protected.

Federal Budget Dilemma

U.S. Health Costs Continue Spiral

by BRUCE BLOSSAT

Just a few years ago the federal government pushed its budget past $100 billion, and many Americans gasped. There is a very strong prospect that by 1975 it will be spending at least $103 billion a year for the country's aged, ill and infirm.

This estimate is based upon the assumption — a very real one at this moment — that Congress in the next year or so will adopt some kind of sweeping national health insurance program.

The present guesses are that in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1973, such a program would cost the federal government around $57 billion. If its effective beginning date were delayed, the first-year cost probably would be higher.

As for retirement, survivorship and disability payments, Social Security authorities estimate that by calendar year 1975 the government will be paying out benefits at a rate of $45.7 billion a year.

A couple of years ago, the then presidential aide Daniel Moynihan cautioned that large amounts of "free money" would not soon be on hand for loudly trumpeted "must projects" like rebuilding the cities. Not even a sizable Vietnam peace dividend would provide the resources, he said.

His reasons: The rising costs of helping the aged, including the health costs under Medicare, would soak up so much of any extra money produced either by lessened defense effort or a bigger economy.

Moynihan's forecast was viewed skeptically. Some aroused critics labeled it and similar predictions as alibis for inaction on the boiling urban front.

The fact is, Moynihan's judgments were conservative. He was not including the inevitably huge costs of a health insurance program widened to embrace all Americans, not simply the elderly.

Furthermore, he could have underscored his point dramatically by taking his projections a little farther into the future. The House Ways and Means Committee figures that by the year 2000, basic Social Security benefit payments will be around $75-$80 billion a year. That guess, too, could prove conservative.

Because spiraling health costs have been so difficult to control, the experts feel less secure about forecasting what the federal government's total financial burden in this field will be in the decades beyond 1975. But if $57 billion is roughly accurate for fiscal 1974, then $90 billion a year by 2000 would be a fair guess.

Putting such an estimate together with the one for Social Security benefits, we get a projection of possibly $170 billion to be spent by the federal government in the year 2000 for health and Social Security alone.

That is more than twice what we are currently spending for defense.

If anyone imagines these estimates are in any way "scare figures," let him consult the authorities and their charts. He'll find the figures realistic.

The People Weren't Fooled

I agree whole heartedly with Paddock's editorial about a one party system. But who is kidding who or better yet, doesn't the right hand know what the left hand is doing in the newspaper?

Paddock endorsed a candidate for alderman in the fourth ward of Rolling Meadows in the recent campaign who is a patronage worker for the Republican party. This alderman's two campaign managers are both patronage workers for the Republican party and Republican precinct captains also worked for him. The precinct captains are appointed by the Palatine Township Republican organization. The alderman also had a former Palatine Township supervisor of the Republican party working for him.

I agree we should not get ourselves in a position where one party rules. I also agree that machine politics, which the City of Rolling Meadows has fought for 12 years, should stay out of the suburbs. And yet the local editors of Paddock Publications endorsed a candidate who is machine controlled by the Republican party. I am wondering if the Editor of Paddock Publications is fully aware of which candidates his local editors are endorsing while he is writing such intelligent and sensible editorials.

Paddock Publications has not fooled the people of Rolling Meadows, which they showed by electing eight of nine candidates of the Citizen's Action Party (CAP), the party Paddock attacked in its editorial "CAP Isn't All That Great."

The "mini machine" has beaten the big political machine of Paddock Publications. I personally want to thank the voters of Rolling Meadows for showing their faith in the present city fathers. They were not misled by the personal insult of some Paddock editors when the CAP candidates wouldn't go to Paddock's office for individual interviews. But, Paddock conveniently left out of their editorial, that they were invited by the CAP party to interview all of the candidates at their convenience at Rolling Meadows City Hall, which Paddock declined.

Paddock's reaction was that of a small child going into the corner to suck his thumb when someone shut the door on it. Perhaps the editors have learned their lesson and will not try to use their newspaper to get rid of such a childish hurt. If they haven't, I hope they continue to sit in the corner where they belong.

Nicholas Schmitt, Jr.

Business Today

by DEAN C. MILLER

UPI Business Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Industrialization has caught up with tiny Tangier Island in Chesapeake Bay, one of our last frontiers, after 306 years of proud, peaceful, almost isolated existence as a fishing community.

"We're building a seafood processing plant," said William Crockett, mayor and school teacher of the island in a telephone interview. "It looks good, real good."

To understand the excitement generated by a small plant which will employ 50 to 60 persons, mostly women, one must know the history of the six mile by three mile island. It is Elizabethan in character and in the dialect of its natives whose homes front on narrow streets and have graveyards in the front yard.

In 1606, a Mr. West sailed over to the island located in the bay between Northern Neck and the Eastern Shore of Virginia. West liked what he saw, bought the island for two overcoats and started raising cattle.

Twenty years later he sold most of it to a John Crockett. "About one third of the 850 people on our island are named Crockett," said the mayor who will be secretary-treasurer of the Tangier Island Seafood Co. His brother, Ray, will be president.

For 300 years the islanders — honest and God-fearing in the tradition of their ancestors — have gone to the sea for a living. They hunt soft and hard shell crabs in the late spring and summer, oysters and clams in the winter and fish the year around.

"It's a feast or famine life sometimes," said the mayor. "In bad times a family might make as little as $2,800 a year; in good times, as high as $10,000, all depending on the man. He has to make himself work, you know."

There was another problem. For all those years the islanders had to transport their catches to Crisfield, Md. for processing. But no longer, thanks to a $70,808 loan from the Small Business Administration.

The mayor also hopes it will help hold some of the children who have been drifting away, especially those who attend colleges. "There's been a cultural drain," said the mayor. "This will help those who would stay here and work the waters."

UAL Head Tells First Quarter Loss

Speaking to a standing-room-only crowd at last week's annual meeting of UAL, Inc., president Edward E. Carlson reported a substantial net loss for the first quarter of this year. The meeting was held at corporate headquarters in Elk Grove Township.

He attributed the consolidated net loss of $33,206,000 or $1.83 per common share, to a general softness of the economy and rising costs. These figures compare with a net loss of $14,942,000, or 84 cents a share, for the same period last year.

The corporation's subsidiary, United Air Lines accounted for the loss. Western International Hotels, UAL's other subsidiary earned $125,000 in the first quarter.

The airline's operating revenues for the first quarter totaled $328,770,000 a decrease of 3.2 per cent from the 1969 total of $339,737,000. Operating expenses increased 3.7 per cent to $373,717,000.

Carlson announced a new offering of 2.5 million shares of common stock to the public, to raise money for the airline's equipment financing needs. Carlson noted that this move would broaden the company's stockholder base.

He cited the reduction of certain flights and the request by all carriers for selective fare increases as cost reduction measures. In addition, the company is restructuring its management team, with a reduction of 20 per cent in the number of officers. As of May 1, the company has three major marketing regions, consolidated from the previous nine regions. Carlson noted the efforts of employees to increase company business.

Entertainment was provided at the annual meeting as Evelyn Davis, sporting a red hot pants outfit, questioned Carlson on a number of company operations and the board of directors slate (which was later approved). The audience applauded several times during the lively question-and-answer session.

United applied April 19 to the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) for permission to extend its flights to three cities in communist China. This takes the form of an amendment to the airline's application before the CAB to extend its flights from Seattle to Tokyo. It is subject to the approval of the White House and the other countries involved.

Olin Reports Profit

Olin Corp. recently reported net profit of $6,151,000 for the first quarter this year, equal to 26 cents a share, compared with $9,971,000 or 43 cents a share for the same quarter last year.

Sales and operating revenues were $261,019,000 in the latest quarter, compared with $278,822,000 last year.

"Business continued slow through the first two months then improved substantially," said Gordon Grand, president and chief executive officer. "March produced the first significant upturn in Olin's business since the fall of 1969. Areas of strength included chemicals, housing, building materials from forest products, the brass part of our non-ferrous metals operations, and outdoor recreation products. Although the economy has finally turned upward, the recovery is still selective. It has not yet reached such Olin businesses as aluminum and paper."

Olin Corp. has a facility in Palatine.

Ask The IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I waited until April 15 before I filed my return. How long will it take for me to get my refund?

A — If there are no mistakes on a return to delay processing, it normally takes four to six weeks after a return is filed. It might take a little longer to get your refund, however, due to the large volume of returns filed in April.

Q — My farm workers would like me to withhold income tax from their wages this year. Can I do this?

A — Federal income tax may be withheld from a farm worker's wages if the worker requests it and if the employer agrees.

Note that withholding on farm workers is not mandatory. The election to withhold is optional for both employer and employee. Form W-4 should be used by the employee to request withholding.

Q — What interest do you charge on taxes that are not paid when due?

A — Interest at the rate of 6 per cent is assessed from the date the tax is due until it is paid. In addition, a penalty of one-half of one per cent is imposed for each month, or part of month, beyond the due date that the tax remains unpaid, up to a maximum of 25 per cent.

If the extension of time for filing has been granted, the late penalty will not be applied for the period of the extension. However, interest still will be charged from the date the tax is due.

Suicide Drop Is Reported

The number of suicides in Cook County during the month of March dropped substantially while there was a slight increase in murders, according to statistics compiled by Coroner Andrew J. Toman.

Toman reported that there were 30 suicides during March, compared to 42 for March, 1970. Murders increased, from 42 in March, 1970, to 44 for March, 1971.

Of the 30 suicides in March, 21 occurred in Chicago and 9 in suburban Cook County.

Forty-two of the murders were committed in Chicago, with only two in the suburbs.

Industrial accidents increased in March, a total of 11 compared to eight for March, 1970, Toman reported.

General accidents, including auto-pedestrian deaths, drug overdoses, home accidents, etc., increased from 129 in March, 1970, to 141 this past March.

Total coroner cases numbered 293, compared to 289 for March, 1970.

According to the coroner statistics, the largest number of deaths were in the 21 to 30 age bracket.

The coroner's office keeps detailed statistics on all coroner cases, including breakdowns on age, sex, marital status, and race.

Hall Of Famer In Palatine

A LOT OF PALATINE residents may not realize it, but there's a Hall of Famer living in their area.

Not a Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Joe DiMaggio, Red Grange, Sammy Baugh, or any known figure — but a man who is just as deserving of Hall of Fame honors in his own field.

His name is Ned Wickersham and though he'll never be famous for his softball feats, his name is now a fixture in the new softball Hall in Oklahoma City. Wickersham, of 314 W. Hellen, was recently one of the first to be elected.

The Wickersham name is already well-known to Palatine sports buffs, thanks to Ned's two sons, Don and Dave, who have starred in athletics at Fremd High School. Don is currently a junior at the University of Illinois on a baseball scholarship. Dave is finishing his senior year at Fremd where he has done well in basketball and baseball.

Ned and his wife Marilyn also have three daughters — Nancy, Dave's twin sister, Betty, a high school junior; and Wendy, seven years old.

The governing body for most major national softball functions is the American Softball Association (ASA). This organization, which initiated the Hall of Fame, has named Wickersham to its national all-star team seven times. Ned has twice been the top hitter in the national tournament since his illustrious career began in 1948.

As in baseball's Hall of Fame, a player must have been retired for at least five years in order to be elected in softball by the ASA committee.

Wickersham is in a highly select group since there are only about a dozen other men who are in the Hall.

Most of Wickersham's high playing reputation was built with the Aurora Sealmasters, one of the top amateur teams in the country. He was nominated by his team, which sent a resume of his career to the ASA for their yearly voting meeting.

The Sealmasters recruited the best amateur players they could find in the United States and played against the best competition they could find anywhere. This meant taking some long road trips — for example, to New York once where Wickersham and some of his teammates met players on the New York Mets and chatted with Casey Stengel, who was then manager.

The team was sponsored by Stephens Adams Co., a firm which produced industrial bearings. It was bought out and no longer sponsors a team.

Wickersham however was not employed by Stephens. He has worked for the telephone company in Arlington Heights for 23 years and has resided in Palatine 21 of those years.

All told, Wickersham played in 12 national tournaments and his team won three of them — in 1959, '61 and '63. He was also in the first international softball tournament ever held, in Mexico City in 1966, in which his team breezed to the championship by winning all 12 of its games.

"I started playing softball in the late forties in Palatine when there were leagues all over the area," Ned recalls. "My position was always left field. There are very few leagues left now compared to then."

"I also played semi-pro ball in Grayslake and had a year of pro baseball in 1947 in the Phillips chain. I was with Salvi Kansas. But I hurt my arm and didn't play any more baseball."

That injury, though, obviously didn't affect his vast talent in softball.

Many men play in park district and industrial softball leagues in the area. But few have ever attained, or will ever reach, the status now held by Ned Wickersham.

Prospect Romps To Net Win

Prospect dished out a convincing 5-0 blanketing over the host Glenbard North tennis team without ever being carried into a third set.

Knight first singles player Rob Zummanek opened the romp by shutting out Panther Ed Langemeek, 6-0, 6-0. Prospect's second singles entry of Steve Collins nearly equalled his predecessors feat by trouncing Finn Forjensen in identical sets of 6-1, 6-1.

Knight Matt Sopchek, making his first start of the season for head coach Jim Wright, struggled before ousting Ben Homola, 9-7, 6-3 for the clinching point.

The victor's doubles duo of Jeff Muradian and Jeff Riesten had relatively little trouble disposing of Panthers Dan Crabtree and Jim Bilek, 6-1, 6-1.

Prospect's second doubles tandem of Steve McMurry and Mike Gross completed the sweep with a 6-0, 6-0 thrashing over Gene Howell and Steve Crabtree.

Mid-Suburban League Baseball Report

Cards Keep Rolling; Vikings' Falcons Win

Streaking Arlington raced to its sixth straight victory. Fremd kept pace in the North with a tense win over Prospect, and a freshman pitched Forest View into sole possession of first place in the South yesterday in another hectic afternoon of Mid-Suburban League baseball.

Co-leader Arlington, behind the heavy hitting of Mike Wilbins and four-hit pitching of Mike Moffo, raced out to an 8-0 lead and then held to win 8-6 yesterday at Glenbard North.

The Cards, now 7-3, slammed the Panther starter for five big runs in the first inning. After an error and an RBI single by Moffo made it 2-0, Wilbins smashed a three-run homer. Scoring ahead of Wilbins were Russ Kirchoff and Moffo.

Arlington knocked the Glenbard hurler off the mound in the fourth with three more. Bob McDonald singled and scored on a single by Gene Elsberg when the outfielder misplayed it. John Brodaan drove in Elsberg with a single and scored on a ground out.

Moffo's wildness forced one run across in the third. The panthers got to him in the fourth for two with the help of an error and in the fifth for three with the aid of two more miscues.

Moffo, now 5-1 in the MSL, went the distance in striking out six and walking three. He put down the Panthers in the final two games to record his fourth win in a row.

Wilbins, Arlington's center fielder, was the big stick man with a double to go along with his big homer. Elsberg was also 2-for-5.

Glenbard North is tied with Prospect for the South Division cellar with 3-7 records.

Glenbard North	001	230	0-6-4-4

Fremd assured itself a share of the North Division lead by nipping snakebitten Prospect, 2-1. The victory upped the Vikings record to 7-3 while dropping the Knights into the cellar of the South.

An upset was in the making when host Prospect staged a rally in the last of the seventh. Dave Harbach led off with a single, advanced to second on an errant throw and tallied on Mike Tolzien's second double of the game. Tolzien, however, died at second when Don Koehler's short fly to center was snagged.

Mark Wicklund turned in the impressive mound performance for Fremd on a yield of six hits. The big righthander walked three and struck out seven while going the distance.

Suffering the heartbreaking defeat for the Knights was Ron Smoy who limited the Vikes to just four hits, walking two and fanning seven.

The victors opened the scoring in the second when Bill Cheney reached on an error, advanced to second on Rick Peele's bunt single, took third on a Doug Pettit sacrifice and tallied on an infield out. The winner came in the fifth when Doug Pettit led off with a double and scored on Wicklund's single to left.

The loss was the Knights' second straight by a 2-1 margin. A defensive gem by Viking rightfielder Doug Pettit on Casey Rush's blast not only saved the ball game, but kept Prospect wondering what it takes to win.

SCORE BY INNINGS
Fremd	010	010	0-2-4-1
Prospect	000	000	1-1-6-2

Larry Monroe, Forest View's freshman phenom pitcher, hurled a three-hitter, came through with a timely hit, and was aided by a pair of Wheeling errors which allowed the winning run as the Falcons held on to first place, 3-2, yesterday.

Ed Bansfield opened the sixth for the Falcons with a grounder up the middle. Kent Koentopp followed with a sacrifice bunt. The throw to first was perfect but Keith McGowan dropped the ball. Bansfield kept running and McGowan fired to third and threw the ball out of play. Bansfield trotted home and that proved to be the clincher.

COUGAR CLUBBER. Bill Arkus of Conant swings a dangerous bat and also does an effective job pitching for the Cougars in Mid-Suburban League action. Arkus had three hits, including a double, and he pitched a three-hitter Friday as Conant nipped Elk Grove, 5-1. He had three league wins heading into action this week.

Wheeling, 5-5, appeared to have the young hurler on the ropes in the second inning as McGowan led off and hit Monroe's first pitch for an opposite field homer to right. Then Dwaine Nelson, now 2-3 on the mound, reached on an error, moved up on a walk to John Neewen, advanced to third on a wild pitch and then scored on another wild one by Monroe.

After that Monroe settled down and only had one other jam in the fourth inning, but he pitched out of that.

Bob Kasper scored the first Falcon run when he singled, went to second on an outfield error and came home on a single by Randy Jespersen.

Forest View, now 6-4, tied it when Monroe hit an opposite field double after two outs and scored on an infield error.

Six Firsts Not Enough For Harper

Harper College was able to run with College of DuPage, but the field event competitors of the latter school proved too great a hurdle for the Hawks.

When the final scoring was in, DuPage had 86 points compared to Harper's 54½ and Triton's 23½ Saturday afternoon at the LaGrange track.

The Hawks managed six firsts, only one coming in the field events. That was accomplished by Kevin Barthule in the discus (132-0).

Running to the other wins were these locals:

Jim Macnider in the mile (4:37), Tom Simpson in the quarter (51.9), Bob Bachus in the half (2:02), Pat Texidor in the intermediate hurdles (58.6) and the mile relay team with a 3:29.5 — the best Harper's done this year. Taking part were Bob Texidor (for the first time), Simpson, Bachus and Tom Breitman.

Harper notched a pair of seconds — Bob Brown in the 220 and the 440-yard relay team of John Blenner, Simpson, Vic Michalek and Brown.

Also scoring points for the Hawks were these athletes:

Thirds — Breitman in the quarter, Brown in the 100, Ron Duenn in the half, Mark Botterman in the mile and Dave Dishman in the shot put.

Fourths — Blenner in both the 100 and the 220, Tom Henrickson in both the shot and the discus and Mason in the high hurdles.

Coach Bob Nolan will be using this week to prepare his men for the Region IV meet at Northern Illinois University's track this Saturday.

Knight Golfers In Tie For 18th

In a gathering comparable to the state meet finals, Prospect disappointingly shot its way into a tie for 18th in the Champaign Golf Invitational over the weekend.

The 34-team field, two-thirds of which will likely return in the state meet, according to Knight head coach Mike Nisen, included contenders from every corner of Illinois.

Prospect entered Tom Neumann, John von Berg and Bill Weinhofner on the 18-hole "Blue" course which is supposedly easier than the established "Orange" layout. Art Hagg and Curt Manning played the latter.

Neumann carded a fine 79 to rate as the Knights' medalist in the meet with von Berg right behind with another good score of 81. Weinhofner, meanwhile, chipped in with a 90.

On the "Orange," Hagg contributed an 87 while Manning recorded an 89 to account for Prospect's total of 426 strokes.

Belleville West captured overall meet honors and must now be considered the team to beat in June by virtue of its first-place total of 392. New Trier West nailed down the second slot just four shots off the pace with a 396.

"I think we could have shot 415 or better without much trouble at all," Nisen said. "We had a couple of good scores and gained some important experience, anyway."

Chicagoland area teams entered in the competition included Glenbrook South and New Trier East (tie for 4th), Glenbard West (6th), Deerfield and Homewood-Flossmoor (tie for 7th), Barrington (14th), Waukegan (20th), Addison Trail (21st), Carl Sandberg (22nd), Wheaton Central (tie for 26th), St. Charles (tie for 28th) and Rich East (30th).

Forest View Nips Palatine

Forest View nipped Palatine 3-2 in a snappy tennis meet that had all five matches finished in two sets.

The Falcons took the first two singles contests, with Dick Martin blanking Dick McNabney 6-0, 6-0 in No. 1 and Kirk Buckholz whipping Steve Snyder at No. 2, 6-0, 6-2. Matt Borman got one of Palatine's points by winning third singles over Dick Thompson, 6-2, 6-2.

The Pirates also won No. 1 doubles with Kevin McNamara and Paul Clapper topping Don Germano and Rick Karcher in the closest match of the day, 6-3, 11-9.

Second doubles went to Forest View's Fred Hoegler-Rich Miller pair over Art Jones and Jeff Rud, 6-0, 6-2.

Forest View's frosh-soph squad shut out Palatine, 5-0.

Both teams continue Mid-Suburban League action Tuesday when Forest View hosts Glenbard North and Palatine entertains Arlington.

Elk Grove Whips Pirate Linksmen

Elk Grove's golf team handed Palatine its fifth loss in as many meets, edging the Pirates 178-181 at Palatine Hills Golf Club.

Keith Moore paced the Grenadiers' win by taking medalist honors with a 42. John Rindell and Jim Conney each shot 45 and Ernie Woolard had a 46.

For Palatine, Rick Frohne had the best score with 43. Ken Drost put together a 45, Mike Long had 46 and Dave Hafner 47.

Palatine's frosh-soph upped its conference record to 3-1 with a 182-211 victory over Elk Grove.

Practices During Summer Months?

by LARRY MLYNCZAK
The Illinois High School Association (IHSA) has recently made a ruling for prep athletes and athletics that coaches on the college level would enjoy and envy.

For this and future summers, the IHSA has ruled that all high schools may conduct athletic summer school classes for all sports. That means that actual practices may be held during the summer for all sports.

The new rule is By-Law A-1-21 which states, "The Board (IHSA) has ruled that high school sponsored summer school classes are not to be considered as coaching schools provided they are not restricted to high school students who have been certified for athletics. Therefore, the provisions of this By-Law do not restrict the structure or operation of summer school classes, and students may participate even if the class is taught by a faculty member from their own school."

The provisions under this law also include that the local school boards must approve the summer school athletic class, a fee must be charged for the class, it must be open to every student who wishes to participate, the program must meet certain time limits and that further restrictions may be made by a school board, a school, a conference or a governing body (such as the Inter-Suburban Association).

If the coach of a sport is unrestricted by his school board, conference or governing body, "he may conduct his classes in any means he wants," said IHSA Assistant Executive Secretary L. L. Astroth. "A coach can go as far as he wants under the provisions, even to the extent of wearing pads and have contact in football practice for a full six weeks."

Despite this open program for summer athletic classes, many of the area high schools may not engage in the all-out practice program.

At Maine Township High School District 207, a decision has not yet been made on the extent of the practice classes.

"Dr. Short (Maine Township's superintendent) has not yet made a decision on the extent of our summer classes," said Eldon Burk, Maine West's director of summer school programs. "Based on the meetings we have had with our athletic directors, I feel that some restrictions on the summer athletic program may be made by our school board. But this will not be official until Dr. Short makes his decision."

"Currently at Maine Township," Burk went on, "we have a physical education program in the summer. But each boy in the program must compete in three different sports and it must be open to all students who wish to participate."

"As far as pads are concerned," Burk added, "no decision has been made for the football sessions."

At Palatine High School Township District 211 it appears that the four schools under its jurisdiction will continue what has been done in the past.

"We have an eight-week summer school program in physical education in our district," said Palatine High athletic director Chit Anderson. "The restriction we have is that a boy can only devote one-fourth of these eight weeks on one sport."

"Therefore, if he spends two weeks in a football course, his other six weeks must be devoted to three other sports other than football."

"Our district does not intend to go into pads for football," Anderson said, "and it does appear that we will continue our summer program the same way we have done in the past."

High School District 214 will go along the same lines as District 211.

"Our plans for this summer in our district have already been made," said Hershey High athletic director Dick Kinne-man. "We already have a summer school program for boys to participate in three or four activities. We have a well-rounded overall athletic program for the summer."

Speaking for Notre Dame High School, athletic director and head football coach Fran Willett said, "We will not have a football program at our school for the high school boys. Since our tuition is so high, many of our boys have to work dur-

End Of Frustrating Week

Saxons Split With Grant

by KEITH REINHARD

Schaumburg wound up a busy week of baseball by splitting a doubleheader at Grant Saturday after dropping a pair of heartbreakers on the two preceding days.

In all four outings coach Roy Hascup's young group came on strong, staging first inning scoring rallies but only in their lifeline Saturday were the Saxons able to maintain a grip on the lead.

They blasted the Bulldogs 12-0 in that contest behind Ken Kast's shutout pitching and Steve Hull's torrid bat. Grant came on with three runs in the final inning to gain a 5-4 edge in the nightcap.

Thursday Schaumburg took an opening 1-0 lead over Elmwood Park but succumbed to a six-run uprising in the fifth and fell 6-3. Friday Maine North came from behind to nose the Saxons 7-6 in extra innings.

Anything but discouraged over his club's 2-7 record to date Hascup noted that they have been doing well in all but a few areas. "Mental errors are the big things we have to work on now. The kids are playing good, aggressive baseball but they're making the mistakes that come with inexperience."

Mental miscues played a part in the setback Thursday, offsetting some nice moundwork by Mike Sharp and John Blasco's continued heavy hitting.

Blasco tripled in a run in the first and stroked a solo homer in the fourth while Sharp kept a no-hit game in progress. In the bottom of the fifth though, the Tigers broke loose for six runs on a pair of walks, a couple of singles, a triple, two fielder's choices, a balk and a squeeze bunt hit.

Rich Kuchnia drove in Blasco, who had walked, with a single to round out Saxon scoring but it wasn't enough to close the gap.

Friday, playing the role of host for a change, Schaumburg jumped ahead 4-1 in the first frame after Art Abraham walked, Jeff Larson tripled, Blasco singled, Ken Gast tripled and Dave Merri-gan doubled.

The Vikings came right back with four of their own in stanza three but later the Saxons knotted things up 5-3 on a triple by Blasco and John Gimmier's sacrifice fly. It was 6-6 after regulation play when both teams scored in the seventh, Schaumburg's tally coming on singles by Gimmier and Hull and a double by Tim Tomljanovich.

Maine North bounced right back though in the eighth on a walk, an error and another pair of walks forcing in the decisive run.

Saturday Gast fanned seven and passed only two in racking up the shut-out win. The Saxons had half their run production after the first inning when Glen Hayes walked, Abraham singled, Larson walked, Blasco doubled in two, Gimmier singled in two, Kuchnia walked and Hull pushed in two more with a two-base shot.

Hull went on to rap out another two-bagger and a triple, driving in six runs all told as the visitors added runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings.

Grant came back to take the finale after the Saxons had put a 3-0 lead on the board in the first inning. Randy Anderson started on the mound for the Saxons and left with his team on top 3-2 going into the fifth and final frame.

Schaumburg added an insurance run in their half of the fifth but reliever Hayes was given haphazard support afield in the bottom of that frame and the Bulldogs netted three unearned runs to gain the final edge.

Managers Clinic

Elk Grove Village Boys Baseball will conduct a Baseball Manager's Clinic on Friday at 8 p.m. at the library. All managers and coaches participating in this year's baseball program are invited to attend.

Topics to be presented at the clinic are: Responsibilities of Being a Manager and Coach by Com. Frank Van Dyke; Care and Handling of Baseball Equipment, by Equipment Manager Darol Topp; and Basic Rules of Baseball and Scorekeeping, by Chief Umpire Alan Granskog.

A review of the By-Laws and policies of Boys Baseball will be presented by Asst. Comr. Marc Vormittag. A question and answer session will follow the conclusion of the discussion.

The May Board of Directors meeting will begin at 7 p.m. the same evening and interested managers may also attend this meeting.

Win For Splittoff

Arlington High School product Paul Splittoff teamed with Fred Gladden to pitch a six-hitter as Omaha rebounded from three straight losses with a 3-1 win over Evansville in the Class AAA American Association.

Splittoff is the property of the Kansas City Royals.

Red-Hot Wes Dixon

Fremd High grad Wes Dixon has been swinging one of the hottest bats for the University of Illinois baseball team. Dixon, who had problems with the bat last year as a sophomore, carried a .353 average into Big Ten play last weekend.

A Golfer's Delight

Pinecrest Golf & Country Club Inc. now under construction, celebrated its official groundbreaking ceremony last week and will open to the public in the spring of 1972.

The course, owned and developed by Herbert Jackisch of Mount Prospect, is an 18-hole Championship layout of approximately 6800 yards and is designed to provide a pleasant golfing experience for golfers of all capabilities.

The course is built on gentle-rolling land enhanced by four man-made lakes and features large contoured greens and wide fairways.

Thousands of pine trees of varied types will be planted to create a golfing atmosphere not usually found in this area. A large practice area including a sand trap provides opportunity to practice every type of golf shot. Tennis courts are planned for the near future.

The club is located in Huntley, Ill., two miles north of Interstate 90 on Highway 47.

The Champ Speaks

Joe Frazier, world heavyweight champion, in his address before the South Carolina Legislature, said, "We need to get together and stop worrying about who's living next door, who's driving a big car or who our little girl's going to play with. We really don't have time for this."

Harper Posts Two Wins, Battles Host Elgin Today

Victory No. 4 will be Harper College's aim as it goes against hosting Elgin College this afternoon in a Skyway Conference tennis meet.

The Hawks carry a 3-0 record into the match after posting a pair of big wins last week on the Palatine Hills park district courts. They hammered Waubesa, 6-1, and Lake County, 7-0, in pro sets.

Harper won all but fourth singles against Waubesa. Randy Seller blanked Hal Smith, 10-0; Roger O'Keefe beat John Dwy, 10-5; Bill Hitzeman shut-out Bill Wilson, 10-0; and Mike Bierma stumbled before John Tesler, 10-0.

O'Keefe and Hitzeman whipped Wilson and Tesler, 10-2, in first doubles; Seller and Bierma handled Smith and Dwy, 10-4; and John Meyn and Steve Cohen blanked Dave Meyers and Scott Lies, 10-0.

Lake County, last Friday's opponent, could only score 12 times against the Hawks. Singles action went this way:

Seller pounded Dave Frost, 10-1; O'Keefe did the same to John Zube, 10-1; Hitzeman improved on the latter's performances by whipping Vic Henderson, 10-0; and Cohen also posted a shutout over Dan Chlasky, 10-0.

In doubles action, the combination of O'Keefe-Hitzeman stopped Frost-Zube, 10-7; Meyn-Randy Bocian romped past Henderson-Chlasky, 10-3; and Seller-Cohen won by forfeit.

Harper will take on a very talented Rock Valley College team from Rockford on Thursday at Palatine Hills. Both are highly favored in this weekend's (Friday-Saturday) Region IV Tournament at Springfield.

Win At Bridge

by Oswald and James Jacoby

One argument in favor of indiscriminate opening of four-card major suits and particularly the spade suit lies in the pre-emptive value. When you open with one spade, your opponent can only overcall at the two level.

There is no question about this pre-emptive value but we have found that for the one time when it pre-empts your opponents there are several occasions when it pre-empts your partner. Therefore, in JACOBY MODERN we never open a four-card spade suit in first or second seat when we have a reasonable minor suit opening at our disposal.

After North opens one diamond, the bidding develops logically to a final contract of two hearts. East and West can't get into the bidding and South will surely make two hearts.

Now let's see what happens if North opens one spade. South may raise to two spades. In that case, North will play the hand there and be set one or possibly two tricks.

Suppose South tries one no-trump. North will probably pass. West will open the five of clubs and South will have a great deal of trouble collecting more than five tricks. Or North may rebid to two diamonds. This will lead to the same unsuccessful two-spade contract. The players who open with one spade wind up minus; those who open one diamond wind up plus.

The Doctor Says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My 15 year-old son bleeds everytime he has a bowel movement. He has been doing this for about two months. An examination didn't show any tumors or anything—not even an internal hemorrhoid, yet he passes about a tablespoon of blood each time he has a bowel movement. The blood is bright red, therefore our doctor doesn't think it could be higher up. What else, other than tumors or hemorrhoids, could be causing this?

Dear Reader—Hemorrhoids, are the most common cause for bright red blood with a bowel movement. Tumors or cancer can be the cause, but the examination that you described has probably eliminated this possibility. Inflammation of the colon, or colitis, may cause the large bowel to weep blood into the stool and blood may be noted in the bowel movement. The change in the lining of the bowel should reveal this problem unless the area of inflammation is beyond the reach of the proctoscope used for such examinations. If the right side of the colon is involved it might not show.

Usually, bleeding in the small intestine or stomach produces blacklike bowel movements because the blood is partially digested. There are exceptions to this. People who bleed quite a bit and have an overactive bowel may even pass fresh blood with bowel movements from a peptic ulcer just outside the stomach. This is fairly uncommon though and is usually associated with other symptoms.

You have done the right thing in going to see a doctor.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 72 and have had wonderful health all my life until this last year. Recently I have been having son-in-law trouble and my blood pressure has gone up. My doctor wants me to take high blood pressure pills and water pills which I hate to take. Is there any diet for people like me?

Dear Reader—Since your doctor is familiar with your case you should continue to take any medicine he has given you until he advises you otherwise.

One of the most important diet considerations for people with high blood pressure is to lose any excess fats they may have. Even the loss of 10 pounds of unnecessary fat often makes a great deal of difference in blood pressure. The second general principle is to markedly decrease any salt intake in the diet. Some doctors feel that giving pills to eliminate water and salt makes it unnecessary to be as conscientious about elimination of salt in the diet.

Now let's face it. Early Spring is exactly the time you think about air conditioning your home. Those of us who sell and install Heil air conditioning would like you to think about buying Heil... Right now!

So here's the deal. Let us install a Heil Central Air Conditioning system in your home RIGHT NOW (Or until May 15 and we'll give you that RCA Portable TV absolutely free. No strings attached. We don't jack up the regular low price of the Heil system, either. It's a genuine, bona-fide free TV set.

So what are you getting yourself into? Heil is the fastest growing name in heating and air conditioning in the country today. Why? Because it's the most efficient, dependable, quiet-running, service free system in the country. What'll it cost? That depends on your requirements, but it'll cost less than you'd think. And, most likely, it can be added to your present heating system.

Decide now. You'll either be sweltering this summer and staring at the blank walls, or relaxing in the cool comfort of your Heil Air Conditioning System and staring at your new RCA TV. Think about it. Then call your Heil dealer.

THE HEIL SYSTEM
The Heil System includes the famous Villager or Hermitage condensing unit which carries a 5 year guarantee on the compressor, the Heil designed "A" cooling coil, refrigerant lines and a handsome season selector temperature control. Dependable dealer installation, economical to operate.

Civic Drive, Schaumburg, Illinois on a proposal to amend a certain Annexation Agreement between Levitt & Sons, Inc. and the Village of Schaumburg dated October 15, 1968. Said amendment to the Annexation Agreement would provide as follows:

1. That the property hereinafter legally described as: The West 1/2 of the Northwest 1/4 of Section 17, and the Northeast 1/4 of Section 18 and the West 1/2 of the Southeast 1/4 of Section 18, all in Township 41 North, Range 10, East of the Third Principal Meridian, in Cook County, Illinois, excepting therefrom that part lying within Golf Road (as dedicated per Document 105-66-874) and also excepting therefrom that part thereof to be zoned B-2.

2. That the development of the subject property shall be undertaken in stages and each stage of development shall be submitted for approval to the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Schaumburg prior to the commencement of construction.

3. That approximately 20 acres south of Bode Road will be reclassified to B-2 Business District, General Retail.

4. That all ordinances in force upon the date of this amendment shall be applicable to said development including off-site parking requirements, license, permit and inspection fees.

5. That the amendment to the agreement shall be for a period of five years as provided by law.

All persons desiring to be heard on said proposed amendment to Annexation Agreement will be given an opportunity to be heard.

Shots Keeping the Lid on Epidemics

The Latest on Immunization

A century ago, 148 people died of smallpox in San Francisco in one month.

The situation now?

The City has not had a smallpox death for 42 years, and not even one case of the disease since 1916.

Just as dramatically, many of the other once-disastrous infectious diseases have been all but stamped out. The once-deadly epidemics are no longer feared.

Have we been lulled into a false sense of security? Yes, in a way, because these diseases lie in wait, ready to breach the wall of immunization if vulnerable spots appear.

Are you and your children protected? Here is the most up-to-date information about immunization.

DIPHTHERIA

Q—Why immunize my child against diphtheria, since it is now so infrequent?

A—Because it still does occur — among older, non-immunized people. The reason children almost never get the disease is, simply, because so many of them have been immunized with diphtheria toxoid.

Q—When should this vaccine be given?

A—Early in childhood. Three injections are necessary, and should be started at the age of six months.

Q—Are there side reactions?

A—Minor — only slight fever — in infants. Adults have somewhat more reaction, with sore arms and fever. They are usually given a milder, "adult" toxoid.

Q—How effective is immunization against diphtheria?

A—Extremely effective, lasting for several years. Booster doses are usually given about a year after the initial series of three, again at first school attendance, and perhaps repeated in early high school years.

Q—How is diphtheria toxoid given?

A—Usually in combination with vaccines against tetanus and whooping cough.

TETANUS

Q—Who should receive tetanus toxoid?

A—Everyone is exposed occasionally to the risk of tetanus, and not just from the traditional rusty nail. Even a minor wound can be a hazard. Adults who work in gardens, and children who play in yards or on the street constantly have some exposure. Protection is so simple and effective that nobody should be without it.

Q—Can't antitoxin be used, instead of immunizing everybody against the disease?

A—Relatively safe antitoxic globulin is now available, made from human blood. But since the risk is not always recognized when an injury is slight, it is well to be protected with toxoid ahead of time. This eliminates the necessity of antitoxin after an injury.

Q—How long does the protection of tetanus immunization last?

A—At least 10 years after the initial series, which consists of three doses of toxoid. Booster doses probably do not need to be given at intervals of less than five years, and should not be given annually.

PERTUSSIS

(Whooping Cough)

Q—Who should be immunized against whooping cough?

A—The need is greatest in infancy. Immunization should be started by the third month of life, usually in combination with diphtheria and tetanus toxoids. One of the greatest protections for the new baby is the previous immunization of the other children in the family, thus cutting down exposure.

Q—At what age should immunization against whooping cough be discontinued?

A—For some reason, fever and systemic reaction are more severe after the age of 5 or 6 years, and immunization should be completed before that time.

Q—What is the duration of protection?

A—It continues through childhood years when the danger of the disease is greatest.

Q—How can young adults be protected?

A—The best protection is immunization of infants so that they will not expose adults to the disease. Whooping cough vaccine should not be used for adults.

POLIO

Q—Which polio vaccine is preferable — the killed vaccine of Salk, or the live virus vaccine of Sabin?

A—The Sabin vaccine is much more effective, and immunity probably continues for life. Salk vaccine is less frequently used and is not the preferable agent for immunization at any age.

Q—Should adults be immunized against polio?

A—The greatest protection for adults is to have all infants immunized, because infants and young children are the vectors (carriers) of the disease. They may get it in a mild form, then transmit it to their parents and other close adult contacts — who may develop far more serious cases. Universal immunization of children would almost eliminate polio.

Q—When should the infant be immunized against polio?

A—Not too early. Somewhere in the second six months of life is appropriate. Preferably, it should not be done in combination with other immunizing agents.

Q—The presence of live virus sounds alarming — is this dangerous?

A—The risk, if any, is extremely small — somewhere in the neighborhood of one paralytic case in 4 million immunizations. This is less than the risk in most other forms of immunization, and surely less than the risk of contracting polio through exposure — a risk which existed only a few years ago.

MEASLES

Q—Everyone gets measles — or nearly everyone — so why make such a fuss about protecting children?

A—Measles is a very serious disease, with high fever and great discomfort and disability, particularly for adults. The greatest risk is in the complications, especially encephalitis, which occurs at about the same rate that paralytic polio used to occur before the days of polio vaccine.

Q—Should measles vaccine be given along with other shots?

A—No. It should be deferred until the age of 1 year. It can be given the child any time after that.

Q—Are reactions for measles vaccine serious?

A—No. The maximum reaction usually consists of slight fever, sometimes a little rash, and mild sickness which resembles an attenuated (reduced in virulence) case of measles. Usually there is no reaction at all.

Q—How about booster injections?

A—There is little need for booster injections, since the single original dose will provide protection through most of the vulnerable childhood years, and probably extends into adulthood.

Q—What can be done for a non-immunized child who is exposed to measles?

A—Human gamma globulin will give immediate, but not prolonged, protection.

Q—Should measles vaccine be given during pregnancy?

A—No. The immunization is best carried out in early childhood.

Q—What effect does measles have on the fetus if the mother has the disease during pregnancy?

A—This is different from rubella (German measles) in which the results can be so devastating. The infant is little affected if the mother has regular measles during pregnancy.

RUBELLA

(German measles)

Q—When will rubella vaccine be available, so that it can be used to protect mothers and their unborn children?

A—The new vaccine is now available. It should be given to infant after age one.

MUMPS

Q—Has a new vaccine been developed for mumps?

A—Yes. We now have a live virus vaccine, which is very effective and which has completely superseded the older, and ineffective, killed virus vaccine.

Q—When should mumps vaccine be given?

A—Not before 1 year, but most authorities recommend postponing it to the age of 10 or 11 years, because the disease is more serious at the higher age levels and in adulthood. Males may suffer serious complications, including sterility, if they develop mumps in adolescence or as adults.

Questions & Answers For Family Health

As a Public Service, The Herald offers its readers these answers to many common questions people have about health and medicine. All material has been approved by The Illinois Medical Association and The California Medical Association.

Diseases All But Wiped Out

Q—Can this vaccine be given after exposure?

A—It can, and without risk, but the time is too short to produce immunity.

Q—Is there reaction to mumps vaccine?

A—Practically none — perhaps a slight fever for a day or so, about a week after vaccination.

Q—Should females be immunized?

A—They may be, but this is less important than for males. Mumps has little or no effect on pregnancy or the fetus.

SMALLPOX

Q—There have been so few cases of smallpox in recent years, is vaccination really necessary any more?

A—The reason for the low incidence of smallpox is clearly the result of years of conscientious vaccination, which has practically eradicated the disease. Without continued vaccination, we could eventually expect smallpox incidence to rise.

Q—Is smallpox vaccination hazardous?

A—It can be. There are very rare instances of severe reactions in normal people. The best and safest age for vaccination is between 1 and 2 years. It should not be done when the child has eczema or other skin eruptions. There are risks for patients with some other disease, especially including malignancies such as leukemia and lymphoma.

Q—Do you think our present system of smallpox vaccination, which induces a mild form of local infection, will be continued?

A—Other methods are being explored, and safer methods may be introduced, but until then our only recourse for protection of the population is in conscientious vaccination.

INFLUENZA

Q—Should everyone be vaccinated against the "flu"?

A—Most authorities do not recommend this, because there are numerous strains, and protection against the one which causes the next epidemic may not be provided.

Q—Are there special conditions where flu vaccine should be given?

A—Yes, children with chronic diseases such as fibrocystic disease or rheumatic fever, and senior citizens with a history of respiratory problems.

IMMUNIZATION IN GENERAL

Q—Why is it so important to immunize in infancy and very early childhood?

A—Because other children and even adults in the family are likewise protected against most of the infections against which vaccination is recommended.

Q—Is there no limit to the number of vaccines which a person can take?

A—There is always the law of diminishing returns. Vaccination should be limited to those diseases which pose a definite risk.

IMPORTANT: If you have further questions, consult your own physician.

Settlement Of 'Howie' Issue A Possibility

by STEVE NOVICK

The possibility of a settlement between vested interests in the Howie-in-the-Hills subdivision was discussed yesterday afternoon before the start of a trial in the Cook County Circuit Court under Judge Helen McGillicuddy.

A planned unit development, including a mixture of single family and low density multiple housing, was proposed for the property located between the area north of Winston Knolls, near Elia-Freeman Roads and south of Palatine Road.

The trial is to determine if there were any improprieties on the part of Hoffman Estates officials setting $1 million special assessment late in 1966 for water and sewer improvements to the land and to determine the position of special assessment bondholders and Teamster Union Pension Fund officials, both claiming first lien on the property.

PENSION FUND attorneys in court yesterday morning said they would not compromise their demand for first lien rights to the property. Negotiations for a settlement will continue during the trial.

Aram Hartunian, attorney for Admiral Builders, a major special assessment bondholder, said he is in no position to accept a junior position on claims to money coming from the now defunct development because the morning conference was the first he heard of any settlement proposal.

But Hartunian said he'd consider a settlement provided adequate assurances would be made that bondholders did not lose out in the dealings.

A settlement would have to assure profitable development of the land to protect the village of Hoffman Estates against any liability from the special assessment besides protecting the pension fund and bondholders.

Settlement would also have to assure a profitable position for a federally appointed receivership holding title to the Savings and Loan depositors whose money was drained through the development by convicted swindler Oran Mensik.

VILLAGE ATTY. Edward Hofert said yesterday that any talk of a settlement is worthwhile.

Hofert's special advisor, Atty. Harry Finns, said even if this trial proceeds smoothly, there is always a chance a federal court will take over the proceedings.

Any development of the land agreed to in a settlement would assure a proper buffer of single family homes between Winston Knolls and any multiple built on the land, Hofert added.

Hofert said the recommended land plan has been agreed to by the village's land planner as the highest and best use for the property.

The settlement conference yesterday afternoon included Steven Bashwiner, attorney for the receivers.

The trial will proceed today after the conference. Village officials, past and present, were in court yesterday, ready to testify.

The officials included former village Atty. Peter Schultz, village Engineer George Holt and village Clerk Virginia Netter, present with all available records from the Howie-in-the-Hills special assessment proceedings three and a half years ago. The three are expected to testify today or Wednesday.

Hammond To Head Unit Of Detectives

Schaumburg Police Sgt. Robert M. Hammond will head the village's new detective bureau, Chief Martin Conroy, announced.

The three-man bureau also will be staffed by Patrolmen David E. Kujawa and John E. Barabas. The newly formed division of the village police force will handle all criminal investigations, said

Sgt. Robert Hammond

Chief Conroy. The appointments, approved last week by the village board, will be effective June 1.

Sgt. Hammond, a Chicago native, has been with the department nine of its 11 years. Formerly he was a supervisor with American Airlines.

About a year after Sgt. Hammond joined the force as a patrolman, he was named department juvenile officer. He was promoted to sergeant Oct. 5, 1968. As sergeant, he has headed the department's records and communications division. In his career, Sgt. Hammond has received two letters of commendation from Chief Conroy for superior performance of his duties, one resulting from an arrest of a burglar.

SGT. HAMMOND has attended seminars and training programs in juvenile work, handling of civil disturbances, operation of equipment such as the breathalyzer, police supervision and LEADS, a system of communication between police

Revealed In Community Attitude Survey

Residents Urge More Neighborhood Parks

by PAT GERLACH

Narrative comment obtained from a community attitude survey recently conducted for Hoffman Estates Park District showed an exceptional concern for establishment of more neighborhood parks and further development of existing parks.

According to Alan R. Caskey, of McFadden & Everly, Ltd., the firm now engaged in preparing a master plan for future park development in Hoffman Estates, statistical data resulting from the survey will soon be presented to the park board.

"Commentary also pointed out the extra concern evidenced by the residents of Winston Knolls which was also extremely apparent in the recent (park) board election," Caskey said.

Annexed only last December by the park district, the Winston Knolls subdivision was successful in electing Claude Crase and Don A. Wade to two of three posts filled in last month's election.

Caskey explained, however, that findings of the survey seem to focus sharply on three general areas—development of existing parks, acquisition of additional lands and creation of larger multi-use facilities such as could be obtained through park-school co-operation.

AN EIGHT-PAGE listing of adult comments, completely unidentified, was presented to the park board several weeks ago by Caskey.

Comments from the anonymous respondents ranged from the enthusiastic park district supporter to several who suggested that the taxing body either be abolished or taken over by another local governmental agency to the few who admitted complete ignorance of the existence of a park district.

"Too small, very inadequate and do not meet the needs of this growing community," was the terse opinion of one resident.

"Cool weather biggest part of year — take this into account with an indoor/outdoor combination pool," said another.

One respondent offered to serve on a planning or advisory board with the park district and offered 11 years of experience in parks and recreation and membership in an impressive list of park-related professional associations.

"I'm really pleased with the progress the park board has accomplished since its inception. Supervision of ice-skating has been the only fault I could name. I understand teen activities are limited but the age group in my house and neighborhood is well covered by activities," was the opinion of another member of the sample.

ONE PERSON QUESTIONED called for a YMCA building "which would solve the pool problem" and suggested this is a method of bringing "outdoor sports in during the cold weather."

Concern for other children evidenced itself in comments such as "Teens must have a place to sit and enjoy a coke and just to talk and not be treated like bums and scum." "Teenagers need help" was the only idea expressed by another.

A number of the residents expressed desire for a simple, functional multi-purpose center which, when needed, could double as a meeting place for community groups.

"Our family, our community for that matter, needs more recreational facilities but not a huge luxurious complex. A good basic, indoor pool would be adequate and the roller rink could be established in an existing building. Real estate taxes are more than the average family can sustain and please bear that in mind when presenting your recommendations," another respondent said.

Critics had a hey-day with their questionnaires with one noting that "Hoffman Estates Park District has the firm reputation of being poorly run, never getting anything accomplished properly."

"It would please me very much if the park district was either disbanded or taken over by some other existing agency," said one resident, who went on to describe it as "the most useless taxing body in the area."

WINSTON KNOLLS respondents were obvious in their plea for parks, baseball diamonds and other facilities "NOW"; others surveyed were obviously either in favor of or opposed to little league programs, football leagues or just plain more taxes.

"I think the park district is doing a very good job with funds that are available and the criticism it is getting is unwarranted and made by people who don't know any better," said another resident, who also cautioned the district "please don't let the athletic association influence you too much."

Probably one of the most thought pro-voicing commentaries came from the housewife who professes herself "not too big on recreation."

"When I'm finished fulfilling my housewifely duties I desire only to read and I have too little time for that as it is," she continued.

"Probably as my role changes my interests will change to the degree that I'll have more time for recreation," she said but also emphasized that she found the consultants questionnaire difficult to answer.

"I really don't know what facilities we have available; we just don't have time right now to use them," was her explanation.

OTHERS ACCUSED the park board of being "empire builders," said they "give us 90 per cent excuses and ten per cent action," charged them with mismanagement of funds or said they didn't have time to complete the interview form.

The preparation of a master plan is taking part in a three phase operation at a cost of $6,000 and its adoption later this year will pave the way to an expansion program, essentially designed by a majority of the community.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against defacto neighborhood segregation. The court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns, Randolph W. Thrower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brush Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers off UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary Weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

The State

Illinois will need $60 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

The Weather

While a mass of cold air was reported to be moving into the Deep South, southerly winds were reported to be sending warm air north into the plains states and the Rockies.

Temperatures from around the nation:

	High	Low
Atlanta	74	42
Houston	86	63
Los Angeles	68	53
Miami Beach	89	65
Minneapolis	59	32
New York	60	50
Phoenix	95	59
Seattle	71	51

The Market

Profit taking, which has been gaining momentum in recent weeks, lowered the boom on the stock market. But turnover slowed considerably from last week's daily average of more than 20-million shares. The Dow Jones industrial average finished off at 9.34 at 932.41. Prices declined in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Residents To Eye Fire Dist. Budget

Residents of the Hoffman Estates Fire Protection District will meet to review the proposed 1971-72 budget at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Fire Station 1, at 140 Flag-staff Ln., Hoffman Estates.

The budget shows about $35,000 reduced expenditures, compared with last year's appropriations. The reduction results from fewer anticipated equipment purchases, with $150,000 allocated last year and only $45,000 allocated this year. Other areas of the budget have been increased, taking up some of the slack.

The major increase is in salaries, which totaled $120,000 last year and are up to $155,000 for the new year. The salaries are for the chief and his assistant, two lieutenants and 11½ paid fire-fighters.

OTHER INCREASES result from the creation of new budgetary categories. These include maintenance of fire hose, $3,000; volunteer lieutenant and engineer, $1,000; clerk and/or treasurer, $6,000 and a provision for weekend duty men, $18,200.

Increases in already existing budget categories are, equipment maintenance, up $300; insurance, up $2,000; hospitalization, up $300; radio maintenance, up $500; legal fees, up $200; legal notices, up $100; trustees compensation, up $250; water and sewer bills, up $200; telephone, up $1,000; administration, up $500; emergency alarm, up $500; landscaping, up $1,000.

Listed outside of regular budget figures, and not part of the total, are appropriations for a pension fund and auditing of the fund. Pension payments are expected to total $18,600, with an additional provision for payment of one-ninth of back pension funds owed, $5,000. The audit appropriation is $8,500.

The budget shows a total levy of $300,000 on assessed valuation of $75 million. The anticipated tax rate is $4 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Woman's Club Plans Annual Golf Outing

The Hanover Park Woman's Club is sponsoring its first annual golf outing, "A Man's Day," May 16 at St. Andrews Country Club. Tee-off time is 8:30 a.m.

Tickets are $15 and include the green fee and a beef dinner.

All proceeds will go toward furthering the activities of the Hanover Park Community Council. The council is currently involved in establishing a central coordinating committee for the many civic and social organizations in the community.

Members of the council are exploring the feasibility of developing a community center.

Volunteer members of the "A Man's Day" committee are Bob Williams, 837-5678; Ron Jensen, 289-5487; A. Wade, 837-6135; and Dan Stowe, 837-7286. Any of the volunteers may be contacted for further information or tickets. All reservations should be in by May 7.

The Schmidt Iron Works, division of S-R Industries Corp., 1100 Wiley Rd., Schaumburg, is one of 28 Chicago area firms that have been shut down since 12:01 a.m. Saturday in a strike by shop employees.

The Shopman's Local No. 473 of the International Association of Bridge, Structural & Ornamental Iron Workers, is striking the Iron League of Chicago Area, a group of employers in the industry of which Schmidt is a member. Of the firms hit by the strike, 25 are in Chicago, and one each is in Franklin Park, Wheeling and Schaumburg. The Wheeling firm is International Iron Works.

Alvin W. Ruck, president of Schmidt, said yesterday he expected the strike would be over after a vote by union members at 10 a.m. today, and production would be resumed tonight or early tomorrow. "I feel sure it will be settled then," said Ruck.

THE STRIKE has kept 150 employees at Schmidt from their jobs, when they normally would have worked Saturday, yesterday and today. Of the Schmidt work force, 85 persons are in the local.

Ruck said he was not free to comment on specific points of negotiations, but did say the strike is "primarily a wage thing." The striking employees, who are welders, grinders and fitters, make an average salary of about $4 per hour under the old contract, not including fringe benefits, said Ruck. His firm fabricates and erects structural steel and miscellaneous iron, such as is used in office building construction, said Ruck.

Art Festival Deadline Set

A registration deadline and an auditioning date have been announced by officials of the Schaumburg Festival of Arts, to be June 19-20 at Schaumburg High School.

Applications to exhibit art in the festival are due Friday. They may be obtained from Michael Madden, exhibitions chairman, at the Schaumburg Township Public Library on Library Lane.

Persons registering will be charged a fee, based on their intentions for the festival. Artists wishing to sell their work and to display it inside the school building will be charged $12. Persons wishing to sell, but willing to display their work outside, will be charged $8. Artists who wish only to display their work, and do not plan to offer anything for sale, will be charged $3. Easels, tables and night security will be provided only for those persons exhibiting inside the school.

Exhibits will be open to the public 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. June 19 and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 20. Admission to view the exhibits will be free.

JUDGING WILL BE Mrs. Alexander

Langsdorf Jr. of Schaumburg and John Doyle of Hoffman Estates. Judging categories will be painting, ceramics, sculpture and crafts. Ribbons for first, second and third places will be given in each category.

Preliminary auditions for Talent '71, a contest open to persons aged 14 to 19, will be at 7 p.m. Monday at Schaumburg Elementary School. Persons selected in the auditions will be allowed to enter the contest to be held June 19 in the school. Festival organizers now are arranging with local radio and television personalities for a master of ceremonies and judges.

The contest is to give young persons in the area an opportunity to display their talents. If the time Monday night is insufficient to complete auditions, another session will be held May 9.

Winners of the contest will receive $25 for first place, $15 for second place and $10 for third place. Groups are to be limited to five persons, and each performance is to last no longer than five minutes. More information is available from Mrs. Marlene Feilen, 837-3924.

$2,061 For Area GOP Campaign

The Hanover Park Republican candidates campaign for last month's election cost $2,061.07. The total income for the campaign fund was $2,354.53, according to William Hogan, chairman.

According to the financial statement, released last week, the funds were all raised locally. "There were no monies received nor were any asked from outside sources," Hogan said.

Accusations that some funds came from county and state organizations are false, Hogan said.

Funds were earned from a Las Vegas night, $786; the Hanover Park Caper Dance No. 1, $548; and the spaghetti dinner, $620.53. In addition, the candidates contributed $400, bringing the total income to $2,354.53.

The itemized expenses were, stationery, $8.75; candidate badges, $4.93; open platform hearings at schools, $46.50; registration flyers, $24.50; Las Vegas night, $126.84; Caper dance, $118.29; spaghetti dinner, $348.17.

In addition, other expenses were car tops and bumper stickers, $92.74; press luncheon, $51.68; photos and candidate cards, $137.57; campaign prints and brochures, $328.45; breakfast rolls and lunches for judges on election day, $38.40; and legal fees, $65.

"Our total expenses as itemized and available for any resident of Hanover Park to inspect were $2,061.07. Our campaign was run clean and fair as well as running in the black with no commitment to any outside groups," Hogan said.

The successful campaign seated Frank Dalla Valle Jr., Thomas Evert and William Rietz as trustees.

Home Burglarized

Burglars of the Walter J. Trebick home at 529 Bahama Ln., Schaumburg, walked off with $500 in cash, a mink jacket and two platinum diamond rings, according to a report filed with village police late Thursday night.

Trebick told police he had been absent from his home between 1:15 and 11 p.m. Thursday, and returned to find it had been broken into. Police believe the point of entry was a rear door, in which a lock had been pried open. Trebick said the cash taken was in five $100 bills, and set the value of the mink at $525, and of one of the rings at $1,100. Police reports did not show a value for the second ring.

As head of the detective bureau, Sgt. Hammond will supervise work in investigation, the youth bureau, the police consultant program in high schools and junior high schools and identification.

Sgt. Hammond is married and has four children.

Patrolmen Kujawa and Barabas, newer members of the department, both had previous experience in police work before coming to Schaumburg. Kujawa joined in November 1968, after working with the Park Ridge department. Barabas came in February 1970, having already worked in Morton Grove.

Barabas has had special training in traffic law enforcement, criminal proceedings and narcotics. He received a letter of recognition in 1970 for an arrest after a hit and run accident, a letter of commendation in 1971 for an attempted burglary arrest and recognition for extra hours devoted to a burglary investigation. A Chicago native, he is married and has two children.

Kujawa's in-service training has focused on identification procedures, evidence analysis and use of equipment. He has received a letter of commendation for a burglary arrest. Formerly of Chicago and Park Ridge, he is married and has two children.

2 School Superintendents Back Library Dist. Vote

The referendum to expand the Wheeling Library District into Lake County was supported by the village president and village board of Buffalo Grove and two school superintendents.

The referendum, scheduled for May 22, would extend the library boundaries to take in 15 square miles of Lake County, directly north of the county line and west of the Des Plaines River.

It would bring public library services to communities in the area, including the Lake County section of Buffalo Grove, for the first time.

The Buffalo Grove Village Board has passed a resolution in favor of the expansion. Most of the Cook County section of the village is now in the Wheeling Library District, along with most of the village of Wheeling.

Buffalo Grove residents living in the district can use the library without charge. Lake County residents must pay a $30 a year charge, if they wish to use the library.

Commenting on the referendum, Buffalo Grove Village Pres. Gary Armstrong said, "It would be a very good thing for the village. As a result of the annexation, the balance of the village would be in the district. Perhaps we could get a library in Buffalo Grove on the Raupp Memorial site."

THE RAUPP Memorial is a tract of land set aside by the Raupp family for use as a museum, library or similar facility.

Currently, the library district has only one building. The library building, which opened last Saturday, is located at 850 Jenkins Ct. in Wheeling.

Kenneth Gill, superintendent of School Dist. 21, also supported the referendum.

"I'm in favor of it," Gill said. "It is an expansion into a contiguous area and they (library officials) seem to know how to make it work. I think that libraries should be used as extensively as possible. This would make the library services available to more people."

Michael DiVincenzo, superintendent of Aptakisic-Tripp School Dist. 102, said the referendum is a good idea, "if the people are willing to pay for it."

"It will give the kids in our area access to a public library that they didn't have. I'm sure if it is available, the kids will take advantage of it," DiVincenzo said.

SUPT. WILLIAM Hitzeman of School Dist. 96 said he would not take a position on the referendum at this time. He said that he had requested more information on the proposal from the library district.

The proposed new boundaries for the library district take in areas served by both Dist. 96 and Dist. 102. If the referendum is successful, the district will add the communities of Prairie View, Half Day, Horatio Gardens, Aptakisic, and parts of Long Grove and Buffalo Grove to its service area.

None of these areas is now served by a library district.

The referendum would not increase taxes for residents of the present library district — most of Wheeling and the Cook County section of Buffalo Grove — but it would affect the taxes of the expansion area.

Residents of the area would pay the current library tax rate of 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Opinions Please

Anti-War Protests Are Opposed

The current anti-war demonstrations in Washington were strongly opposed by residents of Buffalo Grove and Wheeling who were questioned yesterday by Opinions Please.

All questioned opposed demonstrations which involved civil disobedience or violations of the law. Even persons who opposed the Vietnam War found themselves unwilling to agree with tactics that included blocking building entrances and tying up auto traffic.

The strongest opposition to the demonstrations came from JOSEPH RUDNICK, 151 George, Wheeling. He said he has two sons serving in Vietnam.

About the demonstrations, Rudnick said, "I think it's crazy. What can the President do? He's going as fast as he can (on troop withdrawals), and it's not all on his shoulders. It's up to Congress, too."

About the protesters, he said, "I think they should all be put in uniform and sent over there. They could do their demonstrating over there."

Rather than speed up the end of the war, Rudnick said the demonstrations are "only going to make it worse" by causing division in the nation.

"I think they should lock them all up that's what I think," said W. J. BRUBAKER, 343 Weidner Rd., Buffalo Grove.

"I wonder if they don't have anything better to do with their time. I don't see that protests of any kind do any good. I they tried to put as much energy into building up this country instead of tearing it down, it would be a much better place."

WILLIAM DAVIES, of 433 White Pine Buffalo Grove, said that while he does not oppose peaceful protests against the war, he is opposed to "blocking traffic using dope and the other things that are going on" in Washington.

"I'm not in favor of the war, but I'm against these protests," Davies said. "I don't think it's the American way. There is a right and a wrong way to do things and I think this is the wrong way."

Davies said the demonstrations which involve lawbreaking may actually hurt the demonstrators' cause and, he said, "They should put their energy into writing their congressmen. I think that would do more good."

MRS. ALBERT NEUMANN, 135 Chestnut, Wheeling, also said that while she could sympathize with the demonstrators' desire to end the war, she could not support their tactics.

"I don't like the demonstrations very much," Mrs. Neumann said. "I think the war should stop. I'm opposed to it; I'd go along with them there. But I don't think this is the right way to go about stopping the war."

Mrs. Neumann said that she would not oppose peaceful and lawful protests, just those that involve violations of the law.

SOUVENIR BUTTONS being sold by First Illinois "Volunteers" will help pay for uniforms and equipment for the local drum and bugle corps. Cindy Antoni of Wheeling shows the two styles of buttons now on sale.

Plans Being Made For Nationwide Drum, Bugle Competition Here

Work has begun on a six-day-long celebration featuring a carnival, parade, and nationwide drum and bugle corps competition which will be held in Wheeling with main events planned over the Fourth of July weekend.

The activities being organized will include efforts by a variety of local organizations, but the weekend will primarily be sponsored by the First Illinois Drum and Bugle Corps and the Wheeling Jaycees.

Drum and bugle corps holding all the current titles in nationwide competition will compete in the evening on July 3 at the Wheeling High School stadium in the Midwest Parade of Champions.

Bob Bryson of the local First Illinois "Volunteers" explains that it is unusual for a competition to include all the current champion corps. The local corps, which is a year old, will host the competition between the champion corps from across the country.

The Volunteers themselves will not enter national field competition until 1972.

time national champions, the Santa Clara (California) Vanguard, 1970 American Legion National Champions; the Madison (Wisconsin) Scouts, 1970 U.S. Open Champions; the La Crosse (Wisconsin) Blue Stars, 1970 Minnesota State Champions; and the Des Plaines Vanguard, 1968 World Open Champions.

THE CHAMPION CORPS will also march on July 3 in what Wheeling Jaycees are promising will be the largest parade since the Diamond Jubilee.

The parade will follow a route from Jack London Junior High School along Dundee Road to Elmhurst Road and south on Elmhurst Road to Wheeling High School.

Other entrants in the parade will include scout organizations, the First Illinois "Volunteers," Ronald McDonald, and floats from the Pure Milk Association, the Illinois Tollway Commission, the Cook County Highway Department, Hillfarm Dairy, and the Cook County Forest Preserve.

Local organizations who have already promised parade entries include St. Joseph the Worker Catholic Church, the Wheeling Fire Department, and the Wheeling Historical Society. Parade

Marshall Frank Mahnich said Mahnich and deputy parade marshal Art Yunker have contacted all local organizations about joining the parade.

Other activities promised for the weekend include a carnival behind Wheeling High School from June 30 through July 5. Billed as larger than last year's carnival, the Jaycees have promised more rides this year.

In the evening on Sunday, July 4, the annual fireworks display will be held at the high school stadium, hosted by the

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against de facto neighborhood segregation. The court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns, Randolph W. Thrower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brushy Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers of UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary Weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

The State

Illinois will need $60 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

The Weather

While a mass of cold air was reported to be moving into the Deep South, southerly winds were reported to be sending warm air north into the plains states and the Rockies.

Park Chiefs Observe Arbor Day

Wheeling Park Commissioners planted five new trees in Chamber of Commerce Park on North Wolf Road Friday evening in honor of Arbor Day.

The tree plantings were more than just a holiday observance, however.

The trees, three maples and two red oaks, are the first to be planted in a long range plan to turn Chamber of Commerce park into a garden of walkways, flowers, benches and shrubs.

Park Commissioners Lorraine Lark, Alf Wilson, Gene Sackett and Robert Ross were on hand Friday to plant the new trees in spots where they will fit in with the overall landscape plan.

Park Dist. Supt. Ferd Arndt said the district hopes to add something to the park each year until the landscaping is complete.

Arndt said this summer a system of curving walkways will be installed and a patch of red canna flowers will be planted.

Plans for the park, which already houses the district's outdoor swimming pool and the 106-year-old Community church building used for community meetings, call for a pond, a covered shelter with seats, and a rose garden.

The system of benches, grass, landscaping and walkways will eventually replace the existing ball diamond on the north side of the park.

Funds to develop the park were included in a 1969 referendum which allowed the park district to build the indoor Neptune's swimming pool at Wheeling High School and purchase the outdoor community pool from pool bondholders.

Sherman Skolnick... A Crusader For Cleaner Courts

by KAREN RUGEN

"There are so many corrupt judges, we'll never get out of business," said Sherman Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts.

Skolnick spoke Friday to about 2,500 students at Prospect High School in Mount Prospect. Law Day, observed Saturday, is held nationally each year to honor law and order and those who make and enforce the law.

"I look upon Law Day with mixed feelings," Skolnick said. "On one hand, I respect the law. On the other hand, I think there has to be confidence in the instruments of justice. But those who make it should deserve our confidence."

Skolnick, 41, told his audience about his committee, a not-for-profit group devoted to research into court malpractices, court corruption and collusion in court. Skolnick heads a team of 200 volunteer researchers.

"WE'RE NON-PARTISAN — we blast both sides," the speaker explained. "Our bag is judges. The women volunteers find it more interesting than the PTA."

Skolnick said the group, which attempts to dislodge corrupt judges by bringing court cases against them, picked the committee's name because it was simple. He said: "Over the past 10 years we have found out we have some illiterate judges. We wanted to give them a name they could spell."

The crusader, who describes himself "as not a lawyer and I have no desire to be a lawyer," told students about his committee. The work of the committee includes court watching, studying public records for conflict of interest, study of judicial perjury and bribery and falsification of court records.

"FIRST YOU SIGN a petition which can be filed by any citizen as a friend of the court," Skolnick said. "That's what I do — although not many people in the court would call me their friend."

"But I don't point my finger in front of a judge's face until we have what we call 'over-kill,' 20 times the amount of evidence necessary to ruin him," he said.

"You may wonder why I joke so much," Skolnick told students who laughed and applauded throughout the 45-minute speech. "Some of the things our committee is involved in are so deadly serious we have to joke to keep from getting uptight."

After a short introduction, students had the chance to ask Skolnick questions. One male student wanted to know how students can help get corrupt politicians out of office.

"I URGE STUDENTS, especially those in sociology and political science, to demand their teachers tell them more of what goes in the world," answered the speaker. "And they should turn some of the school buildings over to the poor people and hold classes in the park."

Another student wanted to know what he could do "if one of us got busted and the charges were not true."

Skolnick told him he could write to the committee: "We get a lot of mail from people like that — jail mail. It takes me about a week to get up enough courage to read it because a lot of it is so sad."

One student wanted to know if Skolnick assumed that all judges and their decisions were corrupt.

"How would you like to spend 10 years in prison because of a frame-up and then find out the judge who affirmed the decision was proven to be corrupt?" Skolnick answered.

Skolnick told students of his fight with judges on the Illinois Supreme Court in the summer of 1969. He and chief researcher for the committee, Harriet Sherman, accused four judges of corruption in office. Chief Justice Roy Solisburg, Jr. and Associate Justice Ray Klingbiel resigned several weeks after Skolnick made his case in court. Skolnick was charged with contempt during the scandal, but the prison sentence was later nullified.

Skolnick was a part-time instructor at Chicago's Columbia College and teacher's civic research.

Man Injured In Auto Accident

George J. Bielat Jr. of 881 S. Fletcher in Wheeling was treated and released from Holy Family Hospital Saturday for head lacerations after an accident in Wheeling.

Bielat, 25, did $1,000 damage to his car when he struck a telephone pole at the South Side of Huntz Road, 75 feet east of Wheeling Road.

Bielat will appear in Arlington Heights District Court June 18 on charges of improper lane usage.

He told police he apparently fell asleep while driving.

Historical Society Officers Elected

New officers for the Wheeling Historical Society will be installed at a banquet May 26 at the Union Hotel in Wheeling.

Elected last week to head the society were John Koeppen, president; Dorothy Forke, secretary; June Orlowski, curator; and Walter Diens, museum director.

Marshall Balling was elected to serve on the organization's board of directors. He will also serve as program chairman for the year and plan meeting programs and historical trips to Springfield and other cities.

Beginning in September the society will hold its meetings in the Community Church building in Chamber of Commerce Park on North Wolf Road instead of in the society museum.

Reservations for the 6:30 p.m. installation banquet may be made by calling Mrs. John Koeppen at 537-1928.

Drum, Bugle Competition

Wheeling Jaycees.

OTHER ACTIVITIES planned for the celebration include go-karting races and a model rocket exhibition, Mahnich said.

Each of the organizations participating in the celebration is seeking support from local residents.

Bryson said that the corps competition is already drawing ticket orders from as far away as Alabama, Pennsylvania, and New York.

The Volunteers are currently selling souvenir buttons to help purchase uniforms and equipment for the local unit. First Illinois Corps members are practicing twice a week and the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce has begun work on souvenir programs for the corps competitions.

A two day camp for local corps members will be held May 22 and 23, Bryson said.

There are still openings for area residents to join the 80 man corps which will include nationwide tours beginning next year.

Boys and girls ages 14 to 19 may join the corps by having their parents contact Bob Hoehn at 537-8678 or writing the corps at P.O. Box 333, Wheeling.

MEMBERS OF THE corps are eligible for competition until they reach the age of 21. Music experience is welcomed, but not essential. Uniforms, instruments, instruction, and travel are all furnished by the corps.

Bryson urged local residents to pick up reserved seat tickets for the corps competition as soon as possible before reserved seats are sold out.

Tickets and booster buttons are on sale locally from Chuck Mihalek, CMI Studio Photography, 251 E. Dundee Rd., Don Russ, State Farm Insurance, 771 W. Dundee Rd., or by calling Bryson at 537-0728.

Local organizations interested in entering the parade, manning carnival booths or helping the Jaycees with parade, carnival, or fireworks plans were asked to call Frank Mahnich at 537-1189.

4 Injured In 3-Car Crash

Four area residents were treated and released from Northwest Community Hospital Sunday afternoon following a three-car accident in Wheeling.

Injured were Patricia Bieszczad, 24, and Debra Bieszczad, 3, of 344 Cherrywood Rd., Buffalo Grove, Mary K. O'Brien, 17, of 316 Landmeier, Elk Grove Village, and Donald E. Paluck, 18, of 744 Golfview Terr., Buffalo Grove.

The 3 p.m. accident occurred on the south side of Dundee Road in front of a drive-in restaurant at 43 W. Dundee Rd.

Police charged Donald Paluck with failure to yield the right of way from a private drive. He will appear in Arlington Heights District Court on June 1.

Damages in the accident were estimated at $700 to a car driven by Edward J. Bieszczad, 25, of 344 Cherrywood Rd., Buffalo Grove, $800 to Paluck's car, and $75 to a car driven by Fred E. Hede-mark, 29, of 876 Cedar, No. 203, Wheeling.

Shop Employees Strike; 150 Out Of Work Here

The Schmidt Iron Works, division of S-R Industries Corp., 1100 Wiley Rd., Schaumburg, is one of 28 Chicago area firms that have been shut down since 12:01 a.m. Saturday in a strike by shop employees.

The Shopman's Local No. 473 of the International Association of Bridge, Structural & Ornamental Iron Workers, is striking the Iron League of Chicago Area, a group of employers in the industry of which Schmidt is a member. Of the firms hit by the strike, 25 are in Chicago, and one each is in Franklin Park, Wheeling and Schaumburg. The Wheeling firm is International Iron Works.

Alvin W. Ruck, president of Schmidt, said yesterday he expected the strike would be over after a vote by union members at 10 a.m. today, and production would be resumed tonight or early tomorrow. "I feel sure it will be settled then," said Ruck.

THE STRIKE has kept 150 employees at Schmidt from their jobs, when they normally would have worked Saturday, yesterday and today. Of the Schmidt work force, 85 persons are in the local.

Ruck said he was not free to comment on specific points of negotiations, but did say the strike is "primarily a wage thing." The striking employees, who are welders, grinders and fitters, make an average salary of about $4 per hour under the old contract, not including fringe benefits, said Ruck. His firm fabricates and erects structural steel and miscellaneous iron, such as is used in office building construction, said Ruck.

Village President, Board Back Vote For Library Dist.

The referendum to expand the Wheeling Library District into Lake County was supported by the village president and village board of Buffalo Grove and two school superintendents.

The referendum, scheduled for May 22, would extend the library boundaries to take in 15 square miles of Lake County, directly north of the county line and west of the Des Plaines River.

It would bring public library services to communities in the area, including the Lake County section of Buffalo Grove, for the first time.

The Buffalo Grove Village Board has passed a resolution in favor of the expansion. Most of the Cook County section of the village is now in the Wheeling Library District, along with most of the village of Wheeling.

Buffalo Grove residents living in the district can use the library without charge. Lake County residents must pay a $30 a year charge, if they wish to use the library.

Commenting on the referendum, Buffalo Grove Village Pres. Gary Armstrong said, "It would be a very good thing for the village. As a result of the annexation, the balance of the village would be in the district. Perhaps we could get a library in Buffalo Grove on the Raupp Memorial site."

THE RAUPP Memorial is a tract of land set aside by the Raupp family for use as a museum, library or similar facility.

Currently, the library district has only one building. The library building, which opened last Saturday, is located at 850 Jenkins Ct. in Wheeling.

Kenneth Gill, superintendent of School Dist. 21, also supported the referendum.

"I'm in favor of it," Gill said. "It is an expansion into a contiguous area and they (library officials) seem to know how to make it work. I think that libraries should be used as extensively as possible. This would make the library services available to more people."

Michael DiVincenzo, superintendent of Aptakisic-Tripp School Dist. 102, said the referendum is a good idea, "if the people are willing to pay for it."

"It will give the kids in our area access to a public library that they didn't have. I'm sure if it is available, the kids will take advantage of it," DiVincenzo said.

Supt. William Hitzeman of School Dist. 98 said he would not take a position on the referendum at this time. He said that he had requested more information on the proposal from the library district.

The proposed new boundaries for the library district take in areas served by both Dist. 98 and Dist. 102. If the referendum is successful, the district will add the communities of Prairie View, Half Day, Horatio Gardens, Aptakisic, and parts of Long Grove and Buffalo Grove to its service area.

None of these areas is now served by a library district.

The referendum would not increase taxes for residents of the present library district — most of Wheeling and the Cook County section of Buffalo Grove — but it would affect the taxes of the expansion area.

Residents of the area would pay the current library tax rate of 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

"YOUR TEACHERS HAVE got to tell you where it's at," in Mount Prospect, Skolnick is chairman of the Citizens Sherman Skolnick told students at Prospect High School Committee to Clean Up the Courts.

Registration Hours For Voters Announced

Special registration hours for persons wishing to vote in the May 15 High School Dist. 214 referendum have been announced by Buffalo Grove Village Clerk Verna Clayton.

The referendum will seek voter approval of a $10.5 million high school to be built in Buffalo Grove.

Mrs. Clayton said her office will be open from 9 a.m. to noon on May 8, and May 15. Voters who register May 15 will be allowed to vote in the referendum later that day, she said.

The village clerk's office in the municipal building at 50 Raupp Blvd. will also be open for voter registration during regular business hours, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Plans Being Made For Nationwide Drum, Bugle Competition Here

Work has begun on a six-day-long celebration featuring a carnival, parade, and nationwide drum and bugle corps competition which will be held in Wheeling with main events planned over the Fourth of July weekend.

The activities being organized will include efforts by a variety of local organizations, but the weekend will primarily be sponsored by the First Illinois Drum and Bugle Corps and the Wheeling Jaycees.

Drum and bugle corps holding all the current titles in nationwide competition will compete in the evening on July 3 at the Wheeling High School stadium in the Midwest Parade of Champions.

Bob Bryson of the local First Illinois "Volunteers" explains that it is unusual for a competition to include all the current champion corps. The local corps, which is a year old, will host the competition between the champion corps from across the country.

The Volunteers themselves will not enter national field competition until 1972.

time national champions, the Santa Clara (California) Vanguard, 1970 American Legion National Champions; the Madison (Wisconsin) Scouts, 1970 U.S. Open Champions; the La Crosse (Wisconsin) Blue Stars, 1970 Minnesota State Champions; and the Des Plaines Vanguard, 1968 World Open Champions.

THE CHAMPION CORPS will also march on July 3 in what Wheeling Jaycees are promising will be the largest parade since the Diamond Jubilee.

The parade will follow a route from Jack London Junior High School along Dundee Road to Elmhurst Road and south on Elmhurst Road to Wheeling High School.

Other entrants in the parade will include scout organizations, the First Illinois "Volunteers," Ronald McDonald, and floats from the Pure Milk Association, the Illinois Tollway Commission, the Cook County Highway Department, Hillfarm Dairy, and the Cook County Forest Preserve.

Local organizations who have already promised parade entries include St. Joseph the Worker Catholic Church, the Wheeling Fire Department, and the Wheeling Historical Society, Parade

Marshall Frank Mahnich said.

Mahnich and deputy parade marshal Art Yunker have contacted all local organizations about joining the parade.

Other activities promised for the weekend include a carnival behind Wheeling High School from June 30 through July 5. Billed as larger than last year's carnival, the Jaycees have promised more rides this year.

In the evening on Sunday, July 4, the annual fireworks display will be held at the high school stadium, hosted by the

Opinions Please

Anti-War Protests Are Opposed

The current anti-war demonstrations in Washington were strongly opposed by residents of Buffalo Grove and Wheeling who were questioned yesterday by Opinions Please.

All questioned opposed demonstrations which involved civil disobedience or violations of the law. Even persons who opposed the Vietnam War found themselves unwilling to agree with tactics that included blocking building entrances and tying up auto traffic.

The strongest opposition to the demonstrations came from JOSEPH RUDNICK, 151 George, Wheeling. He said he has two sons serving in Vietnam.

About the demonstrations, Rudnick said, "I think it's crazy. What can the President do? He's going as fast as he can (on troop withdrawals), and it's not all on his shoulders. It's up to Congress, too."

About the protesters, he said, "I think they should all be put in uniform and sent over there. They could do their demonstrating over there."

Rather than speed up the end of the war, Rudnick said the demonstrations are "only going to make it worse" by causing division in the nation.

"I think they should lock them all up, that's what I think," said W. J. BRUBAKER, 343 Weidner Rd., Buffalo Grove.

"I wonder if they don't have anything better to do with their time. I don't see that protests of any kind do any good. If they tried to put as much energy into building up this country instead of tearing it down, it would be a much better place."

WILLIAM DAVIES, of 433 White Pine, Buffalo Grove, said that while he does not oppose peaceful protests against the war, he is opposed to "blocking traffic, using dope and the other things that are going on" in Washington.

"I'm not in favor of the war, but I'm against these protests," Davies said. "I don't think it's the American way. There is a right and a wrong way to do things and I think this is the wrong way."

Davies said the demonstrations which involve lawbreaking may actually hurt the demonstrators' cause and, he said, "They should put their energy into writing their congressmen. I think that would do more good."

MRS. ALBERT NEUMANN, 135 Chestnut, Wheeling, also said that while she could sympathize with the demonstrators' desire to end the war, she could not support their tactics.

"I don't like the demonstrations very much," Mrs. Neumann said. "I think the war should stop. I'm opposed to it; I'd go along with them there. But I don't think this is the right way to go about stopping the war."

Mrs. Neumann said that she would not oppose peaceful and lawful protests, just those that involve violations of the law.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against de facto neighborhood segregation. The court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns, Randolph W. Thrower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brush Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers of UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary Weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

The State

Illinois will need $60 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

The Weather

While a mass of cold air was reported to be moving into the Deep South, southerly winds were reported to be sending warm air north into the plains states and the Rockies.

Temperatures from around the nation:

Los Angeles	68	53
Miami Beach	89	65

The War

Profit taking, which has been gaining momentum in recent weeks, lowered the boom on the stock market. But turnover slowed considerably from last week's daily average of more than 20-million shares. The Dow Jones industrial average finished off at 9.34 at 932.41. Prices declined in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

PTA District Delegates Oppose Parochial Plan At Convention

Palatine-Rolling Meadows delegates to the PTA Dist. 37 convention in Chicago last week strongly supported a resolution reaffirming the PTA's opposition to parochial or other proposals to provide state funds to non-public schools.

"All 29 representatives of Dist. 15 at the convention were totally in agreement to oppose parochial," Mrs. Joan Meyer, president of the Northwest Suburban Council of PTA's, said. "This is one area where most PTA representatives seem to be in agreement across the board."

Previous PTA conventions have been devoted to stronger discussion and debate over the issues than last week's convention, Mrs. Meyer said. Because agreement on opposition was so strong, more consideration was given to a plan for action to implement their stand.

A proposal was presented and approved to send a telegram to Gov. Richard Ogilvie explaining the formal opposition of the PTA to state aid to non-public schools.

Delegates also agreed to travel to Springfield to lobby for the position when parochial proposals and bills come before the General Assembly for consideration. Mrs. Meyer said she plans to be part of a Springfield delegation this year and spoke against state aid to non-public schools last year before the Education Committee.

"We know it will be a fight," she said. "We're all kind of disillusioned with Gov. Ogilvie's $29 million budget proposal for private schools."

Several of the 29 Dist. 15 PTA representatives spoke out at the convention against parochial, Mrs. Meyer said. In reaffirming its opposition, PTA delegates said parochial, if approved, would be the beginning of a "never ending flow of public monies into a private school system over which the taxpayer has no control." The PTA stand contends that ultimately, parochial would cost the state more money to support a multiplicity of private schools than one public school system.

Rather than provide $29 million in state funds to private schools, PTA would prefer to see the money placed in a fund for the use of public schools that need financial aid because a private school has closed in the area.

Identi-Kit: Big Help To Local Police

by TOM ROBB

It's like a paint-by-number set for the less artistically inclined policeman.

But the goal is not a placid sailing scene or an autumn landscape. It is often a grim warrant for trouble, a portrait in simple black and white.

When he has finished putting the numbered drawings in their proper places, the policeman has before him the stern, cold looking "mug" of a wanted man.

Since the late 1950s, Palatine police have used the Identi-Kit to recreate faces — faces which might have been masked or faces viewed for only a split second by a victim or witness.

"Most towns can't afford to hire a police artist, so the Identi-Kit is the next best thing for the average town around here," said Lt. Raymond Radlein, one of several Palatine policemen trained in the use of Identi-Kit.

Rented for $140 yearly from Townsend Company in California, the device is often used in the arrest of criminal suspects, he said.

THE IDENTI-KIT comes in a small wooden box which contains many plastic sheets called foils, slightly larger than a three by five index card.

Each foil contains a different type or shape of eye, nose, eyebrow, hair style, ear, lips, beard, moustache, hat and even age lines. Virtually hundreds of various combinations, and therefore various faces, can be made from these components.

Speaking of one of the first times they used the Identi-Kit following a murder years ago, Radlein starts building with the hair style and then places the other foils — the eyes, then the lips and so forth — one on top of the other until a complete face is formed.

That's the easy part of the operation. The difficulty starts when police have to sit down with a victim or witness, who is usually in a distressed mental or emotional state, and get him to pick and choose from the many foils until the face they might have seen for only an instant is accurately recreated.

"We have to be careful," Radlein said. "We're trained in technique and learn how to gain as much from a witness without preying or suggesting so we don't plant any false impressions in their minds."

POLICE ALSO LEARN how to trap a phony witness by creating a completely fictitious face and asking the person if this is the man or woman they saw. If the answer is yes, they are in trouble.

"It's funny, but the first thing people remember about a face is the hairstyle, then the eyes and mouth or shape of a chin," Radlein said.

Hairstyles, incidentally, keep Townsend working overtime to supply police with foils that are in tune with the rapidly changing fashion scene.

And there are disadvantages to the Identi-Kit, Radlein said. An Identi-Kit composite is stark, unlikable and lacks the shadowing and fine touches a police artist can give to a suspect composite.

"And the lips — they're never smiling," Radlein said. "Most people remember a person with a smile or with their mouth partially opened."

"Not that most criminals approach you with a smile," he added.

BUT IN THE LONG run, the Identi-Kit is quite effective. Radlein recalled several cases which were solved with the assistance of the device.

Other departments in the area also have Identi-Kits and police can transmit what is called an Identi-Kit description, a series of coded numbers, via radio, teletype or mail.

Each type of chin, eye or ear, for example, has a specific code number. The description, therefore, is a series of these numbers which the receiving officer uses to rebuild a composite, which is then posted on the station bulletin board.

A description of general height, weight, body structure, coloration and other characteristics are also transmitted. These, along with the description of a car used in an armed robbery or some other crime can frequently lessen a suspect's chances of escape.

And once an Identi-Kit "mug" is tacked to the bulletin board, Radlein hopes his men will practice the preachings of their immortal predecessor, Sherlock Holmes, who told Watson: "I never forget a face."

LT. RAYMOND RADLEIN displays the completed "mug" of John Doe, who might be wanted in any town for any crime. Although the mechanical reproduction lacks the lifelike quality of an artist's rendering, the composite is frequently effective in criminal apprehension.

Kite Flying Contest Scheduled Saturday

Local youngsters are invited to fly a kite of their own creation Saturday in the Palatine Park District's Kite-Fly.

Beginning at 10 a.m. in Community Park, children 12-years old or younger can compete for prizes with their kite against other youngsters their own age.

Major prizes will be awarded to children with the best most original, largest and funniest kites. However, every child who builds an original, not from a kit, kite and flies it Saturday will receive at least a small prize.

Any local child may enter. There are no entrance fees and parents are invited to participate with their child in the Kite-Fly too.

THESE ARE FOILS. They are placed on top of each other in a sandwich style until the Identi-Kit composite is completed. There are hundreds of faces which can be made from many basic types of facial features police have to work with.

Sewer Work To Continue For A While

The clanging of pile drivers and the inconvenience of blocked driveways will probably continue to burden some Brockway Street residents for most of the summer, said a spokesman for the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) yesterday.

MSD crews are now in the process of installing a new intercepting sewer between Colfax and Northwest Highway along Brockway Street.

Currently the work is largely confined to that stretch of Brockway between Colfax and Richmond streets. George Ibsen, MSD project engineer, said informational pamphlets are now being circulated among Brockway Street residents to explain the project's purpose and duration.

He said a 30-inch sewer will be installed at a depth of 20 feet along Brockway. He did not, however, know how long it will take.

"It depends on soil conditions and many other factors, so it's very hard to say. We're trying to inconvenience the public as little as possible, but we realize that there will be some inconvenience in any project of this nature," Ibsen said.

He said sewers from homes along Brockway will tie into the intercepter, which will continue up to Northwest Highway, be routed west to Quentin Road and then about 400 feet north.

Installed in an effort to improve the sewer system and reduce flooding, the intercepter will eventually tie into a Salt Creek treatment plant in the next few years which is planned for an abandoned quarry site off of Rte. 53 and south of Higgins Road in Schaumburg.

Currently, the sewage is carried to the Howard Street Treatment Plant in Chicago, Ibsen said.

The Brockway and Colfax Street intersection is also the location of a planned sewer connection. In about two months, the MSD hopes to begin work on Hicks and Colfax and tunnel west to Brockway, installing a five-foot, nine-inch intercepter.

Recently, the MSD completed the installation of the Hicks Road intercepter up to Dundee Road, he added.

Although Ibsen could give no timetable for the Brockway Street Construction, he did say it is the MSD's policy not to do more than two blocks of street at a time.

Man Injured In Car Crash

A 35-year-old man escaped serious injury Saturday morning when his car broke through construction barricades at Hicks and Baldwin roads and plunged to the bottom of a 20-foot deep sewer caisson.

Leonard J. Ostrowski, of 9070 Archer Ave., Willow Springs, was treated and released with minor injuries at Northwest Community Hospital after the accident, which occurred at 4 a.m.

He was heading south on Hicks Road when his car jumped the median, knocked down a curb sign and reflective barricades and fell upside down to the bottom of the hole, which is the site of Metropolitan Sanitary District sewer construction.

Palatine police officer Dennis Languth, who was on patrol at the Palatine plaza, heard an explosion and observed a cloud of dust. He summoned the fire department and officials from Kenny Construction company in order to remove Ostrowski's vehicle from the pit.

ASSISTANT FIRE Chief Barney Langer said firemen climbed into the hole with a ladder in order to free Ostrowski and raise him with ropes and a stretcher basket. "By the time our men got down there, he was holding his own chin up with his hand to keep from drowning," Langer said, adding that there was four to five feet of water in the hole.

After Ostrowski was rescued, a crane from Kenny Construction Co. was used to lift Ostrowski's 1963 Chevrolet from the excavation site.

Police ticketed Ostrowski for driving too fast for conditions in the 25 miles per hour zone. He is scheduled to appear in the Arlington Heights branch of the Cook County Circuit Court on May 20.

Away From Home

This is a summary of the week's news in Palatine.

A MUSIC FESTIVAL planned for Deer Grove Forest Preserve northwest of Palatine Sunday was called off by its promoters. The promoters were unable to get a permit for the "May Fest" from the Cook County Forest Preserve District and they said they would only be inviting trouble with authorities by staging the rock fest. However, the promoters said they would hold a picnic in the Grove for about 300 people.

MRS. GLEN-ANN JICHA, a Palatine Township Republican committeewoman since 1962, was removed from the position by GOP Committeeman Bernard E. Pedersen. She was replaced by Mrs.

Mary Bals, wife of township auditor Carl Bals. However, while Pedersen told the press Mrs. Jicha was retiring, Mrs. Jicha said she had been asked to resign, but was fired when she refused.

THE VICTORS IN the April 20 Village Board elections, Merwin Soper, Clay Brown and Fred Zajonc, were sworn into office. All will serve four-year terms.

NO INCREASE IN the village tax levy was expected when the Palatine Village Board approved a $1.6 million budget for the 1971-72 fiscal year. Despite an increase of $250,000 over the previous year, Village Mgr. Berton Braun said projected increases in state returns for sales and income taxes will keep the village tax levy at .40 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

A RAMP OVERPASS will be built over Dundee Road by the Illinois Division of Highways for the Palatine Park District. When completed, the overpass will provide people using the proposed park district bicycle trail with a means of crossing the road without going out into traffic. The overpass is expected to be built by 1976 while the bike trail will be constructed around 1973.

PALATINE POLICE suspect arson in a fire which caused $1,000 worth of damage to an uninhabited home under construction in the Reseda West subdivision. The fire caused considerable interior and exterior damage to the house.

CHARLES PINKAS was freed by Palatine Police and turned over to Cicero police on an alleged narcotics violation after he posted $2,500 bond in the Arlington Heights branch of Cook County Circuit Court. Pinkas, a 29-year-old resident of Rolling Meadows, had been arrested in Palatine for allegedly attempting to purchase drugs through deceit and possession of stolen property.

NICHOLS ROAD WAS finally cleaned up and the Palatine Township Highway Department said it would try to keep the area from becoming a trash dump again. Until township workers hauled the junk away a month ago, the road area in north Palatine Township was covered with old mattresses, carpeting, septic tanks and other garbage. Township workers will now inspect the area at regular intervals to make sure the road stays clean.

Camera And Jewelry Stolen In Burglary

A Palatine couple returned home from an evening out this weekend to find that nearly $200 worth of jewelry and other items had been stolen from their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Griffin, of 638 S. Williams, told police they discovered the theft upon returning to their home around midnight Saturday.

Police found a glass window in the Griffin's back door had been broken and said they are still investigating.

A $55 polaroid camera, a $50 woman's ring and about $75 worth of costume jewelry were reported missing.

'Week Of Young Child' Starts May 16

Local day care centers, nurseries and pre-schools will observe the "Week of the Young Child" from May 16 to 23 through a variety of activities for pre-school age children.

The special week, devoted to emphasizing the needs of young children growing up in a troubled society, will use the slogan "Give Kids a Chance" as its theme. Sponsored by the Chicago Association for the Education of Young Children, the week will be observed throughout Chicago and its suburban area.

Palatine Village Pres John Moodie has signed a local resolution of the village board proclaiming the "Week of the Young Child." Mayor Richard Daley did the same for the City of Chicago.

Activities scheduled for the week will provide for dialogue between parents, teachers and children and will emphasize the need for adult sensitivity to the instincts and normal drives of young children.

Open house sessions will be held at several local church pre-schools and nurseries during the week. Bethel, Lutheran Nursery School, 2150 W. Frontage Rd., will hold an open house and art show from 3 to 4:30 p.m. May 16. First Baptist Church Nursery School, 1023 E. Palatine Rd., will sponsor its open house from 1:30 to 3 p.m. May 20.

ANOTHER OPEN HOUSE and art show will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. May 16 at the Flower Garden Nursery School, 572 W. Helen Rd., Palatine and an open house at Palatine Nursery School and Day Care Center, 319 E. Wilmette, will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. May 16.

A special "Tots on the Town" program planned for the youngsters will involve a number of local businesses and organizations. Children will be provided with tours of the businesses, although in most

Skolnick: A Crusader For Cleaner Courts

by KAREN RUGEN

"There are so many corrupt judges, we'll never get out of business," said Sherman Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts.

Skolnick spoke Friday to about 2,500 students at Prospect High School in Mount Prospect, Law Day, observed Saturday, is held nationally each year to honor law and order and those who make and enforce the law.

"I look upon Law Day with mixed feelings," Skolnick said. "On one hand, I respect the law. On the other hand, I think there has to be confidence in the instruments of justice. But those who make it should deserve our confidence."

Skolnick, 41, told his audience about his committee, a not-for-profit group devoted to research into court malpractices, court corruption and collusion in court. Skolnick heads a team of 200 volunteer researchers.

"WE'RE NON-PARTISAN — we blast both sides," the speaker explained. "Our bag is judges. The women volunteers find it more interesting than the PTA."

Skolnick said the group, which attempts to dislodge corrupt judges by bringing court cases against them, picked the committee's name because it was simple. He said: "Over the past 10 years we have found out we have some illiterate judges. We wanted to give them a name they could spell."

The crusader, who describes himself "as not a lawyer and I have no desire to be a lawyer," told students about his committee. The work of the committee includes court watching, studying public records for conflict of interest, study of judicial perjury and bribery and falsification of court records.

"FIRST YOU SIGN a petition which can be filed by any citizen as a friend of the court," Skolnick said. "That's what I do — although not many people in the court would call me their friend."

"But I don't point my finger in front of a judge's face until we have what we call 'over-kill,' 20 times the amount of evidence necessary to ruin him," he said.

"You may wonder why I joke so much," Skolnick told students who laughed and applauded throughout the 45-minute speech. "Some of the things our committee is involved in are so deadly serious we have to joke to keep from getting uptight."

After a short introduction, students had the chance to ask Skolnick questions. One male student wanted to know how students can help get corrupt politicians out of office.

"I URGE STUDENTS, especially those in sociology and political science, to demand their teachers tell them more of what goes in the world," answered the speaker. "And they should turn some of the school buildings over to the poor people and hold classes in the park."

Another student wanted to know what he could do "if one of us got busted and the charges were not true."

Skolnick told him he could write to the committee: "We get a lot of mail from people like that — jail mail. It takes me about a week to get up enough courage to read it because a lot of it is so sad."

One student wanted to know if Skolnick assumed that all judges and their decisions were corrupt.

"How would you like to spend 10 years in prison because of a frame-up and then find out the judge who affirmed the decision was proven to be corrupt?" Skolnick answered.

Skolnick told students of his fight with judges on the Illinois Supreme Court in the summer of 1969. He and chief researcher for the committee, Harriet Sherman, accused four judges of corrup-

Garden Club Sets Spring Plant Sale

Geraniums, miniature roses, day lilies, gladioli bulbs and other types of annual and perennial flowering plants will be sold this weekend at the Inverness Garden Club's annual spring plant sale.

To be held in the Inverness Community House on Highland Road, the sale will also feature the handmade craft of the Hang-It-All Boutique of Palatine.

The sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday.

Profits from the sale of the flowers and the wood craft will be used for community beautification projects.

"YOUR TEACHERS HAVE got to tell you where it's at," in Mount Prospect. Skolnick is chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts.

Senate Unit Rules On Movie Bill

Palatine citizens were among residents of Illinois thanked by State Sen. Robert W. Mitchler R. Oswego for helping a bill that would ban "X" and "R" rated movies from outdoor theaters pass the Illinois Senate Executive Committee yesterday.

The bill passed the committee hearing by a vote of 18 to 1 and will now go to the State Senate for approval.

Among the Palatine residents singled out by Mitchler as helping the bill was Mrs. Nancy Haines, who started a petition campaign last February to prevent the showing of "allegedly obscene movies" at the 53 Outdoor Theatre, north of Palatine. On Saturday, Mrs. Haines presented her petitions with 3,000 signatures to Sen. Howard Mohr, R-Forest Park. Saturday and explained the 53 Outdoor situation to Mohr.

Her petitions and explanations were presented by Mohr at the committee hearing. Mrs. Haines was invited to present her petitions in person, but she wasn't able to visit Springfield Monday.

Mrs. Haines said she could have had more than 3,000 signatures, but that many of the people with petitions had not returned them to her before Saturday. In her campaign, she received support from local housewives, church groups and the Knights of Columbus.

Mitchler's bill was against "X" and "R" rated movies at outdoor theaters because those under 16-years-old can easily gain admittance to the theaters. Palatine citizens opposed "X" rated movies at the 53 Outdoor because they could be viewed by young people from nearby roads.

Probe Burglary

Rolling Meadows police are investigating a reported burglary to an apartment at 3681 Kenilworth Friday.

Miss Joanne Johansen returned to her apartment at 10:30 a.m. to find five rings and a brooch missing. The jewelry was valued at $127.

Camp Fire Girl Officers Named

Officers for the 1971-1972 school year have been elected by the Palatine Camp Fire Girls Leaders Association.

Serving in executive positions next year will be Mrs. Michael Swanson, chairman; Mrs. Charles Burke, vice chairman; and Mrs. Charles Adams, secretary. None of them have ever held a high post with the association before.

All will assume office on June 1. Their first duties will be to select people to serve as leaders of various association committees.

Association members live in Palatine, Barrington and Lake Zurich.

Palatine High Band Seeks Church Bells

The Palatine High School Band is looking for four church bells to use during its spring concert.

According to band director Thomas Trimborn, the bells will be used to accent the performance of several selections from the Broadway play "1776."

"Although the arrangement of the selections we will play do not call for the use of bells, I have listened to the '1776' cast album and they used church bells," he said. "If the band uses the bells, it will enhance the music."

Trimborn said he got the idea for the church bells from a youth band he played with once. When performing the "Overture of 1812," the band's percussionists rang several church bells throughout the final minutes of the concert.

Now, he hopes to gain the same effect with the Palatine band for "1776."

Trimborn said the first feeler for church bells was released last week and the band already has an offer to use a medium-sized church bell. However, the band wants four full-sized bells.

PRESENTLY, THE band is looking for a church bell manufacturer in northern Illinois to purchase some bells. It has also considered tracking down the bells used in the old Immanuel Lutheran Church of Palatine, which was torn down last November.

Palatine's spring concert will be held on May 27 at 8 p.m. in Cutting Hall. The concert will feature six solo selections by the band and eight selections by the A

Capella choir.

In the finale, the band and the choir will combine in the performance of one selection.

Fremd Teacher Lauded

Fremd High School English instructor Mrs. Marilyn McCarty has received a letter of commendation from Western Illinois University (WIU), Macomb, for being a good teacher.

Written by Dr. Alfred L. Lindsey, director of freshman composition at WIU, the letter congratulates her for contributing to the education of Deborah A. Ellis. Miss Ellis was recently awarded advanced placement at WIU and said Mrs. McCarty contributed the most to her proficiency.

"I was very surprised and flattered," said Mrs. McCarty on receiving the commendation.

"I don't think I deserved all the credit for Miss Ellis' success. She was a very conscientious student."

MRS. McCARTY HAS been teaching at Fremd for the past three years. For the past year and a half, she has been instructing senior English classes. Miss Ellis was her student for only one semester.

As a teacher she has no formulated theories. Her basic job in teaching, she said, is to help the student understand the criteria in the course.

Mrs. McCarty also believes in extensively commenting to a student about his work, pointing out what he did wrong and how he can improve. Hillesheim said by explaining to a student why he got a certain grade, Mrs. McCarty has improved communication between student and instructor in her classes.

Besides commending her, Lindsey asks Mrs. McCarty in the letter to visit him at WIU next time she is in the area so he can congratulate her personally.

PTA Delegates Rap Parochiaid At Convention

Palatine-Rolling Meadows delegates to the PTA Dist. 37 convention in Chicago last week strongly supported a resolution reaffirming the PTA's opposition to parochiaid or other proposals to provide state funds to non-public schools.

"All 29 representatives of Dist. 15 at the convention were totally in agreement to oppose parochiaid," Mrs. Joan Meyer, president of the Northwest Suburban Council of PTA's, said. "This is one area where most PTA representatives seem to be in agreement across the board."

Previous PTA conventions have been devoted to stronger discussion and debate over the issues than last week's convention, Mrs. Meyer said. Because agreement on opposition was so strong, more consideration was given to a plan for action to implement their stand.

A proposal was presented and approved to send a telegram to Gov. Richard Ogilvie explaining the formal opposition of the PTA to state aid to non-public schools.

Delegates also agreed to travel to Springfield to lobby for the position when parochiaid proposals and bills come before the General Assembly for consideration. Mrs. Meyer said she plans to be part of a Springfield delegation this year and spoke against state aid to non-public schools last year before the Education Committee.

"We know it will be a fight," she said. "We're all kind of disillusioned with Gov. Ogilvie's $29 million budget proposal for private schools."

Several of the 29 Dist. 15 PTA representatives spoke out at the convention against parochiaid, Mrs. Meyer said.

In reaffirming its opposition, PTA delegates said parochiaid if approved, would be the beginning of a "never ending flow of public monies into a private school system over which the taxpayer has no control." The PTA stand contends that ultimately, parochiaid would cost the state more money to support a multiplicity of private schools than one public school system.

Rather than provide $29 million in state funds to private schools, PTA would prefer to see the money placed in a fund for the use of public schools that need financial aid because a private school has closed in the area.

FIRE SCARS ARE STILL present at the Three Fountains apartment building destroyed by fire a year ago today. The building will be equipped with elaborate fire detection equipment and fire safety features. Renovation of the apartment building is under way.

3 Fountains Blaze--Year Ago Today

The most serious fire in Rolling Meadows history hit the Three Fountains apartment complex a year ago today.

More than 100 residents were left homeless, many of them found all personal belongings destroyed in the fire which spread through the three-story structure.

For former tenants of the apartment building, the 1st anniversary marks a disastrous memory. City officials too said Fire Chief Thomas Fogarty. Today Three Fountains apartments are equipped with fire walls in each unit, automatic alarms and sprinkler systems and a stand pipe for fire fighting within must lament on building codes which allowed an apartment building without a sprinkler system or fire alarm, fire walls not constructed to the roof and less than the number of fire doors recommended by the fire chief.

But last year's Three Fountains blaze accelerated a city fire safety program now considered one of the most stringent in the area and stimulated the creation of a suburban fire aid pact which a year later has 16 member fire departments.

"Many of our fire and building code improvements stemmed from the fire," the building.

THE ROLLING MEADOWS City Council has adopted an ordinance requiring any future apartment buildings to be solid masonry construction.

Builders in the city are now faced with not only the Building Officials of America fire code (BOCA) but also specific material requirements in their structures.

The Rolling Meadows Fire Prevention District has acquired a snorkel and pumper to be used in commercial and apartment fires.

The aftermath of the Three Fountains fire proved the need for a system of area fire safety. The mutual aid plan was adopted which automatically sends certain equipment from surrounding fire departments to a location, once a general radio fire call goes out.

"The Three Fountains fire gave us the impetus to get something done," Fogarty said.

The first use of the mutual aid agreement took place in Rolling Meadows at the Meadow Trace apartment fire early this year. Only about half of the building was destroyed, observers crediting the response from the neighboring departments as the reason the building was not a total loss.

FORMER RESIDENTS of Three Fountains somehow must feel lucky that only their belongings were destroyed. Two residents were slightly injured in the blaze.

The fire-charred hull stands a year after the fire as a reminder to city officials, fire trustees and city residents.

Hibbard, Spenser and Bartlett, owners of the Three Fountains apartment building, have authorized renovation of the structure. Workers are installing interior walls and completion of the apartment is planned this fall.

Capping Ceremony Begins Baseball Season

Although cloudy skies forced them indoors, almost 2,000 boys, managers, parents and city officials gathered in the Sacred Heart of Mary High School gym Sunday to kick off the summer Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball season in their annual capping ceremony.

Almost all of the 630 boys registered to play in the league showed up with parents for the capping.

However rain canceled all but one pony league game. All games will be rescheduled Saturday.

Highlights of the capping ceremony were the presentations of plaques to two residents who have been active in Boys Baseball for many years. The Rolling Meadows Park District board last week officially adopted a resolution to name two of the park's ball fields after the two men, Gene McKenzie and Donald Klemp.

Park Board Pres. William Billings made the presentation to McKenzie and Klemp, giving them the personally inscribed plaques on behalf of the park district and Boys Baseball.

According to Robert Campbell, president of Boys Baseball, McKenzie has been involved in the league since 1963 as a coach, manager, and now primarily an umpire. He has been chief umpire for the league since 1968.

KLEMP HAS BEEN officially involved with Boys Baseball since 1965, although he worked with the boys for several years. He has served the league mainly as an umpire.

"The main thing about the two men is they have been so totally given to the activity of the boys," Campbell said of them. "They are always ready to put other things aside and work with the boys."

The lighted pony league field near the Sports Complex on Owl Drive was named after McKenzie while the field south of that was named after Klemp. McKenzie Field was the only field that saw action Sunday.

Members of the Carl Sandburg School band provided musical entertainment for the capping. Robert Hoese, principal of the new Rolling Meadows High School and the school football and baseball coaches were also present and addressed the gathering.

MAYOR ROLAND MEYER officially started the playing season by throwing out the first ball for the afternoon pony league game on McKenzie Field. Fire Chief Thomas Fogarty and Police Chief Lewis Case were also present for the activities.

Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball involves boys from 8 to 14 in instructional, minor, major, pony and colt leagues. The oldest boys on the colt teams travel to various fields in the Northwest suburban area for their games.

Batter up! It's that time of year again for Rolling Meadows Boys Baseball.

Family Is Seeking Poodle Information

A Rolling Meadows family is searching for a white poodle believed to have bitten a 9-year-old boy last week. It is not known if the dog has had rabies inoculations.

Mrs. Donald Metzger, 2208 Kirchhoff said her son was bitten by the dog in his backyard about 5 p.m. Wednesday. The boy already has started rabies treatments, but they can be stopped, if the dog is found, according to Mrs. Metzger.

Some neighbors said they saw a white poodle or an apricot male poodle with a brown collar in the vicinity. Mrs. Metzger said the dog also is believed to have had tags.

Anyone who might have information about the dog is asked to call Mrs. Metzger at 255-4269.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against defacto neighborhood segregation. The court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns, Randolph W. Thrower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brushy Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers off UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary Weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

The State

Illinois will need $80 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

The Weather

While a mass of cold air was reported to be moving into the Deep South, southerly winds were reported to be sending warm air north into the plains states and the Rockies.

Temperatures from around the nation:

	High	Low
Atlanta	74	42
Houston	86	63
Los Angeles	68	53
Miami Beach	89	65
Minneapolis	59	32
New York	60	50
Phoenix	95	59
Seattle	71	51

The Market

Profit taking, which has been gaining momentum in recent weeks, lowered the boom on the stock market. But turnover slowed considerably from last week's daily average of more than 20-million shares. The Dow Jones industrial average finished off at 9.34 at 932.41. Prices declined in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Keeping Up

This is a wrap-up of last week's news in Rolling Meadows.

A 29-YEAR-OLD ROLLING MEADOWS man was arrested in Palatine last week on charges of attempting to acquire stolen property. Palatine police uncovered enough stolen property to summon at least five neighboring police departments wanting to question Charles Pinkas, of 5300 Carriage Way.

STANDS AT THE ROLLING MEADOWS Sports Complex were filled last weekend for each of the Ice Carnival shows sponsored by the park district. Between 200 and 300 persons attended each of the shows.

ROLLING MEADOWS began proceedings last week to file a suit in Cook County Circuit Court against Kassuba Development Co., owners of the Meadow Trace apartment building destroyed by fire more than three months ago, to demolish the remains of the building. City officials termed the fire-gutted structure "a health and safety hazard" and have sent three notices to Kassuba to demolish the remains.

PHASE I OF THE Plum Grove Village Shopping Center on Plum Grove Road in Rolling Meadows will be completed July 1 and five tenants have been contracted to open businesses. A laundry, dry cleaners, White Hen grocery store, a drug store and beauty shop will be located in the structure.

NO AGREEMENT WAS REACHED between teachers and school board representatives of Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 last week in the third negotiation session over 1971-1972 teacher contracts. Although progress is being made, no tentative proposal for contracts is ready to be presented to teachers and board members for formal approval.

THE ROLLING MEADOWS City Council last week approved a $2.5 million budget for the 1971-1972 fiscal year, an increase of more than $400,000 from last year's budget. The new budget reflects no tax increase for city residents and will allow the corporate portion of the city real estate tax to be abolished in September.

MORE THAN 65 SITES in or near five Northwest suburban communities may be under consideration by the Chicago Housing Authority for construction of low income housing. However, information obtained by the Herald indicates that no sites are planned for Palatine Township.

SCHEDULE CHANGES THAT WOULD allow additional hours for public skating during the summer ice program at the Rolling Meadows Sports Complex were approved by the park district board last week. Although petitions had been circulated recently in the Waverly Park area demanding the public skating hours be extended, the petitions were not formally presented to the park board.

PROMOTERS OF A PLANNED spring music festival in Deer Grove Forest Preserve were forced to call the affair off because they were unable to obtain a license for the fest Sunday.

Skolnick: A Crusader For Cleaner Courts

by KAREN RUGEN

"There are so many corrupt judges, we'll never go out of business," said Sherman Skolnick, chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts.

One student wanted to know if Skolnick assumed that all judges and their decisions were corrupt.

"How would you like to spend 10 years in prison because of a frame-up and then find out the judge who affirmed the decision was proven to be corrupt?" Skolnick answered.

Skolnick told students of his fight with judges on the Illinois Supreme Court in the summer of 1969. He and chief researcher for the committee, Harriet Sherman, accused four judges of corrup-

Garden Club Sets Spring Plant Sale

Geraniums, miniature roses, day lilies, gladioli bulbs and other types of annual and perennial flowering plants will be sold this weekend at the Inverness Garden Club's annual spring plant sale.

To be held in the Inverness Community House on Highland Road, the sale will also feature the handmade craft of the Hang-It-All Boutique of Palatine.

The sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday.

Profits from the sale of the flowers and the wood craft will be used for community beautification projects.

"YOUR TEACHERS HAVE got to tell you where it's at," in Mount Prospect, Skolnick is chairman of the Citizens' Committee to Clean Up the Courts. Sherman Skolnick told students at Prospect High School.

Senate Unit Rules On Movie Bill

Palatine citizens were among residents of Illinois thanked by State Sen. Robert W. Mitchler R., Oswego for helping a bill that would ban "X" and "R" rated movies from outdoor theaters pass the Illinois Senate Executive Committee yesterday.

The bill passed the committee hearing by a vote of 18 to 1 and will now go to the State Senate for approval.

Among the Palatine residents singled out by Mitchler as helping the bill was Mrs. Nancy Haines, who started a petition campaign last February to prevent the showing of "allegedly obscene movies" at the 53 Outdoor Theatre, north of Palatine. On Saturday, Mrs. Haines presented her petitions with 3,000 signatures to Sen. Howard Mohr, R-Forest Park, Saturday and explained the 53 Outdoor situation to Mohr.

Her petitions and explanations were presented by Mohr at the committee hearing. Mrs. Haines was invited to present her petitions in person, but she wasn't able to visit Springfield Monday.

Mrs. Haines said she could have had more than 3,000 signatures, but that many of the people with petitions had not returned them to her before Saturday. In her campaign, she received support from local housewives, church groups and the Knights of Columbus.

Mitchler's bill was against "X" and "R" rated movies at outdoor theaters because those under 16-years-old can easily gain admittance to the theaters. Palatine citizens opposed "X" rated movies at the 53 Outdoor because they could be viewed by young people from nearby roads.

Probe Burglary

Rolling Meadows police are investigating a reported burglary to an apartment at 3681 Kenilworth Friday.

in office. Chief Justice Roy Solisburg, Jr. and Associate Justice Ray Klingbiel resigned several weeks after Skolnick made his case in court. Skolnick was charged with contempt during the scandal, but the prison sentence was later nullified.

Skolnick was a part-time instructor at Chicago's Columbia College and teacher's civic research.

Camp Fire Girl Officers Named

Officers for the 1971-1972 school year have been elected by the Palatine Camp Fire Girls Leaders Association.

Serving in executive positions next year will be Mrs. Michael Swanson, chairman; Mrs. Charles Burke, vice chairman; and Mrs. Charles Adams, secretary. None of them have ever held a high post with the association before.

All will assume office on June 1. Their first duties will be to select people to serve as leaders of various association committees.

Association members live in Palatine, Barrington and Lake Zurich.

Palatine High Band Seeks Church Bells

The Palatine High School Band is looking for four church bells to use during its spring concert.

According to band director Thomas Trimborn, the bells will be used to accent the performance of several selections from the Broadway play "1776."

"Although the arrangement of the selections we will play do not call for the use of bells, I have listened to the '1776' cast album and they used church bells," he said. "If the band uses the bells, it will enhance the music."

Trimborn said he got the idea for the church bells from a youth band he played with once. When performing the "Overture of 1812," the band's percussionists rang several church bells throughout the final minutes of the concert.

Now, he hopes to gain the same effect with the Palatine band for "1776."

Trimborn said the first feeble for church bells was released last week and the band already has an offer to use a medium-sized church bell. However, the band wants four full-sized bells.

PRESENTLY, THE band is looking for a church bell manufacturer in northern Illinois to purchase some bells. It has also considered tracking down the bells used in the old Immanuel Lutheran Church of Palatine, which was torn down last November.

Palatine's spring concert will be held on May 27 at 8 p.m. in Cutting Hall. The concert will feature six solo selections by the band and eight selections by the A

Capella choir.

In the finale, the band and the choir will combine in the performance of one selection.

Fremd Teacher Lauded

Fremd High School English instructor Mrs. Marilyn McCarty has received a letter of commendation from Western Illinois University (WIU), Macomb, for being a good teacher.

Written by Dr. Alfred L. Lindsey, director of freshman composition at WIU, the letter congratulates her for contributing to the education of Deborah A. Ellis. Miss Ellis was recently awarded advanced placement at WIU and said Mrs. McCarty contributed the most to her proficiency.

"I was very surprised and flattered," said Mrs. McCarty on receiving the commendation.

"I don't think I deserved all the credit for Miss Ellis' success. She was a very conscientious student."

According to Thomas Hillesheim, assistant principal at Fremd, this was the first time one of the school's teachers has been honored in this fashion.

MRS. McCARTY HAS been teaching at Fremd for the past three years. For the past year and a half, she has been instructing senior English classes. Miss Ellis was her student for only one semester.

As a teacher she has no formulated theories. Her basic job in teaching, she said, is to help the student understand the criteria in the course.

Mrs. McCarty also believes in extensively commenting to a student about his work, pointing out what he did wrong and how he can improve. Hillesheim said by explaining to a student why he got a certain grade, Mrs. McCarty has improved communication between student and instructor in her classes.

Besides commending her, Lindsey asks Mrs. McCarty in the letter to visit him at WIU next time she is in the area so he can congratulate her personally.

No Objections Are Filed On Heights Annexation Issue

No objections have been filed with the Cook County Circuit Court to a petition asking Mount Prospect to annex part of Prospect Heights and unincorporated Mount Prospect. The deadline for filing objections passed last week.

The court will review the petition in a hearing tomorrow. State statutes require that all objections be filed with the court at least five days before the hearing. In some cases, an objection will be heard after the deadline if that objection claims the petition is in some way fraudulent.

Vandals Bug Sewer Work

Acts of vandalism are plaguing the contractors working on the installation of new sewers in Prospect Heights.

The vandalism has cost contractors thousands of dollars according to Richard Schulz, superintendent of the Prospect Heights Old Town Sanitary District (OTSD).

"The contractors are having such a problem they will prosecute anyone they catch," said Schulz. Currently new OTSD and Metropolitan Sanitary District sewers are being installed in Prospect Heights.

Schulz said it has been going on "almost constantly for the last two years. Basically it goes on wherever the construction is going on," he said.

Currently contractors have several dozen pieces of construction equipment in the Prospect Heights area in connection with the sewer construction. "Vandals have been breaking vehicle windows and ripping out wiring from the equipment," according to Schulz.

He estimated the vandalism has resulted in thousands of dollars in losses. "The other day someone burned $400 worth of plastic pipe. Vandals have also thrown barricades in holes and turned off pumps that keep sites dry."

Thefts From Parked Cars Continue

Stereo and camera equipment valued at more than $650 was reportedly stolen last week in two separate incidents from cars parked in Mount Prospect.

Edward Altman, of 270 Berkshire Ln., Mount Prospect, told police a stereo tape deck and camera equipment, valued at about $633, were stolen from his car while it was parked in the lot at the Charles Bruning Co., 1800 W. Central Rd.

Police said burglars used a coat hanger to pry open a window on the driver's side of the car.

A portable radio, valued at about $50, was reported stolen from an auto owned by Norman Koshkarian of Barrington. Koshkarian told police his car was parked at the Mount Prospect Shopping Plaza, Rand and Central roads, at the time of the theft.

Police said burglars also gained entry to Koshkarian's car by prying open a vent window.

The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in room 1703 of the Chicago Civic Center. Pat Link, the attorney for the annexation group, is optimistic the judge will approve an "order to the court for execution of our request. If any objections are made to the petition during the hearing, I will move that they be stricken. We have not been fraudulent in our filing of the petition."

THE ANNEXATION request will be turned over to the Mount Prospect Village Board if the court grants Link's motion. According to Mayor Robert Teichert, the board will probably conduct a feasibility study before voting on the request. The study will examine the cost of servicing the area and the expected revenue from the area.

The area proposed for annexation is known as "new town" Prospect Heights. Located northeast of the village, it includes about 8,000 people and about 1½ square miles.

About 90 per cent of the registered voters and property owners in the area signed the annexation petition, according to Pat Link.

Teichert and Link indicated earlier that the matter will be resolved no later than sometime this summer.

The six homeowners associations included in the area are Castle Heights, Rainbow Ridge, Woodview, Euclid Lake, Parkview and River Trails.

Plan Interim Zoning Unit

The plan committee of the Prospect Heights Improvement Association (PHIA) is taking steps to organize an interim zoning commission.

The commission will fill the gap between the time the Cook County Circuit Court approves a referendum on the proposed incorporation of the City of Prospect Heights and a permanent zoning board is formed, according to John Fedyski, head of the plan committee.

The plan committee is meeting with representatives of local civic organizations and taxing districts to assess the needs of the community in light of a proposal to incorporate the area. These meetings have not been open to the press.

"It will be foolhardy to have a period of time when there is no one in control of zoning of our community," said Fedyski. He was alerted to the problem after learning of the experiences of the City of Burbank, a community recently incorporated southwest of Chicago. He said the city encountered problems with building and zoning before it was able to set up its own zoning board.

Fedyski suggested that the interim commission might be able to sign an agreement with Cook County for temporary control until the city is operating.

Meanwhile the plan committee is discussing zoning ordinances and the open land remaining in the community. The zoning problem will continue to be discussed at future meetings of the plan committee.

THE MEDAL OF HONOR awarded to Michael Blanchfield of Wheeling was recently received by his mother Jeannette from President Nixon in a White House ceremony. Her son was killed in 1969 when he threw himself on a grenade and saved the lives of several soldiers and civilians.

'He Saved Lives, Didn't Take Them'

by PATRICK JOYCE

At 17, Michael Blanchfield left Wheeling High School to enlist in the Army. He had dreamed of being a paratrooper.

A year and a half later, Michael left Vietnam telling his family he planned to "win a lot of medals."

Ten days ago, President Nixon handed Michael's mother, Mrs. Jeannette Blanchfield, the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military decoration. The award came nearly two years after Michael's death at the age of 19.

On July 3, 1969, while on patrol in Binh Dinh province, Michael threw himself on an enemy grenade. He was killed. His action saved the lives of four other soldiers and several Vietnamese civilians.

ALTHOUGH THE AWARD has brought back painful memories of her son's death, Mrs. Blanchfield talked about her son in an interview in her home in Wheeling.

She remembers Mike as a friendly, outgoing boy who "didn't have an enemy in the world."

"He'd walk up to an old lady and compliment her on her hat, say how good she looked. He was that kind of boy."

Mrs. Blanchfield said her son had "a high IQ but you couldn't tell when he was in high school. It only showed up when he went into the army."

Mike loved being a paratrooper. He felt great pride in his outfit and when he left home for the last time, his mother remembers him talking about winning medals, even the Medal of Honor.

"I told him to win just one medal—the good conduct medal," Mrs. Blanchfield recalls.

She also remembers the night his plane was to leave for Vietnam and the two long distance phone calls from him that night. "He was scared then," Mrs. Blanchfield said.

"He had to run to catch his plane."

THINGS WENT BADLY for Mike from the beginning of his duty in Vietnam. He caught malaria; then he was bitten by a poisonous snake. In between, he saw enough combat to win the Bronze Star.

In his letters, Mike did not talk about the morality or wisdom of the war. But his mother said, "He believed in our being in Vietnam and he really liked the people in Vietnam."

His brother, Jim, also corresponded with Mike. "He wasn't what you would call patriotic but he had a lot of pride in his unit," Jim said. "He felt like he belonged to it. He felt good because he thought he was part of something good."

"Most of the time," Mrs. Blanchfield said, "he talked about his buddies getting killed and about digging in and going on patrol. But he felt confident about himself."

IT WAS WHILE ON patrol, just a few weeks after he was released from a hospital, that Mike earned his Medal of Honor.

While searching a village for Vietcong suspects, he saw a man run from a hut. Mike shouted at the man to stop, and when he didn't, the young soldier opened fire. The man threw a grenade. The explosion wounded Mike.

Then a second grenade was thrown and according to the Medal of Honor citation, Mike "threw himself on the grenade, absorbing the full and fatal impact of the explosion, and saving the lives of soldiers and civilians standing nearby."

Until Mrs. Blanchfield went to Washington to receive the award she had known only that Mike was killed by a grenade. Then she heard President Nixon praise her son for "extraordinary courage and gallantry" and heard, for the first time, the story of her son's death.

WHEN SHE MET THE President, Mrs. Blanchfield was amazed that "once he spoke to you, you felt right at ease, you lost your nervousness."

Mrs. Blanchfield talks at length about the kindness that was shown her and her four surviving children during their visit to Washington—kindness shown by the President, Congressmen, and the military escorts who took the family on tours of the city and the White House.

Still, the experience was "both good and bad," she said. "I think they kept you so busy doing things so that you wouldn't really have time to think about it."

'Correspondent' Newspaper Cited

The John Hersey High School newspaper, the "Correspondent," was awarded top honors recently in two contests.

The Northern Illinois Scholastic Press Association awarded the paper its highest honor, the "Golden Eagle" award. Six "blue ribbon" awards were also given to four staff members by the association. The winners are John Sienicki in the news story and editorial divisions; Jonathan Daniel, news story and editorial; Jim Martin, cartoon; and Brian Zimmer, sports story.

Earlier last month, the paper also received an "All-American" rating, the highest distinction awarded by the National Scholastic Press Association. This is the fifth consecutive semester that the paper earned the rating.

The rating is given annually to about 100 high school newspapers that earn "marks of distinction" in at least four of five areas. The "Correspondent" earned marks for coverage and content, editorial leadership, writing and editing, and the paper's appearance.

The rating was awarded for publication of the paper in the first semester of the 1970-71 school year. Richard Nelson was the advisor for the paper at that time. The current advisor, Robert Wilferd, attributed the win to the "success of the student editors. They work pretty hard on the paper," he said.

Couple Hunts Diamonds In The Dump

A Mount Prospect couple went "diamond hunting" in Wisconsin a few days ago.

And, in all places, yet a village dump!

Although the hunt was not planned in advance, it nevertheless proved to be a rousing success—for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wegenke, 206 S. Wa-Pella Ave. here and Robert's mother, Mrs. Fred Lambrecht of Neshkoro, Wis.

Four months ago, Mrs. Lambrecht lost her diamond engagement and wedding rings. Mrs. Lambrecht had put the rings into a glass of ammonia for cleaning but forgot about them until the next morning when she found the glass on the sink empty.

She thought the rings may have been caught in the strainer and carried to the dump, but when she arrived there, the trash was burning, and several hours' search in the cold and snow failed to turn up the rings.

A FEW DAYS AGO the Wegenkes came to visit. While Mrs. Lambrecht was at a Fond du Lac (Wis.) hospital visiting her husband, who suffered a heart attack several months ago, the Wegenkes went to the dump.

After sifting through ashes they saw a sparkle and discovered the rings, burned and chipped a bit but still intact.

The engagement ring was from her late husband, Allen Wegenke, when she was 16 years old. The wedding ring was from her present husband.

So, despite a four-month stay in the village dump, Mrs. Lambrecht's rings again look like "a million dollars" thanks to the amateur diamond-hunters from Mount Prospect!

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against de facto neighborhood segregation. The court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns, Randolph W. Thrower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brush Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers of UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary Weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana Oughton," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

The State

Illinois will need $80 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

The Weather

While a mass of cold air was reported to be moving into the Deep South, southerly winds were reported to be sending warm air north into the plains states and the Rockies.

Temperatures from around the nation:

	High	Low
Atlanta	74	42
Houston	86	63
Los Angeles	68	53
Miami Beach	89	65
Minneapolis	59	32
New York	60	50
Phoenix	95	59
Seattle	71	51

The War

Profit taking, which has been gaining momentum in recent weeks, lowered the boom on the stock market. But turnover slowed considerably from last week's daily average of more than 20-million shares. The Dow Jones industrial average finished off at 934 at 932.41. Prices declined in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

School Land Donation Bill Is Introduced

A bill requiring land developers to donate a school site or a cash contribution to a school district has been introduced in the Illinois General Assembly.

The proposed law, Senate Bill 658, would give villages and school districts an advantage in negotiations with developers for a school site or classroom space. Now a school district may ask for assistance from a developer but has no legal way of demanding it.

Dist. 21 Supt. Kenneth Gill said SB 658 would be "very helpful" to the district. "It would get rid of the idea that developers can't be forced to donate to the school district."

SCHOOL DIST. 23 officials have proposed a similar bill that is now being studied by Wendell Jones, of the county superintendent of education office. Supt. Edward Grodzky said, "the bill will probably be submitted to the legislature in the fall unless it proves to be unconstitutional."

Grodzky said SB 658 does not affect the bill he and Mel Lace, school board president, designed because the two proposals take different approaches to the same problem. The bill proposed by the Dist. 23 officials would give school districts a legal voice in zonings which affect school enrollment.

"WITH OUR BILL, we would have a say before the land is zoned, while with SB 658 we wouldn't have a say until after the land is zoned," said Grodzky.

Grodzky said he plans to discuss the possibility of a Dist. 23 official testifying before the legislature in behalf of SB 658, with Lace.

In the past, Dist. 23 school board members have complained that under the present situation, "school districts are required to face tax increases (resulting from higher enrollments) without any representation." They believe school districts should not be required to furnish facilities for an expanding enrollment without playing a part in determining the density of living units in a proposed development.

Committee To Study Parent Requests

Formation of a committee to study parent's requests for more facilities at Fairview School, 300 N. Fairview Ave., was approved last night by the Mount Prospect Dist. 57 school board.

The committee will look at the possibilities for enlarging the school's physical education facilities and then make recommendations to the board.

Board members Edith Freund and Leo Floros will work with representatives of the school on the study.

The board voted to form a committee after Ed Henrich, Fairview PTA member, asked that a study be made. Last month Henrich presented a proposal to the board asking for enlargement of the multi-purpose room currently used for physical education. The proposal also asked for the addition of a stage, a storage area for gym equipment, and a kitchen at the school.

However, the board took no official action on the proposal.

"After checking into the specific building comparisons, it is apparent that the facilities at Fairview fall far short of those at other Dist. 57 schools," Henrich told board members last night.

Henrich presented board members with a chart showing current physical educational facilities including gym area, storage space and stage, in the district's five other elementary schools. The chart, prepared by Henrich and Asst. Superintendent J. C. Busenhart, showed that Fairview's gym area (totalled 2,400 square feet as compared to an average of 4,200 square feet at the other schools).

"We feel it would be helpful to settle on an overall plan for the development of the Fairview school building before work on the resource center begins this summer," Henrich said. The board has already approved an addition to the center (library).

In June, a wall will be knocked out between the current facility and an available room to enlarge the center, according to Supt. Eric Sahlberg.

"We should come up with a rough estimate on the cost of enlargements before we start to knock out walls," said Mrs. Freund. "It would be ridiculous to spend money in one place if it is the wrong place to spend it."

Legislators Ponder Bill To Aid Schools

The Illinois General Assembly is considering a tax bill that could ease the financial problems expected in School Dist. 21 by the approval of the Whipple Tree Village trailer park in Wheeling.

The bill would redefine real property and would increase tax revenue from trailer parks.

School Dist. 21 officials had strongly opposed rezoning for the 452-unit trailer park on McHenry Road 10 months ago. Dist. 21 Supt. Kenneth Gill told village officials that under current Illinois laws mobile homes receive "preferential tax treatment."

GILL WAS REFERRING to existing laws which say that trailers not resting on whole or permanent foundations are personal property, not real property. The superintendent had cited an example of School Dist. 59 in Elk Grove Township where tax revenues from trailers paid only one fifth of the cost of education for children who lived in those trailers.

The abolishment of personal property taxes on individuals has cut even more possible taxes the school district might have received from the new mobile home park.

And while a contribution of $46,000 was promised to the school district by the developers, the funds could not begin to cover the continued cost of educating children from the development, Gill said.

The new bill is similar to those proposed in earlier legislative sessions which have met strong opposition from mobile home lobbies.

Wheeling trustees told the Herald, however that the bill has a much greater chance of passage in this legislative session, because of the abolishment of personal property taxes.

ONE TRUSTEE, bitter about the opposition the board met to the trailer park said the board had known all along that taxation for mobile homes was going to be approved soon.

The village board approved the trailer park based on an Illinois Supreme Court decision that a village cannot ban trailer parks completely as Wheeling had done.

The board approved the park zoning on the advice of the village attorney, but critics of the board had said the court decision was not applicable to Wheeling and had called for the village to fight mobile home parks in court.

Trustees said that mobile home lobbies, aware that the trailers will have to be taxed some way, may even favor the inclusion of trailers in the definition of real property.

THE LEGISLATION, House Bill, 1334, is currently in the committee on revenue.

The bill differs from the existing law in that trailers or mobile homes "which are or can be used for residential, business, commercial, or office purposes," are included as real property.

Tickets On Sale Now For 2 Plays

Tickets are now on sale for two plays to be performed this week at Forest View High School in Arlington Heights.

"A Thurbur Carnival," scenes from the works of author James Thurbur, will be staged tomorrow night at 7:30. "Poor Richard" written by Jean Kerr, will be performed at 7:30 Thursday and 8 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets are 50 cents for both productions and can be obtained at the door of the theater, 2021 S. Goebbert Rd., or by calling the school at 437-4600 for reservations.

Rehearse 'A Man For All Seasons'

Drama students at John Hersey High School are now rehearsing for the upcoming performance of "A Man For All Seasons" by Robert Bolt.

The play will be presented at 8 p.m. May 21 and 22 in the school's little theater. Tickets are being sold for $1.50 and are available by writing the school at 1900 East Thomas St., Arlington Heights.

According to Joan Sandberg, assistant drama director, "the play deals with Sir Thomas More and his struggle to maintain his convictions in the face of strong opposition from King Henry and the forces of the state."

The cast includes 14 students living in Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights and Mount Prospect. Keith Szarabjka is playing the lead role as Sir Thomas More.

Man Charged With Theft At Randhurst

A 30-year-old Chicago man was charged with theft Friday night following a foot chase through the mall and parking lot of Randhurst Shopping Center, Rand and Elmhurst roads, Mount Prospect.

Thomas Davis was charged with theft following a complaint signed against him by a security agent for Maurice L. Rothschild and Co. at Randhurst. Davis was apprehended in the parking lot by two store employees and Randhurst security police.

Davis was charged with the theft of a leather jacket valued at about $125. He was released on $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in the Mount Prospect branch of the Cook County Circuit Court May 13 on the charge.

Scouts To Collect Old Newspapers Here

Residents in northwest Mount Prospect can get rid of their old newspapers this weekend and help the Boy Scouts at the same time.

Boy Scouts in Mount Prospect Troop 21 will pick-up newspapers in the area bounded by Main Street, Kensington Road, Phelps Road and Northwest Highway. Residents should tie the papers in bundles and place them on the curb.

The newspapers will be turned in to be recycled, the proceeds going toward troop equipment and activities.

"The papers will be reused, thereby aiding conservation, reducing demands for papers and saving trees," said Paul Scott, a member of the troop.

School Assembly Eyes Pollution Answers

Pollution — and what to do about it — was the theme of an all-school assembly last Friday afternoon at River Trails Junior High School in Mount Prospect.

The 650 students attending the two-part assembly heard a representative from the Northwest Students for a Better Environment, a Northwestern University students group concerned with ecology, discuss pollution in the Chicago area. His talk dealing with both air and water pollution, was accompanied by a slide show.

The second part of the program involved a presentation on ecology by Roger Semyck, social studies teachers, and Nicholas Rodes, science coordinator for Dist. 26. The presentation carried the theme, "If we want to keep the world as it is, we had better get busy and do something," said James Acley, school principal.

Sunset Park PTA Slates Last Meet

The Sunset Park School PTA will hold its last general meeting of the year at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the school at 601 W. Lonquist Blvd.

At the meeting new officers will be installed. They are Mrs. Len Zack, president; Mrs. Ronald Busse Sr., first vice president; Mrs. Tom Uddenberg, second vice president; Mrs. Michael DiPrima, secretary; and Mrs. William McDermott, treasurer.

Also at the meeting, to be held in the school's multi-purpose room, the school's fifth and sixth grade chorus will perform.

Project Display Set

Art and science projects of students at Lions Park School in Mount Prospect will be on display tonight.

Students' art work will be displayed in the school halls, 300 E. Council Tr., and science projects will be shown and demonstrated in the school's multi-purpose room. The exhibit begins at 7:30 p.m.

Fire, Ambulance Calls

Man Dies From Auto Injuries

Edwin S. Engberg, 76, injured in an auto accident at Randhurst Shopping Center Friday, died at 2:10 a.m. yesterday at Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

Mount Prospect police reported that Mr. Engberg's car was westbound on Euclid Avenue when he attempted to turn left onto East Drive in the northeast corner of the shopping center, about 9:35 p.m. Friday.

Police said an eastbound car driven by Thomas L. Heimerle, 17, 18 Wildwood Dr., Prospect Heights, collided with the Engberg auto as it turned. Both cars were extensively damaged, police said.

Mr. Engberg was taken to the hospital by the Mount Prospect Fire Department ambulance. Police transported Heimerle by patrol car to the hospital, where he was treated and released.

Police issued Mr. Engberg a traffic ticket for failure to yield the right-of-way. An inquest into his death has been scheduled for 11 a.m. today at Lauterburg and Gehler Funeral Home, 2000 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

Funeral services will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home. Friends may call from 4 to 10 p.m. tomorrow at the funeral home.

Mr. Engberg is survived by his wife, Alice, a son, Robert of Jefferson, Wis.; a daughter, Mrs. John (Janet) Nielsen of Prospect Heights, and five grandchildren.

Fair Is Successful

More than 400 persons attended the fourth annual art fair held at the Church of the Master United Church of Christ, at Rand and Central roads in Des Plaines.

The fair was held April 24 and 25 and again on May 1 and 2. Almost 20 Chicago area artists exhibited their work at the fair, which was sponsored by the church.

A drawing was held, with the winner being allowed to choose one of the art works on display as his prize. Winners were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Candler of Mount Prospect. They chose a welded sculpture by the artist Joseph Burlini of Arlington Heights.

From The Library

by LAURIE ROSSI

For a while now, the Suburban Audio-Visual Service has provided the patrons of the Mount Prospect Public Library with their service of securing films for overnight use. The public should give our library at least three work days notice to obtain any needed film — a week's notice is preferred. Recently, many new films have been made available, in addition to the existing catalogue of films.

The nomadic Masai in East Africa's highlands are described in a 17-minute color film. Anyone who recently enjoyed one of America's newest dance groups, the Joffrey Ballet, will like their film showing excerpts from their repertoire and a capsule version of their everyday practice sessions. This is a 30-minute film.

Other films include titles on World War II concentration camps, crafts in India, a condensed version of Charlie Chaplin's "The Gold Rush," advertising, jazz, Dylan Thomas, 18th century rifle-making, the 1964 presidential conventions and campaigns, mentally retarded children, Asian art, urban renewal, and folk music.

SEVERAL NEW children's films were added last month also. In "The Ant and the Grasshopper" animated puppets point out a moral from one of Aesop's fables. "The Fire Stick" and "The Story of Taro" tell the stories of Hawaiian and Japanese children respectively.

One of the most unusual new films demonstrates film as the art form it can be. "Psychodelic Wet" is an 8 mm color film containing no narration, but very interesting sound track accompaniment. Here water and surfing scenes create unusual abstract visual patterns.

These films are just a few of our new programs and additions to programs here at the library. Come in any weekday 9 to 5, Saturday 9 to 5, or Sunday 2 to 5, and see for yourself.

Park Chiefs Observe Arbor Day

Wheeling Park Commissioners planted five new trees in Chamber of Commerce Park on North Wolf Road Friday evening in honor of Arbor Day.

The tree plantings were more than just a holiday observance, however.

The trees, three maples and two red oaks, are the first to be planted in a long range plan to turn Chamber of Commerce park into a garden of walkways, flowers, benches and shrubs.

Park Commissioners Lorraine Lark, Alf Wilson, Gene Sackett and Robert Ross were on hand Friday to plant the new trees in spots where they will fit in with the overall landscape plan.

Park Dist. Supt. Ferd Arndt said the district hopes to add something to the park each year until the landscaping is complete.

Arndt said this summer a system of curving walkways will be installed and a patch of red canna flowers will be planted.

Plans for the park, which already houses the district's outdoor swimming pool and the 106-year-old Community church building used for community meetings, call for a pond, a covered shelter with seats, and a rose garden.

The system of benches, grass, landscaping and walkways will eventually replace the existing ball diamond on the north side of the park.

Funds to develop the park were included in a 1969 referendum which allowed the park district to build the indoor Neptune's swimming pool at Wheeling High School and purchase the outdoor community pool from pool bondholders.

The District purchased Chamber of Commerce Park from the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce two years ago.

4 Injured In 3-Car Crash

Four area residents were treated and released from Northwest Community Hospital Sunday afternoon following a three-car accident in Wheeling.

Injured were Patricia Bieszczad, 24, and Debra Bieszczad, 3, of 344 Cherrywood Rd., Buffalo Grove, Mary K. O'Brien, 17, of 318 Landmeier, Elk Grove Village, and Donald E. Paluck, 18, of 744 Golfview Terr., Buffalo Grove.

The 3 p.m. accident occurred on the south side of Dundee Road in front of a drive-in restaurant at 43 W. Dundee Rd.

Police charged Donald Paluck with failure to yield the right of way from a private drive. He will appear in Arlington Heights District Court on June 1.

Damages in the accident were estimated at $700 to a car driven by Edward J. Bieszczad, 25, of 344 Cherrywood Rd., Buffalo Grove, $800 to Paluck's car, and $75 to a car driven by Fred E. Hede-mark, 29, of 876 Cedar, No. 203, Wheeling.

3 New Trustees Face Challenges: Present, Future

by GERRY DEZONNA
A News Analysis

Tonight three new trustees will assume their posts on the Mount Prospect Village Board.

George Anderson, Richard Monroe and Kenneth Scholten — who scored a decisive victory for the United Village Party in the April election — will take office tonight in brief ceremonies conducted by Village Clerk Donald Goodman.

For the new trustees, the village board meeting tonight will not be a working session. Aside from the brief swearing-in ceremony, Mayor Robert Teichert will issue his "State of the Village" message and assign the new trustees to posts on the board's six subcommittees.

The UVP slate, endorsed by Teichert, will replace incumbent board members Robert Soderman, John Kilroy and Lloyd Norris. Soderman and Kilroy did not seek reelection. Norris, who was appointed trustee in November of 1969, was defeated last month in his bid for a four-year term on the board.

FOR TEICHERT, the changing of the guard tonight will be politically significant. When Teichert took office in 1969, he inherited four new trustees who were his political rivals. Soderman and Trustees George Reiter, Daniel Ahern and Donald Furst — whose terms expire in 1973 — ran with Daniel Congreve under the banner of the United Economy Party.

Teichert, then an independent candidate, defeated Congreve, who was seeking his second term as village president. In winning the election, Teichert inherited a new board with an attitude of open animosity.

Tonight, the political climate will be different. Teichert will not be mending political fences, even though his new trustees had supported Congreve in the past.

Following his election, Teichert set out to patch up old political squabbles. Now, two years later, he thinks they've cultivated a mutual trust and cooperation in seeking solutions to village problems.

AHERN, FURST, KILROY and Soderman first proved they could put political differences aside in working with the new mayor. Reiter eventually followed suit, although sources say on occasion he politically harasses Teichert for old time's sake.

Teichert is happy with the work accomplished by the board in the last two years. He lost round one over the acquisition of Central School but bounced back by solving the controversy over West Park.

Other accomplishments include the acquisition of two private utility companies as well as settlements on Huntington Estates (the first planned unit development in the village). Old Orchard Country Club and Alter Realty Co. Bridges were built over Weller Creek and Special Assessment 70 was redesigned.

The first steps toward solving problems with flooding and traffic were credits of the old board. Additional personnel was hired and equipment was purchased in order to meet the growing needs of the community.

The most recent accomplishment is the 1971-72 village budget, which was unanimously approved last week. A finance committee of Soderman, Kilroy and Furst worked out the $4,012,700 budget in three months of negotiations.

ALTHOUGH THE OLD board has solved some significant problems within the last two years, there will be more than enough work for the new board. Appointment of a new village manager and the annexation of Prospect Heights will have top priority this summer.

Annexations of land south to the Northwest Tollway will also be considered in the village's quest for a commercial-industrial tax base. They will also be called upon to wrestle with area-wide problems such as mass transportation, traffic, flooding, zoning, cable television and low-income housing.

Implementing the home-rule provision of the new state constitution will challenge the board and test its resourcefulness in cooperating with other governmental units and communities in the Northwest suburban area.

When Anderson, Monroe and Scholten take office tonight, they will inherit the business left unfinished by the old board as well as the challenge, which was issued two years ago, to heed the distinction between politics and public office.

Monroe . . . . . Scholten . . . . . Anderson

No Objections Filed On Heights Annexation

No objections have been filed with the Cook County Circuit Court to a petition asking Mount Prospect to annex part of Prospect Heights and unincorporated Mount Prospect. The deadline for filing objections passed last week.

The court will review the petition in a hearing tomorrow. State statutes require that all objections be filed with the court at least five days before the hearing. In some cases, an objection will be heard after the deadline if that objection claims the petition is in some way fraudulent.

The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in room 1703 of the Chicago Civic Center.

Pat Link, the attorney for the annexation group, is optimistic the judge will approve an "order to the court for execution of our request. If any objections are made to the petition during the hearing, I will move that they be stricken. We have not been fraudulent in our filing of the petition."

THE ANNEXATION request will be turned over to the Mount Prospect Village Board if the court grants Link's motion. According to Mayor Robert Teichert, the board will probably conduct a feasibility study before voting on the request. The study will examine the cost of servicing the area and the expected revenue from the area.

The area proposed for annexation is known as "new town" Prospect Heights. Located northeast of the village, it includes about 8,000 people and about 1½ square miles.

About 80 per cent of the registered voters and property owners in the area signed the annexation petition, according to Pat Link.

Teichert and Link indicated earlier that the matter will be resolved no later than sometime this summer.

The six homeowners associations included in the area are Castle Heights, Rainbow Ridge, Woodview, Euclid Lake, Parkview and River Trails.

'Correspondent' Newspaper Cited

The John Hersey High School newspaper, the "Correspondent," was awarded top honors recently in two contests.

The Northern Illinois Scholastic Press Association awarded the paper its highest honor, the "Golden Eagle" award. Six "blue ribbon" awards were also given to four staff members by the association. The winners are John Sienicki in the news story and editorial divisions; Jonathan Daniel, news story and editorial; Jim Martin, cartoon; and Brian Zimmer, sports story.

Earlier last month, the paper also received an "All-American" rating, the highest distinction awarded by the National Scholastic Press Association. This is the fifth consecutive semester that the paper earned the rating.

The rating is given annually to about 100 high school newspapers that earn "marks of distinction" in at least four of five areas. The "Correspondent" earned marks for coverage and content, editorial leadership, writing and editing, and the paper's appearance.

The rating was awarded for publication of the paper in the first semester of the 1970-71 school year. Richard Nelson was the advisor for the paper at that time.

Anti-Storm Sewer Work Unit Forming

Opposition to Special Assessment 70, a storm sewer project in the Hatlen Heights area of Mount Prospect is apparently forming.

A. J. Amato Jr., a Hatlen Heights homeowner, told the Herald yesterday that the majority of residents in the subdivision is opposed to the construction of storm water sewers and the assessment.

About 380 homeowner of Hatlen Heights, a subdivision west of Busse Road and Lincoln Street, will probably be assessed about $1,100 per average lot for the construction of the sewer system.

According to Amato, the amount of the assessment is "totally unrealistic."

INSTALLATION OF the new sewer system near Lincoln Street, Meier and Busse roads is expected to alleviate flooding problems in Hatlen Heights and the immediate surrounding area. However, according to Amato, the system will not benefit residents.

"Residents, who at one time had problems with flooding, have installed sump pumps in their basements to remedy the problem. Our flooding problems have been solved now, so we don't need a sewer system — especially at this cost. Also, we have no assurance the new sewer system will be adequate once the surrounding area is developed," he explained.

Amato said Hatlen Heights residents who oppose the assessment will meet Saturday to discuss ways to defeat the project. The meeting will begin at 1 p.m. held at St. Cecilia Catholic Church, Golf and Meier roads.

"If we can't defeat the whole project, then at least we'll attempt to have the amount of the assessment reduced by the court. We think the village or someone should have seen that adequate sewage facilities were installed when adjacent properties were developed. The builders and developers should have paid the cost," he said.

According to Amato, Hatlen Heights is flooded with water run-off from Magnus Farm and Dana Point, both in Arlington Heights, and from an unincorporated parcel adjacent to the subdivision. "We think these property owners should pay some of the cost of installing the sewer system."

"WE'VE HEARD DANA POINT has contributed about $17,000 to the project, but this is a small contribution in relation to the cost of the project," he said.

Construction of the sewer system will cost about $633,922 with Hatlen Heights homeowners paying most of the cost. The village "will contribute about $157,000 as a public benefit."

Although the village board voted in December to levy a special assessment for the installation of storm water sewers, a court hearing will be held May 17 as a routine course of action. The hearing will be held in the Cook County Circuit Court, Chicago Civic Center.

Amato said residents will attend the hearing to file objections to the assessment. "Also, we're upset because we were led to believe that the assessment would be put to a vote of the residents. We've had no opportunity to vote on the issue."

Teacher Pact Talks Seen Through Summer

"I don't think we'll settle on a contract until right before school opens in September," David Metzler, negotiations chairman for the Mount Prospect Education Association (MPEA) said yesterday.

Metzler met with about 80 teachers at an MPEA meeting at Lions Park School to "keep them informed" about negotiations with the Dist. 57 board for a 1971-72 teacher contract.

"The board wants more this year than it is willing to give us in return," Metzler said.

Recently the board made its contract proposal that is substantially the same as the 1970-71 contract, including the same salary schedule. The board negotiating team has also proposed that the two sides negotiate a two-year contract with yearly salary adjustments and a no-strike clause.

The MPEA proposal, revealed in February, asks for a new salary schedule, more fringe benefits and the hiring of additional personnel.

"We must fight for what we believe. The only way is to unite as a staff and not think as individuals but as a group,"

Metzler said. "The board wants to give us less than nothing."

"THEY WANT to abolish personal leave — they gave it to us but now are saying 'we don't want you to use so much of it,'" Metzler said.

Under the current provision, teachers are eligible for two days personal leave each year without having to give reason. The number increases to four after five years of consecutive teaching in the district. Members of the board's negotiating team have said they want to abolish personal leave because it has been "abused" in recent months.

"Personal leave is there to be used," Metzler told the teachers. He also said he told the board negotiating team that if teachers had had a spring vacation this year they "probably wouldn't have used personal leave so much."

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against de facto neighborhood segregation. . . . the court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns, Randolph W. Thower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brushy Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers of UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary Weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

Illinois will need $60 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

Residents Seek Schlickman's Aid To Cover Ditch

A group of Arlington Heights homeowners have requested the aid of state Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman, R-Arlington Heights, in their attempts to have an open drainage ditch covered and sidewalks installed from Rand Road to Techny Road, on the east side of Arlington Heights Road.

The ditch, which runs along Arlington Heights Road, has been the target of the Ivy Hill Civic Association for several years, particularly that portion of it which borders the Northpoint Shopping Center at Arlington Heights Road and Rand Road.

Arlington Heights Road narrows from four lanes to two lanes just north of Rand Road. A guard rail runs along the ditch near the intersection of Valley Lane and Arlington Heights Road.

THE DITCH WAS THE scene of a fatal accident on April 8 when Mrs. Carlene Kunze, 719 E. Ivy Ln., was killed as her car plunged into the ditch and struck a large concrete culvert.

The letter to Schlickman was signed by John Kunze, husband of the accident victim, as project coordinator for the Ivy Hill association, which includes residents of Ivy Hill and Knob Hill subdivisions.

In a report accompanying the letter, the association describes the scene as an "extremely dangerous corner." The report points out that area residents first requested that the ditch be covered four years ago at hearings before the village plan commission on zoning for Northpoint.

They repeated the request when rezoning for development of the Korvette store was before the village, the report says.

The report points out that School District 25 now buses children from the two subdivisions to Rand Junior High School because the lack of sidewalks makes it too dangerous for them to walk on Arlington Heights Road.

Village Manager Rudy Hansen said yesterday that the ditch is the responsibility of the Cook County Highway Department. If the county covered the ditch, he said, sidewalks could be installed under special assessment.

GLENN FREDERICKS, assistant superintendent of the county department, said, however, the ditch was in the jurisdiction of the Illinois Division of Highways. State officials could not be reached immediately for comment.

Hansen said he would contact county officials for clarification of the jurisdiction.

A spokesman for Schlickman said he had received the letter yesterday but left for Springfield before having a chance to act on it. Schlickman is expected to return Friday.

Housing Issue Meet Today In Chicago

A meeting is scheduled this morning in the office of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley to try to "tie the Chicago Housing Authority issue into Arlington Heights."

The meeting will reportedly include the mayor, representatives of the Concerned Metropolitan Citizens Committee (CMCC), Black Labor Leaders of Operation Breadbasket, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and other minority groups.

Larry Rosser, a CMCC member, said yesterday the meeting took a number of weeks to arrange. During the session with the mayor, the representatives plan to tell Daley that if he is serious about CHA building low-income housing throughout the metropolitan area, then he should start talking to suburban officials in general and Arlington Heights officials specifically.

CMCC is the group which, more than a year ago, requested the Clerics of St. Viator to use some of their land in Arlington Heights for low and moderate income housing. A few months after the request, the clerics announced they would set aside 15 acres on their land adjacent to St. Viator High School, 1213 E. Oakton St., for a housing development.

The proposal for a moderate-income apartment development on the Viatorian land is still pending before the Arlington Heights Plan Commission, with a third hearing on the project scheduled for June.

Helton Murder Trial Resumes Today In Criminal Courts Building

The murder trial of Ronald A. Helton is scheduled to resume this morning at the Criminal Courts Building, 2600 S. California Ave., Chicago.

Helton, 18, of 419 S. Webster, Naperville, is accused of the Nov. 11, 1969 stabbing death of Fred Taillon, an Arlington Heights service station attendant.

Taillon, who resided at 661 N. Wilke Rd., Arlington Heights, was murdered during a robbery while working as an all-night attendant at the Arlington Park Shell station, at Wilke Road and Euclid Street.

Helton and three other men were charged with the murder Dec. 29, 1969. A few days later a fifth man was implicated and one of the original four was said to be cleared. In April 1970 the state dropped the robbery-murder charges against all the suspects except Helton, stating it did not have enough evidence against the other three.

Yesterday, Michael Bolan, assistant state's attorney in charge of the trial, said the trial will resume today in Room 700 of the Criminal Courts building.

Bolan said however the case may not actually go to trial. Helton's attorney, Melvin Kamm, is expected to file a motion with the court to suppress evidence.

Kamm has previously indicated in Judge Dan Ryan's court that he plans to file a pretrial motion to suppress a video tape recording of an alleged confession made by Helton while he was being held in the Arlington Heights lockup.

At that time the defendant allegedly told Det. Gene Deck where to find the missing murder knife. Police said they later found the knife in Naperville, where Helton said it was. Helton reportedly repudiated the confession the following day at the state's attorney's office.

Taillon was attacked in the service station about 3:15 a.m. Police said Taillon, who was 60 years old, fled through a plate glass window at the station to escape his attacker. Pursued, he ran east across Wilke Road to a home at 621 N. Wilke Rd., and broke windows trying to get help. He was stabbed 13 times.

Police said the attack was witnessed by a passing motorist.

Slightly more than $87 was stolen in the robbery-murder.

Man Dies From Auto Injuries

Edwin S. Engberg, 76, injured in an auto accident at Randolph Shopping Center Friday, died at 2:10 a.m. yesterday at Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

Mount Prospect police reported that Mr. Engberg's car was westbound on Euclid Avenue when he attempted to turn left onto East Drive in the northeast corner of the shopping center, about 9:35 p.m. Friday.

Police said an eastbound car driven by Thomas L. Heimerle, 17, 18 Wildwood Dr., Prospect Heights, collided with the Engberg auto as it turned. Both cars were extensively damaged, police said. Mr. Engberg was taken to the hospital by the Mount Prospect Fire Department ambulance. Police transported Heimerle by patrol car to the hospital, where he was treated and released.

Police issued Mr. Engberg a traffic ticket for failure to yield the right-of-way. An inquest into his death has been scheduled for 11 a.m. today at Lauterburg and Oehler Funeral Home, 2000 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

Funeral services will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home. Friends may call from 4 to 10 p.m. tomorrow at the funeral home.

Mr. Engberg is survived by his wife, Alice, a son, Robert of Jefferson, Wis.; a daughter, Mrs. John (Janet) Nielsen of Prospect Heights, and five grandchildren.

Couple Hunts Diamonds In The Dump

A Mount Prospect couple went "diamond hunting" in Wisconsin a few days ago.

And, in all places, yet . . . a village dump!

Although the hunt was not planned in advance, it nevertheless proved to be a rousing success — for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wegenke, 206 S. Wa-Pella Ave. here and Robert's mother, Mrs. Fred Lambrecht of Neshkoro, Wis.

Four months ago, Mrs. Lambrecht lost her diamond engagement and wedding rings. Mrs. Lambrecht had put the rings into a glass of ammonia for cleaning but forgot about them until the next morning when she found the glass on the sink . . . empty.

She thought the rings may have been caught in the strainer and carried to the dump, but when she arrived there, the trash was burning, and several hours' search in the cold and snow failed to turn up the rings.

A FEW DAYS AGO the Wegenkes came to visit. While Mrs. Lambrecht was at a Fond du Lac (Wis.) hospital visiting her husband, who suffered a heart attack several months ago, the Wegenkes went to the dump.

After sifting through ashes they saw a sparkle and discovered the rings, burned and chipped a bit but still intact.

The engagement ring was from her late husband, Allen Wegenke, when she was 16 years old. The wedding ring was from her present husband.

Kids' Investment Is Best Around

In these days of uncertain stock markets, students at two junior high schools in Arlington Heights have the best investment around.

Students at South Junior High and Rand Junior High in Dist. 25 are offered every year the chance to buy stock in their school store.

And the investment always pays off at least three per cent interest.

This year the South School store, named the Cardinal Trading Post, is paying 10 per cent interest on stock held during this school year, Everett Charlier, teacher at the school and advisor to the store, explained.

At the beginning of each year students are offered a chance to buy the stock at $1 a share with a maximum purchase of $30 shares, Charlier said.

At the end of the year they can cash in their stock and collect the interest, hold the stock and collect three per cent interest over the summer and keep it for the following year, or, if they are eighth graders, they can will it to a younger brother or sister.

ONE GIRL WHO received her stock in a "will" from an older sister and who has held her stock for three years, will receive $48 this spring, Charlier said.

Students in the student council are running the store this year, he said, with chairmen of different committees dealing with the purchase of stock, sales and other matters.

The chairman of the committee which decides when more items are needed for the store often talks to the company's salesman with Charlier's help, he said.

About 25 children are involved in actual operation of the store and many of the others buy stock in amounts ranging from one share to thirty, Charlier said.

The store never pays more than 10 per cent on an investment in a given year, he said, and sometimes when there is more money left the students running the school store buy something for the school.

"The main purpose of the school store is so children can receive their basic needs like pencils and notebooks right here," he said, "and it also provides a learning experience."

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against de facto neighborhood segregation . . . the court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns, Randolph W. Thrower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brush Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers off UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

The State

Illinois will need $80 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

The Weather

While a mass of cold air was reported to be moving into the Deep South, southerly winds were reported to be sending warm air north into the plains states and the Rockies.

Temperatures from around the nation:

	High	Low
Atlanta	74	42
Houston	86	63
Los Angeles	68	53
Miami Beach	89	65
Minneapolis	59	32
New York	60	50
Phoenix	95	59
Seattle	71	51

The Market

Profit taking, which has been gaining momentum in recent weeks, lowered the boom on the stock market. But turnover slowed considerably from last week's daily average of more than 20-million shares. The Dow Jones industrial average finished off at 934 at 932.41. Prices declined in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Schedules Set For Specialized Leadership Programs

Time schedules were announced last week for the specialized leadership playgrounds sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District as part of its Summer 71.

The specialized leadership program is new this year, offering instruction in archery, baton, cheerleading, golf and arts and crafts at nine playground locations during the summer season June 21-Aug 6.

The park district's summer brochures, mailed last week, did not include a time schedule of when the specialized classes would be held at the playgrounds. Registration for this program and all other park district summer activities may be made by using the mail-in form in the park district's brochure or by going into the park district's administrative office in Olympic Park, 660 N. Ridge Ave. The office will be open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

THE SPECIALIZED leadership program will be offered at each of the nine playground locations which also offer all-day supervised playground activities.

In the program, specialists will instruct small groups, giving each child an opportunity to learn the fundamentals of one of the five areas of instruction. The fee will be $3 for the program. The fee will allow a child to attend instruction in archery, golf, baton, cheerleading and arts and crafts, as many times a week as the program is offered at one location.

The time schedules in today's article, the first of three stories, include the specialized leadership programs which will be offered at Pioneer Park, 500 S. Fernandez Ave.; Heritage Park, Victoria Lane and Highland Avenue; and Dryden Park, 700 S. Dryden Pl.

The second article will list the time schedule of specialized leadership programs at Recreation Park, 500 E. Miner St.; Camelot Park, Brighton Place and Sunfield Drive; and Frontier Park, Kenicott Drive and Palatine Road.

THE THIRD ARTICLE will include the time schedule for Hasbrook Park, 333 W. Maude St.; Raven Park, Berkeley Drive and Highland Avenue; and Patriot Park, Dale Avenue and Palatine Road.

In instances where the instruction is broken down by age groups, those ages are listed. All classes will meet for one hour unless otherwise specified.

PIONEER PARK

Archery instruction will begin at 10 a.m. Tuesdays and at 3:30 p.m. Fridays. Arts and crafts instruction for 6 through 8 year olds will begin at 11 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and at 2 p.m.

Tuesdays and Thursdays. Arts and crafts for 9 through 13 year olds will begin at 1 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

BATON INSTRUCTION for 6 through 8 year olds begin at 9 a.m. Mondays and Wednesdays. Baton instruction for 9 through 13 year olds will begin at 10 a.m. Mondays and Wednesdays.

Cheerleading instruction for 6 through 8 year olds will begin at 2:15 p.m.

Wednesdays and 11:15 a.m. Fridays. The same instruction for 9 through 13 year olds will begin at 3:15 p.m. Wednesdays and 1 p.m. Fridays.

Golf instruction will begin at 9 a.m. Tuesdays and 2:30 p.m. Fridays.

HERITAGE PARK

Archery instructions will begin at 3:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Arts and crafts instruction for 6 through 8 year olds will meet from 9 to 10:30 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Arts and crafts instructions for 9 through 13 year olds will meet from 1 to 2 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

BATON INSTRUCTION for 6 through 8 year olds will begin at 2:15 p.m. Mondays and at 9 a.m. Fridays. The same instructions for 9 through 13 year olds will begin at 3:15 Mondays and 10 a.m. Fridays.

Cheerleading instructions for 6 through 8 year olds will begin at 2:30 p.m. Thursdays and Fridays. The same instructions for 9 through 13 year olds will begin at 3:30 p.m. Thursdays and Fridays.

Golf instruction will begin at 2:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

DRYDEN PARK

Archery instruction will begin at 2:15 p.m. Tuesdays and 10 a.m. Thursdays.

Arts and crafts instruction for 6 through 8 year olds will begin at 9 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The same instruction for 9 through 13 year olds will begin at 10 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. A class with no age limits will begin at 1 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

BATON INSTRUCTIONS for 6 through 8 year olds will begin at 11:15 a.m. Mondays. The same instruction for 9 through 13 year olds will begin at 1 p.m. Mondays.

Cheerleading instruction for 6 through 8 year olds will begin at 2:15 p.m. Mondays. The same instruction for 9 through 13 year olds will begin at 3:15 p.m. Mondays.

Golf instructions will begin at 3:15 p.m. Tuesdays and 9 a.m. Thursdays.

Offer Day Camps For Handicapped

The community day camp for handicapped children will have price increases of about $11 for this summer's sessions sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District.

The two-week session of the camp for educable and trainable mentally handicapped children will cost $25 for residents of the park district who provide their own transportation. The rate was $14 last year.

Non-residents with their own transportation will pay $30 for a two-week session, an increase of $10.50 from last year.

Fees for residents who want transportation provided will be $45 and the fee for non-residents will be $50.

Alicia Smith, recreation supervisor for the Arlington Heights Park District, said the handicapped day camp program lost quite a bit of money last year. She said the big expense is for salaries of the camp counselors.

THE DAY CAMP is open to children 7 through 12 and will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. each weekday at Recreation Park, 500 E. Miner St. The three sessions will begin June 21, July 6 and July 19.

Activities will include games, singing, a field trip, a parents night and other programs for each session. Leaders qualified in dealing with special education children will be planning the specific programs. The camp is staffed by a combination of paid and volunteer leaders.

The recreation supervisor said she was working with officials at John Hersey High School, Arlington Heights, to arrange a special program to allow students to obtain high school credit for volunteering to work with the day camp.

MISS SMITH SAID this summer's higher fee will also help cover the purchase of some special equipment to help with the day camp program. She said she hoped the equipment can be used in a tentatively planned after school program for trainable mentally handicapped children.

The after-school program scheduled for this fall, would allow handicapped children to participate in recreation activities planned around their special needs and interests. This program would meet weekly at a local park.

Registration for this summer's day camp for handicapped children will be taken in special education classes in area schools; Clearbrook Center for the Handicapped, 3201 W. Campbell St., Rolling Meadows; and the park district's administration office in Olympic Park, 660 N. Ridge Ave. The park district reserves the right to screen applicants.

Voting Expense: $1.20 Each

Every vote cast in the April 6 election in Arlington Heights cost the village about $1.22.

A review of the expenses of the election, released by the village clerk's office this week, indicates an expenditure by the village of $12,200.17, not including assistance from the police and public works departments.

The official vote canvass indicates 10,927 ballots were cast.

The largest chunk of the total cost was paid out for election judges and polling places. Of the 40 polling places used through the day, the village paid $30 each for the use of 28, $5 for one polling place, and 11 were furnished at no charge.

The 250 election judges were each paid $30 for their day's work, with 203 of those paid an additional $5 for attending the school for election judges a week prior to the election. Total cost for election judges was $18,135. An additional $35 was spent for refreshments on election day.

Almost $2,500 was spent on election supplies, with the largest portion of that, almost $2,200, going to the Frank Thornber Co., which provided judges' kits, forms and various other supplies.

Paddock Publications was paid more than $1,000 for publishing election notices and specimen ballots and for printing applications for ballots, ballots and specimen ballots.

The village was reimbursed $1,000 by the park district.

The registered voter who does not cast a ballot is the person who is responsible for setting the village's cost-per-ballot at more than $1.20. The election expenses would remain about the same no matter how many people voted. The per-ballot cost would obviously decrease as more voters went to the polls. About 64 per cent of the registered voters did not vote.

Ping Pong Players Take 3 Titles

Ping pong players representing the Arlington Heights Park District recently won three state titles, including a first place in the women's singles division.

Sylvia Rector, 1014 Crabtree Dr., won all four of her matches in the women's division, to place first in the state contest sponsored by the Illinois Park and Recreation Association at Homewood-Flossmor.

A second place in the boys' division was captured by Arlington Heights resident Michael Usher.

The ping pong team representing Arlington Heights placed fourth in the state competition, behind first place winners from the Addison Park District, second place winners from Homewood-Flossmor and third place winners from Rockford.

Competitors in the state contest were chosen during a ping pong tournament held in February by the Arlington Heights Park District. Winners of the local competition then competed in the Suburban Park and Recreation Association (SPRA) tournament and the state competition.

In the SPRA tournament, Mrs. Rector won first place in the women's division, Usher won first place in the boys' division and Sally Karcher won first place in the senior girls' division.

Mrs. Luckner Is Honored By 200

Some 200 persons attended a reception Sunday honoring Florence Luckner for her 10 years of service as the Republican in Elk Grove Township.

Among the guests were former Congressman Margaret Stitt Church and Congressman Philip Crane. Also attending the party at the Navarone Restaurant in Elk Grove Township were Mount Prospect Village Pres. Robert Touchert and his wife, and Des Plaines Mayor Herbert Behrel and his wife.

Mrs. Luckner of Mount Prospect, has served as committeewoman for three committees, Sherman Canty, William Russe, and Carl R. Hansen. She has been a member of the Elk Grove Township Republican Organization since she moved to the area in 1929.

At the reception Crane thanked her for her service, saying, "Because of dedicated people like Florence, the Republican party has become the great party that it is."

Mrs. Luckner received a stereo console, a pen and pencil desk set with gold leaf elephant and inscribed plaque and a bouquet of roses.

On Dean's List

An Arlington Heights coed has been named to the dean's list at the University of Evansville, Evansville, Indiana, for winter quarter.

Bonnie Jo Angus of 1707 Surrey Ridge Dr., received the honor. She is a senior in elementary education at the university.

Charge Jockey With Battery

A jockey, currently residing at Arlington Park race track, was arrested last week on charges stemming from a fight at an Arlington Heights service station April 23.

Roger Cox, 24, of Hot Springs, Ark., was charged with battery when he surrendered himself to Arlington Heights police shortly after a complaint and arrest warrant were signed by Circuit Court Judge Richard Jozak.

During the fight, which occurred at Bob's Standard service station, 1706 W. Northwest Highway, a station attendant was seriously injured.

The attendant, Tom Halden, 20, of 224 Grand Canyon Pkwy., Hoffman Estates, was reported in fair condition at St. Alexius Hospital after receiving surgery for a ruptured spleen Saturday.

Cox was released on $1,000 bond Wednesday and is scheduled to appear in Arlington Heights court May 21.

Two other jockeys, present at the time of the incident, were not charged.

Regular Day Camp Schedule Told

Registration will begin Monday for Camp Pawnee Pal, the day camp sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District.

Day camp activities are designed for youngsters 7 through 12 and will center around an Indian theme. Three two-week sessions of the camp will begin June 28, July 12 and July 26.

Transportation for children will be provided to and from the location of the day camp, scheduled for Deer Grove Forest Preserve northwest of Palatine. Last year, the first year the program was offered, campers traveled to Busse Woods south of Arlington Heights for the activities.

FLOWERING CRAB APPLE trees were planted Friday at each school in Arlington Heights as part of the Arbor Day project by the Arlington Beautification Council. Students at Juliette Low School here tend their new tree which they planted.

Landowner Raps Condemnation Of 3-Acre Parcel

A disgruntled property owner whose land has been condemned by the city last night brought his case before the Des Plaines city council to give city officials one last piece of his mind.

In a lively session that was highlighted by the seating of four new aldermen and five incumbents, the council heard Roy Egan, 2100 E. Algonquin Rd., complain that he had been told to move off his 3 1/2-acre parcel of land by September despite the lack of any city plans to use the land in the near future.

Egan, whose five-year battle with the city culminated this week when he sent leaflets to 21,000 Des Plaines mailing addresses explaining his position said he had been told that he would have to move his home and excavating business from the land when purchased this fall.

During an exchange, Mayor Herbert Behrei said Egan would not be forced to move from the property, but would be required to pay rent to the city if he stays after it acquires title to the land.

IN A CONDEMNATION suit completed last month, Egan was awarded $160,000 for the property, which is adjacent to the present city public works complex at Algonquin and Campground Road.

Egan has acknowledged that he received a fair trial in the suit, but maintains that with the $109,000 remaining after his legal fees and costs in the case, he cannot afford to buy a comparable piece of property in this area.

City Atty. Robert DiLeonardi, who said Egan's remarks in the widely distributed leaflet were a "slur" on the mayor and city council, told the large audience at last night's meeting that Egan had received "more than his day in court."

Both Egan and the city will have to live with the jury's decision, said DiLeonardi, who pointed out that the $160,000 price awarded by the jury was $70,000 greater than the value of the land as determined by appraisers who were hired by the city.

Egan, who ran for second ward alderman in 1969, says the city has no immediate plans to use the property. During last night's meeting, he told a Herald reporter that he mailed the leaflets to "let the people know how the city council operates."

THE LEAFLET, signed by Egan and his wife, said "we can understand condemnation when it's absolutely necessary. But when it is not, innocent people beware. For the next one may be you."

At his weekly press conference yesterday Behrei said the Egan land will be used for future expansion of the adjacent public works facilities and will likely be the site of a new city incinerator.

Egan will be allowed to stay and pay rent until the city needs the land, the mayor said.

Taking the oath of office as new city councilmen from Judge Anton Smiegel last night were Ald. Kenneth Kehe, (2nd), Ald. B. Spencer Chase (3rd), Ald. Arthur Erbach (5th), and Ald. Allan Abrams (8th).

Also sworn into office were incumbent Ald. Joseph Szabo (1st), Ald. Robert Hinde (4th), Ald. Morgan O'Brien (4th), Ald. Ewald Swanson (6th), and Ald. John Seitz (7th).

In other action last night, the council turned down a bid to end its moratorium on downtown area apartment development.

A motion to end the controversial moratorium by Ald. Howard Thomas (6th) was defeated after Ald. Robert Michaels (8th) withdrew a request for acceptance of a zoning board recommendation against an ordinance requiring 100-foot lot frontage minimums for downtown apartments.

The zoning board recommendation instead was forwarded to the council's municipal development committee for study and reports.

Oakton St. Closes Starting Tomorrow

Beginning tomorrow, Oakton Street will be closed to all through traffic between Lee Street and Mount Prospect Road while it is being widened to four lanes.

According to Thomas G. Cots, Cook County superintendent of highways, through traffic will be routed onto Algonquin Road until the widening is completed.

Local traffic will be allowed on Oakton during most of the construction, although plans call for removal of the existing Oakton pavement which could require a total shut-down of certain sections of the street.

Completion of the $2.5 million project could take up to two years.

Plans include 48 feet of pavement with mountable medians. Intersections with Lee Street, Wolf Road and Mount Prospect Road will be channelized, according to the county highway department.

Orchesis Plans Annual Show

Orchesis, the modern dance club at Maine West High School, will present its annual show Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

This year's show is titled "We Tried But..." and includes 19 acts representing all the ideas suggested for the show's theme.

Tickets for the performances will be sold in the cafeteria at Maine West, 1755 S. Wolf Rd., during student lunch periods and at the door. The tickets are priced at $1.00 for adults, 75 cents for students and 50 cents for children under 12.

2 TV Sets, Record Player Stolen

Two television sets and a record player were reported stolen last Friday in a burglary at a Des Plaines home, according to Des Plaines police.

Emmi Heckel, 1939 Estes Ave., told police that she discovered the items, valued at $736, missing when she returned home Friday.

Trampolines Beneficial, Safe

Use of trampolines in high school physical education classes can be beneficial and safe.

This was one of the conclusions of a six month study recently submitted to the Maine Township High School Dist. 207 board.

The report had been requested by the board after a Maine West High School student was seriously injured in a trampoline accident. The student is now partially recovered and he is attending classes, officials said.

The study was conducted by the chairman of the girls physical education departments at the four Maine Township high schools. Miss Kathryn Pierce, of Maine South, Park Ridge, was group chairman.

Trampoline is not now a requirement for boys, but can be studied by those students on school gymnastics teams, according to Kenneth Olson, chairman of the boys physical education department at Maine West, 1755 S. Wolf Rd., Des Plaines.

Trampoline instruction is one of the required sections of girls physical education at all Maine high schools, according to Miss Pierce.

At Maine West, girls receive six weeks of trampoline instruction. At Maine North, in unincorporated Des Plaines, the girls receive four and one-half weeks of instruction, and girls at Maine East, Park Ridge, receive three weeks of training.

Students may be excused from trampoline instruction upon request of their parents.

Maine West High Slates Open House

Maine West High School has invited the public to its spring open house, "A May Festival," which will be held this Thursday and Friday between 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

Visitors will have the opportunity to see gymnastics, a fashion show preview, music recitals and demonstrations, a dance demonstration, an aquatic show, art and industrial arts exhibits and other activities.

Maine West is located at 1755 S. Wolf Rd. in Des Plaines.

According to the report, "the risk factor of trampolining in comparison to that of many other physical education activities and athletics has been overstated."

Trampoline use is not "the most dangerous activity," the report stated.

Of the 1,200 girls at Maine South who have received trampoline instruction since October, 1969, only 23 accidents have taken place, and only one was a "serious" injury, a slight arm fracture.

The committee recommended posting of safety rules, restricting some types of trampoline flips, constant retraining of teachers on safety rules, and prohibiting students who are overweight or have poor eyesight or poor coordination from trampoline activities.

According to the report, the benefits of trampoline use include increased flexibility and liveness, promotion of physical well being through vigorous exercise, development of balance, coordination and timing.

"Trampolining comes very close to being the ideal physical education activity," the report states. "Students like it, and the activity fulfills many of the objectives of a well-rounded program."

10,000 See Vacation, Outdoor Show

More than 10,000 Des Plaines and Northwest suburban residents attended the 13th annual Des Plaines Outdoor and Vacation Show last weekend in the Ran Park Fieldhouse, Des Plaines.

Residents took old fashioned stage coach rides, watched scuba divers, and caught 500 pounds of trout, according to officials of the Des Plaines Park District, which co-sponsored the show with the Des Plaines Izaak Walton League.

The theme of this year's show, the largest in the United States, according to a park district spokesman, was promotion of conservation and outdoor recreation.

More than 66 organizations and associations had display booths, including the Audubon Society, the U.S. Coast Guard Navy, Marines, and Special Forces Unit the Illinois Department of Conservation and the Northbrook Police department.

Demonstrations of outdoor skills were performed by Nemki Indians from St. Charles, the Triton Scuba Club, Chicago Archers, the Chicago Colts Fast Draw Club, and the Des Plaines Park District Judo group.

Show participants caught more than 1,014 fish, according to park officials. Stage coach rides with authentic "wild-west" stage coaches, were available for show participants.

Education Survey Is Set By School Board

Expectations of parents for their children's education will be surveyed in Elk Grove Township Elementary School Dist. 59 this month by members of the School Community Council.

Parents of 100 children in the district will be interviewed by council members to gather information on community goals for the school district.

The team of 20 interviewers will ask parents opinions on what they would like in the education program and how the present program could be improved.

The sampling includes parents of five children per school in each community in the district, Elk Grove Village, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines.

Rev. Larkin Will Present Monologues

Rev. Darrel Larkin will present dramatic monologues in a series of meetings this week at the First Baptist Church of Des Plaines, 501 W. Golf Rd.

The evangelist, pastor of the Northside Baptist Church of Chicago, Rev. Larkin will be the featured guest Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. and Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Larkin has spent more than 25 years in missionary work among Spanish-speaking people. Each of the three nights he will present a different Biblical portrayal, with appropriate makeup and costumes for the various characters.

The evangelist's repertoire includes "Bartimaeus the Blind Man," "Peter Denying Christ," "Adam in the Temptation," "Pilate Protesting His Innocence," "The Man in Chains," "Peter Turns Back," "The Prodigal Son," and "Judas the Traitor." Admission is free.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

President Nixon called on North Vietnam to agree to transfer prisoners of war on both sides from Indochina to neutral-nation imprisonment in Sweden.

The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional New York law barring desegregation efforts by state educational officials and appointed school boards. It was seen as the court's first move against de facto neighborhood segregation. The court also refused to review a school desegregation order for suburban Cook County that was the first won by the Justice Department in the North.

The United States has the most honest voluntary tax system in the world, but taxpayers' honesty is directly linked to the number of tax agents to check returns, Randolph W. Thrower, retiring director of the Internal Revenue Service, said in congressional testimony just made public.

James Earl Ray, serving 99 years for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was foiled in an attempt to escape from Brushy Mountain State Prison in Petros, Tenn.

Lucinda Franks and Thomas Powers of UPI won a Pulitzer Prize in the national reporting category for their story on life and death of a revolutionary Weatherwoman, "The Story of Diana," investigating the life of Diana Oughton, who was killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse in New York, March 6, 1970. Miss Oughton was from Dwight, Ill.

The State

Illinois will need $60 million more than anticipated to meet its welfare obligations by the end of the current fiscal year, Deputy Public Aid Director Harold Swank said.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson says a personal income tax cut to stimulate consumer spending may be the only way to end the nation's economic slump.

The nation may regret allowing productive farm land to be removed for use by electrical generating plants, the president of the Illinois Agricultural Association said in Chicago.

The War

President Nixon's withdrawal of American troops from South Vietnam has passed the halfway point and is running ahead of schedule, military sources said.

The World

President Walter Ulbricht retired as first secretary of the East German Communist Party and was replaced by Politburo member, Erich Honecker, the East German news agency said.

Profit taking, which has been gaining momentum in recent weeks, lowered the boom on the stock market. But turnover slowed considerably from last week's daily average of more than 20-million shares. The Dow Jones industrial average finished off at 9:34 at 932.41. Prices declined in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Dorothy Oliver

I guess it's time for my yearly sermon on bicycle riding. As bicycling becomes more and more popular — especially as a family activity — it becomes more and more important to follow the rules.

Please remind your children that they must obey all traffic signs and lights, including one way street signs. On the street they are required to ride with traffic, not against it.

"A cardinal sin" of bike riders is riding more than one on a bike. Adults violate this law as frequently as their children when they plop baby into one of the handy toddler seats and ride off into the sunset.

Joan Dileonardi, president of the board of directors of the Northwest Suburban Day Care Center, called to point out an error in last Thursday's column. The Center, which received more than $10,000 last year from the "Walk For Development," will not be a beneficiary this year.

Without the money received from the walk it would have been next to impossible for the Center to have opened last September. Now they must seek out funds elsewhere in order to continue operating.

Both Joan and I were curious to see just where Walk funds were being distributed this year. I talked to Michele Burke, a volunteer, and she filled me in.

FIFTEEN PER CENT of the fund will go to the American Freedom from Hunger Assn. The money is to be used for educational purposes for community development.

'Blue Hawaii' To Be Presented

"A Night With Blue Hawaii and You" will be presented Friday by the St. Stephen's Catholic Church mini-parish group of Des Plaines.

The musical review, at 9 p.m. in Hanley Hall at the church, 1267 Everett, will be held to raise funds for community service projects by 200 member discussion and study group, church spokesmen said.

The revue will include musical performances by church members. The Chuck Calvert quartet, a professional dance band, will perform after the show.

The revue, coordinated and directed by Jane Schott and Ron Wagner, will include a dance and singing performance by Fran Morava and Alice Plucienik. Marv Martin and Sheila Voy will present a comedy routine.

Former alderman candidate George Olen and other church members will perform in "a Hawaiian wedding feast," spokesmen said.

The mini-parish orchestra includes Jane Schott, on piano; Ron Wagner, drums; John Rice, guitar; and Clarence Emanuel on the mandolin.

Community service projects by the mini-parish group have included senior citizens' dinners and contributions to an inner-city church.

Another 42½ per cent will be given to overseas projects. Included are the International Institute of Rural Reconstruction in the Philippines, which teaches community representatives from around the world how to deal with poverty, disease, etc.; and the Peace Corps School Partnership Program, the money to be used for building materials for schools.

Domestic projects include the City Pre-school of Chicago, which educates inner-city children from 6 weeks to 5 years of age; Day Care Alliance of Lincoln Park, Project Grantsman, whose purpose is to promote day care centers; Respond Now, a resource center for communities in south suburban Cook County which provides emergency care and a referral service.

ALSO INCLUDED ARE Benton House, a settlement house with programs for all ages; Lakeview Pantry, a community development organization; Chicago Welfare Rights Organization, which is made up of a group of welfare recipients whose purpose is to educate others on welfare of their rights; Day Care Crises Council of the Chicago area, which works toward better day care legislation; and Cook County OEO Food Co-op, which is trying to raise money to open more food co-ops.

Miss Burke added that all the projects being funded are working toward long range development of communities — whether they be local, national or world-wide.

THE DEFENSIVE driving course, provided by the Maine Adult Evening School, begins tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Maine East. The course, which lasts two hours, runs for four consecutive Tuesday nights.

The program is sponsored by the National Safety Council which trains volunteers to teach the course. Registration is $4 and more information can be obtained by calling the Adult Evening School, 696-3600.

AN OPEN HOUSE is being held today and tomorrow by the Northwest Suburban Aid for the Retarded. Trainees at the Center are offering items, such as ceramic tile trivets, wooden boxes with ceramic lids, hand woven baskets, place mats, pillows, etc., for sale to the public.

The open house is being held at 31 N. Grace St., Park Ridge. Today's hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and from 7-9 p.m. You may visit the center on Wednesday from 7-9 p.m.

"The trainees have been working hard all winter so they might have new and attractive gift items to offer you this spring," said Mrs. Doris Eich, workshop manager. "They are very proud, and rightly so, of their handiwork and are eager for your approval."

Arrangements to visit the Junior Shelter, 33 N. Grace, can be made while attending the open house. For further information call Mrs. Raymond Till, Mt. Prospect, at CL 3-5404.

Man Dies From Auto Injuries

Edwin S. Engberg, 76, injured in an auto accident at Randhurst Shopping Center Friday, died at 2:10 a.m. yesterday at Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

Mount Prospect police reported that Mr. Engberg's car was westbound on Euclid Avenue when he attempted to turn left onto East Drive in the northeast corner of the shopping center, about 9:35 p.m. Friday.

Police said an eastbound car driven by Thomas L. Heimerle, 17, 18 Wildwood Dr., Prospect Heights, collided with the Engberg auto as it turned. Both cars were extensively damaged, police said.

Mr. Engberg was taken to the hospital by the Mount Prospect Fire Department ambulance. Police transported Heimerle by patrol car to the hospital, where he was treated and released.

Police issued Mr. Engberg a traffic ticket for failure to yield the right-of-way. An inquest into his death has been scheduled for 11 a.m. today at Lauterburg and Oehler Funeral Home, 2000 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

Funeral services will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home. Friends may call from 4 to 10 p.m. tomorrow at the funeral home.

Mr. Engberg is survived by his wife, Alice, a son, Robert of Jefferson, Wis.; a daughter, Mrs. John (Janet) Nielsen of Prospect Heights, and five grandchildren.

Rep. Crane To Host Television Program

Dolph Droge, special consultant to the National Security Council on Vietnamese affairs, will appear today on the "Conservative Viewpoint" television program. The program will be aired at 10 p.m. on WSNB-TV, channel 44.

Droge will be the guest of U.S. Rep. Philip M. Crane (R-Ill.)

Droge will play his own folk songs as he reviews 2,000 years of Vietnamese history, describing the rise of Ho Chi Minh, former president of North Vietnam, and President Nixon's Vietnam policies.

Droge will also appear on the May 11 "Conservative Viewpoint" program.

Droge went to Indochina in 1955 as correspondent for NBC News. He then worked with the U.S. Information Agency and in 1968 was named training chairman in Vietnam for the Agency for International Development. He has been a consultant to both Presidents Johnson and Nixon.

Win At Bridge

by Oswald and James Jacoby

One argument in favor of indiscriminate opening of four-card major suits and particularly the spade suit lies in the pre-emptive value. When you open with one spade, your opponent can only overcall at the two level.

There is no question about this pre-emptive value, but we have found that for the one time when it pre-empts your opponents there are several occasions when it pre-empts your partner. Therefore, in JACOBY MODERN we never open a four-card spade suit in first or second seat when we have a reasonable minor suit opening at our disposal.

After North opens one diamond, the bidding develops logically to a final contract of two hearts. East and West can't get into the bidding and South will surely make two hearts.

Now let's see what happens if North opens one spade. South may raise to two spades. In that case, North will play the hand there and be set one or possibly two tricks.

Suppose South tries one no-trump. North will probably pass. West will open the five of clubs and South will have a great deal of trouble collecting more than five tricks. Or North may rebid to two diamonds. This will lead to the same unsuccessful two-spade contract. The players who open with one spade wind up

A New Approach To Women's Lib

Cover Girl Gets It All Together

JUDY BLACK, Washington model, has developed a new approach to Women's Liberation in her organization called TWO.

by HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK (NEA) — When a beautiful blonde appears on the cover of Look Magazine in an organdy apron and little else, the words "sex symbol" pop into the mind. And since these are the two dirtiest words in the Women's Lib lexicon it's not surprising that the headline with the picture read, "I think Women's Lib is crazy. Why?"

The cover girl, Judy Black, Washington, D.C., model, art major, Briarcliff graduate and mother of a 5-year-old son, said she doesn't think that at all. "But I do think the organized groups are doing more harm than good."

"They are too militant, masculine and humorless. We must seduce men by reason, not by militance," she added. "Given a just argument, men will rally to a just cause."

She opposes such anti-Libbers as the "Pussycats" and "Fascinating Womanhood" as well, feeling there's no need to sit up and beg for a pat on the head from your spouse or any other man. She's for day care centers, abortion on demand, equal employment opportunities and equal pay. And she even feels a woman shouldn't have to give up her maiden name at marriage, thus losing her individuality.

AFTER THE MAGAZINE cover caused a bit of a stir, Miss Black began to speak her mind on the subject of women's liberation on radio and television and now finds herself the center of a new movement. The groups is called TWO, to represent men and women working together to achieve human rights for all.

"My God," she said, "if we can't get together I don't know what's going to happen to this country."

The difference in Judy's approach is her belief that it's wrong to fight men. "They have the power to help. We should work with them."

Cover girl she is, but working hand in hand with a man is something this girl knows about. She hitched through the Sahara on the back of a lemon truck, eventually got to Guinea where she married her childhood sweetheart who was in the Peace Corps. While working there with him, she taught art to children and became involved in the Food for Peace program.

THIS AMAZING GAL successfully climbed to the top of Mt. Rainier and while in Guinea learned to fix car engines with hairpins. No Pussycat, she.

"I can't understand why male-female relationships have to go under because women want their rights as individuals," she said. And now she is devoting almost all of her time to show that she's right in her way of thinking.

The first thing she did was patent a new symbol to replace the clenched-hand female symbol now employed by other groups. Hers is a circle and a cross with a dove at the top of the circle — free to fly. "The dove represents the covenant between man and God and men and women," she explained.

TWO already has several thousand members and more join every day. "But we want intelligent people," Judy said, "not kooks."

THERE WILL BE A quarterly newspaper, posters, the symbol used on belts, rings and neck chains, even records — and the proceeds from their sale will go to forming lobby groups to help get through legislation on issues important to the organization's aims.

"We would like to see stimulating day nurseries with teachers from every walk of life to teach children community interests."

"We're angry with the negative approach which degrades men. Who wants to carry a banner saying 'Don't cook dinner tonight. Starve a rat.'? I like to cook."

"There's no point in being liberated," she said, "unless you have a creative alternative, such as helping solve such problems as cancer or drugs. Women could help if they were freed from the home. Some women are just not mothers. Others prefer that role to any job. Each should have the option to choose."

WE'LL NEVER reach that goal, she feels, by calling our husbands "male chauvinist pigs."

Her attitude toward Women's Liberation is, "If there is to be true freedom and an end to war, poverty and human indignity we as men and women must first get together to create new attitudes which are commensurate with this new age we live in."

Golden Year For Square Dance Team

A typical Dogpatch wedding, complete with Marvin Sam conducting his special ceremony and Poppy standing by with his sawed-off shotgun, marked the golden wedding celebration of Charles and Lee Weiler, well known Des Plaines square dance callers.

The couple renewed their vows of 50 years ago on April 16 at the First Congregational Church in Des Plaines. Present for the gala celebration were not only their children and their families but all the dance-happy members of the Happy Twirlers and Dates and Mates Square Dance Clubs.

The Weilers' son, Richard, his wife and daughter, traveled from Cuernavaca, Mexico, to attend the celebration; their daughter Gloria, her husband, Helge Nelson and their four children came in from Minneapolis. Mrs. Weiler's sisters, Mrs. Silver of St. Paul and Mrs. Van Orden of Los Angeles, also were guests.

THE WEILERS were married April 16, 1921, Charles related. "The only thing I had to offer Lee was a dream and a promise that we would go through life dancing until we were past 90. We still have a few years to go, but I'm sure we'll make that too."

For 42 years, Weiler worked as an engineer in management for the International Harvester Co. He earned his degree in mechanical engineering by attending night school at the University of Minnesota over a period of 11 years.

The Weilers began square dancing in earnest about 23 years ago in the same church in which they celebrated their anniversary. Both are professional callers, and also accomplished round dancers, but prefer to concentrate on square dancing, believing it keeps couples together, happy, healthy and mentally alert.

THE FIRST FOUR years of their 11-year retirement were spent traveling some 80,000 miles, calling and teaching square dancing in Mexico, Arizona, California and Florida. In Sahagun, Mexico, near Mexico City, Weiler became technical director for an industrial plant there, and, during the course of his 18-month contract, again became involved in square dancing. He and Mrs. Weiler taught more than 500 Mexicans, including the entire plant personnel, how to square dance.

Charles and Lee Weiler have lived in Des Plaines about 24 years, all of them at their present address, 1710 Mannheim Road. They do a great deal of charity calling, just for the love of it. The building fund of the First Congregational Church is some $1,000 richer due to their activities as callers.

The Weilers are embarking on their "second 50" with all the spirit and contagious enthusiasm with which they started their first 50, and apparently in perfect health. They proclaim that square dancing is the magic formula that has kept them "dancing through life."

The Home Line

by Dorothy Ritz

Dear Dorothy: Being Georgia-born and bred I would like to comment on Southern fried chicken. It is almost impossible to enjoy this dish in the manner that it was made famous. Then, people butchered and prepared their own chicken, salting and peppering it, dipping it into self rising flour and frying it golden brown, uncovered, in an iron skillet half-filled with lard — and then eaten while hot.

Since fresh chicken is a thing of the past and the use of lard somewhat in disuse, I would like to give you my recipe which comes close to the original dish. The chicken pieces are salted and peppered to taste, then dipped into a bag of self rising flour. Self rising flour gives a lighter, crisp crust. If self rising flour is not available, add 1 teaspoon baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt to 1 cup plain flour. Fry in an iron skillet or stainless-steel pan, half filled with vegetable oil, uncovered if chicken is 2 1/2 pounds or less.

For larger chickens, cover for first five minutes of cooking. No other cooking oil will give the chicken the same flavor as vegetable oil. Fry to golden brown, turning only once. — Mrs. William Key

Thank you ever so much, Mrs. Key, for a simple explanation of something that has been mystifying so many of us.

Dear Dorothy: When I have a stubborn grease spot on washable material, I rub it with household ammonia in which I've dissolved a tablespoon of salt. After laundering, the stain is always gone. —Alma M

Dear Dorothy: This is our first year in our own home and we wonder what has to be done to prevent mildew once the heat is turned off? —Lee R.

Mildew is caused by molds that grow when dampness is present. There are many ways to keep away moisture — air conditioning is one; calcium chloride, activated alumina, silica gel, dehumidifiers, even lights burning in a closet. A pilot light in the furnace is a help. Never put away any clothing that is damp. Being a home owner is a never-ending job but worth it.

Tri Delta To Honor Achievement

The annual "Pansy Luncheon" for the Chicago Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Delta Delta Delta is a time to recall highlights of the year's achievements. This year, the event will honor two 50-year members of Tri-Delta and will recognize the area group's recent award as "most outstanding upstate alumnae chapter."

Members will bring their favorite salads for the 12:30 p.m. luncheon Tuesday, May 11, in the home of Mrs. Rollyn Meyers, 215 Pinehurst, Des Plaines. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Rodney Antrim, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. John Huizinga, Mount Prospect.

Special guests will be the two 50-year Tri-Delta veterans, Mrs. Isaac Riggs of Barrington and Mrs. John K. Gage of Palatine. The second record of achievement for the area alums this year is the award for "outstanding chapter" presented at the sorority's recent State Day.

THE MAY 11 afternoon events include an installation of officers for the 1971-72 club year. Mrs. Brett Bowen, Park Ridge, will become president; Mrs. Robert Schult, Prospect Heights, first vice president; Mrs. Edward Stein, Arlington Heights, second vice president; and Mrs. Bruce Glass, Des Plaines, secretary treasurer.

All area Tri-Deltas are welcome to the luncheon. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Meyers, 824-8305.

Church Women United Celebrate Fellowship Day

The new St. Mary's Church, 794 Pearson St., Des Plaines, will be the setting for May Fellowship Day this Friday. The celebration, sponsored by Church Women United, will begin with a worship service at 1 p.m.

"This celebration is for the whole community," explained Mrs. William Auer, program chairman, "and all Des Plaines women are invited."

This year's Fellowship Day theme, "Enlarge the place of your tent," emphasizes extending family concern until all nations are joined in one brotherhood of man. "Appropriately," Mrs. Auer pointed out, "our guest speaker is a man from another land working with families in Des Plaines."

REV. JOHANNES MARTIN, principal of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Rajahmundry, India, is assisting the Trinity Lutheran Church as part of a year's study of pastoral care in the United States.

"We hope women of all ages will join with us," continued Mrs. Auer. "We'll have two babysitters to care for preschool children and we'll be glad to arrange rides for senior citizens who need transportation." Senior citizens needing rides should call Mrs. Jay Kichel, 827-4267.

Highlights of the service will include an ecumenical choir, and readings that range from Isaiah to "The Prophet" by Khalil Gibran.

Next On The Agenda

PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS Mrs. Tammy Meade of the Volunteer Service Bureau in Palatine will speak Friday evening to members of Parents without Partners. The group will be meeting at 8:30 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Arlington Heights.

The Bureau compiles information regarding local persons who have volunteered their services in any capacity and registered welfare agencies, schools, hospitals, churches and civic organizations may contact the Bureau when in need of a volunteer. Mrs. Meade will outline the operation of the Bureau and explain how PWP can benefit from such an organization.

TRI SIGMA ASSOCIATION Officers of Chicago Suburban Northwest Tri Sigma Association will be installed next Monday at an 8 p.m. meeting in the Arlington Heights home of Mrs. William Pfeiffer, 811 S. Cleveland St.

Installed as president will be Mrs. James Register, 1115 S. Home. Park Ridge Vice president will be Mrs. William Pfeiffer, Arlington Heights; and Mrs. George McCabe, Park Ridge, and Mrs. James Threadgill, Mount Prospect, will be installed as secretaries. Treasurer will be Mrs. Arthur Ruffino of Wilmette.

Chairmanships will be taken over by Mrs. John Mattoon; Mrs. Stanley Larson; Mrs. Richard Koopman; Mrs. Karl Kubon; Mrs. Harry Siebold, Jr.; Mrs. E. Glenn Pace; Mrs. William Bown; Mrs. Robert W. Reitz; and Mrs. Robert Spicewack.

All alumnae are welcome and those wishing further information may call Mrs. Pfeiffer at 392-5907.

Practices During Summer Months?

by LARRY MLYNCZAK

The Illinois High School Association (IHSA) has recently made a ruling for prep athletes and athletics that coaches on the college level would enjoy and envy.

For this, and future summers, the IHSA has ruled that all high schools may conduct athletic summer school classes for all sports. That means that actual practices may be held during the summer for all sports.

Herald Sports Exclusive

The new rule is By-Law A-121 which states, "The Board (IHSA) has ruled that high school sponsored summer school classes are not to be considered as coaching schools, provided they are not restricted to high school students who have been certified for athletics. Therefore, the provisions of this By-Law do not restrict the structure or operation of summer school classes, and students may participate even if the class is taught by a faculty member from their own school."

The provisions under this law also include that the local school boards must approve the summer school athletic class, a fee must be charged for the class, it must be open to every student who wishes to participate, the program must meet certain time limits and that further restrictions may be made by a school board, a school, a conference or a governing body (such as the Inter-Suburban Association).

If the coach of a sport is unrestricted by his school board, conference or governing body, "he may conduct his classes in any means he wants," said IHSA Assistant Executive Secretary L. L. Astroth. "A coach can go as far as he wants under the provisions, even to the extent of wearing pads and have contact in football practice for a full six weeks."

Despite this open program for summer athletic classes, many of the area high schools may not engage in the all-out practice program.

At Maine Township High School District 207, a decision has not yet been made on the extent of the practice classes.

"Dr. Short (Maine Township's superintendent) has not yet made a decision on the extent of our summer classes," said Eldon Burk, Maine West's director of summer school programs. "Based on the meetings we have had with our athletic directors, I feel that some restrictions on the summer athletic program may be made by our school board. But this will not be official until Dr. Short makes his decision."

"Currently at Maine Township," Burk went on, "we have a physical education program in the summer. But each boy in the program must compete in three different sports and it must be open to all students who wish to participate."

"As far as pads are concerned," Burk added, "no decision has been made for the football sessions."

At Palatine High School Township District 211 it appears that the four schools under its jurisdiction will continue what has been done in the past.

"We have an eight-week summer school program in physical education in our district," said Palatine High athletic director Chic Anderson. "The restriction we have is that a boy can only devote one-fourth of those eight weeks on one sport."

"Therefore, if he spends two weeks in a football course, his other six weeks must be devoted to three other sports other than football."

"Our district does not intend to go into pads for football," Anderson said, "and it does appear that we will continue our summer program the same way we have done in the past."

High School District 214 will go along the same lines as District 211.

"Our plans for this summer in our district have already been made," said Hersey High athletic director Dick Kinneman. "We already have a summer school program for boys to participate in three or four activities. We have a well-rounded overall athletic program for the summer."

Speaking for Notre Dame High School, athletic director and head football coach Fran Willett said, "We will not have a football program at our school for the high school boys. Since our tuition is so high, many of our boys have to work during the summer to help their parents pay for the tuition so they could not spend all of their time for football."

"We do have a sixth and seventh grade program for boys in football, tennis and swimming and this will be continued. It is open to all the boys who wish to attend, even though they may not attend Notre Dame when they reach the high school level."

Ralph Hinger, Notre Dame's head basketball coach, said, "We are working on plans to have a basketball program at Niles Park District but we will not have a program at the Notre Dame campus. The park district program is open to anybody who wishes to attend. I will encourage my players to make it to the park district if they can, but it certainly will not be mandatory."

It has been learned by the Herald that the Central Suburban League has discussed restrictions for all of the schools in the conference but no official actions have been taken.

Mid-Suburban League coaches and athletic directors have also expressed an interest in restrictions for their conference but no official actions have been taken.

The Inter-Suburban Association, which governs the Central Suburban League, the Mid-Suburban League, the West Suburban League, the Suburban League and the Des Plaines Valley Conference, has not made any official restrictions.

Managers Clinic

Elk Grove Village Boys Baseball will conduct a Baseball Manager's Clinic on Friday at 8 p.m. at the library. All managers and coaches participating in this year's baseball program are invited to attend.

Topics to be presented at the clinic are: Responsibilities of Being a Manager and Coach, by Comr. Frank Van Dyke; Care and Handling of Baseball Equipment, by Equipment Manager Darol Topp; and Basic Rules of Baseball and Scorekeeping, by Chief Umpire Alan Granskog.

A review of the By-Laws and policies of Boys Baseball will be presented by Asst. Comr. Marc Vormittag. A question and answer session will follow the conclusion of the discussion.

The May Board of Directors meeting will begin at 7 p.m. the same evening and interested managers may also attend this meeting.

Win For Splitterff

Arlington High School product Paul Splitterff teamed with Fred Gladden to pitch a six-hitter as Omaha rebounded from three straight losses with a 3-1 win over Evansville in the Class AAA American Association.

It's Still The Palmer Era

Young People: Challenge To Golf

by IRA BERKOW

(Second of Three Parts.)

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Arnold Palmer embodies an American Dream that seems on shaky ground nowadays. He appears the epitome of the upward-climbing, success-money, All-American conformist syndrome which is criticized as a part of "the generation of yesterday."

The race issue, Vietnam, the war on hypocrisy and false values, environmental troubles are of concern to a goodly portion of the nation's youth. And if Charles Reich is right, there is afoot, as he says in his best-seller, "The Greening of America," "a non-violent revolution of the new generation."

So where does golf and Arnold Palmer, the game's most transcendent personality, figure in this?

"Palmer is a symbol of the Establishment," said one sportswriter. "He is sitting on a keg of millions of dollars. So, of course, he wants to keep the status quo."

Sitting in a locker room recently, Palmer said, "Young people are the most serious problem in the country. And I think they need to be convinced that golf is a great game." He acknowledged that in studies of Nielsen ratings, few young people are among those watching televised golf matches.

"One thing is that many young people have so many things to do nowadays, that they don't have the interest or patience to be interested in golf," he said. "On the other hand, I see a lot of young people in the galleries of golf tournaments. You see many, many of them in Augusta, in Los Angeles, in Tucson, in Phoenix, in Orlando. Are they separatists from the rest of their group?"

Perhaps. At Augusta a teen-aged girl was asked, "Would you rather be at the Masters or Woodstock?" She replied, "What's Woodstock?"

Palmer sadly agrees that only a limited segment of society can participate in golf regularly. "If golf can ever become economically feasible in America, then it will pass every other sport," he said.

Paradoxically, golf and football increased in interest to a greater degree than all other sports in the 1960s. The reason often given for football's rise is that it mirrors our present society. Football has been called "a metaphor for war." Yet golf appears at the other end of the violence spectrum.

"I think golf does relate to society," said Palmer. "First of all, golf is a totally individual sport. American people like to think of themselves as individuals."

"Secondly, golf is played in beautiful, natural surroundings. Golf courses are very well taken care of. In a way it reflects today's fight for ecology, of preserving the country. People just want to get outdoors."

Palmer believes that golf's future is in the hands of young players like 24-year-old John Miller. "When young people see that someone like John can make $100,000 a year, they'll become more interested in trying it themselves," he said.

Money, to some young people, is the hang-up they ascribe to "the generation of yesterday." "That's just a fad," said Palmer. "When they have to start supporting a family, they'll find how important money becomes."

"I always worked for what I had. I was the son of a golf course groundskeeper, and I began mowing the golf course when I was a little kid." When he started the tour he had to win money to eat. He did not have much of a financial backing. His wife, Winnie, and he lived in a trailer. "For those of us who were not supported, money was important from the outset. It'll be that way for those kids (when they have to start supporting themselves) You can quote me on that," said Palmer.

At the All-American golf awards banquet in New York last summer, Palmer presented the eight outstanding college golfers with awards, and said, "These boys have haircuts, they are clean-cut looking . . . and I'm sure they will continue to do well in college courses and in the business world."

"We all take this country too much for granted," said Palmer. "America is one of the few places in the world where someone could do what I've done. You could be just as great in another country but no one would give a hoot."

Perhaps most essential about Palmer is his enduring youthful zest for golf. "Palmer loves golf more than any man I know," said Joe Dey, commissioner of golf. And Palmer says, "I still enjoy it. I still get butterflies when I step to the tee for the first time in a tournament. And I'm constantly fiddling with golf clubs — whipping them in the pro shop, practicing my stroke in my living room. I don't know, maybe it's a kind of desperate thing."

Elk Grove Upsets Hersey; Lesniak Wins By 6-3, 6-3

Despite a marathon win by Jeff Seeger at second singles, Hersey was upset by Elk Grove in conference tennis action, 3-2.

Seeger turned back Grenadier Ken Siebold in a 39-game struggle to avenge a setback absorbed last spring in dual action but by then the visitors had already been assured the victory. Paving the way was a surprise winning verdict posted by Chris Lesniak in the first singles arena.

Lesniak, one of the top second singles entries in the Mid-Suburban league last year, squared off against Rick Leadley, a standout second year veteran at the first singles post. Leadley was rather quickly disposed of by the Gremmie netman, 6-3, 6-3.

Elk Grove also won at third singles, returnee Mark Greenberg, felling Guy Spinks 6-4, 6-4. And at first doubles Grenadiers Pat Massey and Al Lewandowski stopped Al Pirtz and Rick Liston 6-3, 6-1.

Meanwhile the hosts were winning at second doubles Chuck Oldenburg, in only his second varsity start, teamed with Carl Bierdeman to dump Mark Hopkins and Chuck Carroll 6-4, 6-4.

That had the team score reading 3-1 in favor of the guests with only the second singles score out. There Siebold and Seeger, who had clashed at third singles a year ago with Siebold collecting a 7-5, 4-6, 6-1 nod, went three sets again before Seeger was able to wrest away a 12-10, 2-6, 6-3 triumph.

Hersey captured the frosh-soph outing by a like 3-2 score.

Grove Drops Diamond Pair

Wheeling belted out 12 hits to stun a rallying Elk Grove contingent, 11-7, Saturday on the Wildcats' home diamond. The winners erupted for five unearned runs off Grenadier starter Jeff Stewart in the first inning to lay the groundwork for the onslaught.

Wheeling hurler Mark Griffith couldn't hold the bulge, however, as Elk Grove fought back for a 6-6 deadlock after a four-run fourth inning.

Wildcat Jim Kass finally settled the slugfest issue with a booming home run over the left field fence to provide the hosts with a lead they never relinquished.

The big first inning barrage by Wheeling was keyed by two Grenadier errors and hits by Mike Groot, Bert Newman, Tony Fricano and Dave Giles.

Elk Grove fought back for two of those runs in the second when Griffith walked the bases full and watched as one run tallied on an error and the other on Tony Tringali's infield single.

The 'Cats added their sixth run in the third on Keith McGowan's pop fly single, a passed ball, fielder's choice and wild pitch.

The Grenadiers knotted the count by batting around in the fourth as a walk, Tringali's triple and Nick Adams' single opened the gates.

Wheeling regained the lead in the fifth on a walk and back-to-back singles by Fricano and Giles, 8-6, but the Grenadiers made it a one-run game when Adams singled, advanced to second on an error and tallied on Scott Clintan's base hit.

Kass finally added the clincher in the bottom of the sixth when he teed off on a Stewart fast ball with Bob Richter on base. Groot capped the scoring when he singled, stole second, took third on an infield out and scampered home on Fricano's pop-fly double in front of the plate.

Griffith went all the way for the victory while Stewart was saddled with a distance loss.

Revenge is always sweet, and it was especially so for the Conant baseball team Friday.

The Cougars, who had lost at Elk Grove just a week earlier, returned to home base to hand the Grenadiers a 5-1 setback.

A solid nine-hit attack — featuring Rich Gallas' three for three and Bill Arkus' three for four — plus a fine three-hit pitching performance by Arkus turned the trick.

Arkus didn't allow an earned run, walked three and struck out eight in winning his third game in four league decisions. His opponent, Luke Wolan skt, was hit for nine runs in six innings, walking three and fanning five.

Conant broke on top with three runs and four hits in the second inning. With one out, Daryl Drew belted a triple and scored on Mike Cody's single. After the second out, Gallas' double and Arkus' single drove in the other runs.

Elk Grove got one run back in the sixth when Wolanski reached base on a two-base error and Tony Tringali singled him home.

But the Cougars came right back with a pair of insurance tallies after two were out and nobody on. George Pattee walked, Gallas singled with Pattee scoring on a throwing error, and Arkus singled for the final run.
